PREFACE.

THE STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
INDIANAPOLIS, April 1, 1874.

In accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An Act to provide for annual reports of State officers, branches of the State bank and benevolent institutions to be made to the Governor," approved February 3, 1853, and sundry provisions of statutes then in force and enacted subsequently thereto upon the same subject, the several administrative officers of State, and the Trustees and Superintendents of the Benevolent, Reformatory and Educational Institutions thereof have submitted to the Governor and filed in this Department the reports required of them for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873, and the calendar year ending December 31, 1873, respectively, and they have been entered of record, at length, in the order of their reception.

By virtue of the further provisions of the act above cited, and of the act entitled "An Act to prevent unauthorized printing at the expense of the State," approved December 20, 1865, the Governor, with the approval of the Secretary of State, has caused the several reports to be printed in a style corresponding with the established precedents. A sufficient number of each report have been bound separately and delivered to the responsible officer, or superintendent of the institution, making the same, for distribution by him in the manner best calculated to convey the information to the people of the State. The remaining twelve hundred copies are now bound in the form of this volume and issued to the officers and persons designated by law to receive them.

The reports appear in the following order :

1. Annual Report of Hon. W. W. Curry, Secretary of State, for the year ending October 31, 1873, containing a statement of the public acts of this department; a report of public printing executed under his authority; a review of the work of official boards for which he acted as Secretary; and suggestions as to a reorganization of his office. Appended thereto are: The constitution of the State as amended; Indiana Official Register; Justices of the Peace, Notaries Public, Commissioners to the Vienna Exposition, and Commissioners of Deeds to whom commissions have issued during the year; Congressional Districts; Senatorial and Representative apportionments; Governor's Proclamations issued; List of Fines and Forfeitures; Schedule of Railroad Corporations; and Articles of Association filed. Received November 13, 1873. 132 pages.

2. Annual Report of Hon. James A. Wildman, Auditor of State, showing the receipts and disbursements of the Treasury Department during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873. Received November 19, 1873. 202 pages.

3. Annual Report of Hon. John B. Glover, Treasurer of State, showing the receipts and disbursements of the Treasury Department for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873. Received November 8, 1873. 16 pages.

4. Annual Report of Hon. James C. Denny, Attorney General, for the period beginning November 6, 1872, and ending December 31, 1873, showing the transactions of his office and containing the most important of the opinions given during that time. Received January 29, 1874. 50 pages.

5. Annual Report of Hon. Milton B. Hopkins, Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the year ending December 31, 1873. Received January 23, 1874. 10 pages.

6. Annual Report of Hon. W. W. Conner, Adjutant General, for the year ending December 31, 1873. Received February 23, 1874. 4 pages.

7. Annual Report of the Board of Trustees of the Vincennes University, for the year ending December 31, 1873. Received February 2, 1874. 8 pages.

8. Annual Report of the Directors and Officers of the Indiana State Prison South, for the year ending December 15, 1873. Received January 2, 1874. 48 pages.

9. Annual Report of the Directors and Officers of the Indiana State Prison North, for the year ending December 15, 1873. Received January 9, 1874. 62 pages.

10. Second Report of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, being for the period beginning January 18, 1871, and ending December 31, 1873, including the first report of the Board of Visitors. Received January 1, 1874. 28 pages.

11. Annual Report of the Commissioners and Officers of the Indiana House of Refuge for the year ending December 31, 1873. Received January 8, 1874. 64 pages.

12. Twenty-Fifth Annual Report of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane for the year ending October 31, 1873. Received November 26, 1873. 40 pages.

13. Thirtieth Annual Report of the Trustees and Superintendent of the Indiana Institution for Educating the Deaf and Dumb. Received November 20, 1873. 38 pages.

14. Twenty-seventh Annual Report of the Trustees and Superintendent of the Indiana Institute for Educating the Blind. Received December 10, 1873. 26 pages.

15. Annual Report of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Soldiers' Orphans' Home for the year ending October 31, 1873. Received March 13, 1874. 18 pages.

16. Annual Report of the Trustees and Officers of the Wabash and Erie Canal for the year ending December 31, 1873. Received March 27, 1874. 12 pages.

The original manuscripts of the reports have been deposited in the office of the Secretary of State.

ANNUAL REPORT

SECRETARY OF STATE.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 1, 1873.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Governor of Indiana :

SIR—In accordance with the provisions of law, I have the honor to submit the following report of the business of this office.

GENERAL WORK.

The appended tables will give a view of the routine work, and furnish information concerning the official force in the discharge of public duties. There have been issued from the Executive Department, during the year, and attested and registered in this office, eight proclamations, one hundred and seventy commissions to State, county and district officers, eight hundred and eleven commissions to justices of the peace, fifty-seven to commissioners of deeds, eight hundred and sixty-seven to notaries public. There have also been issued thirty-five warrants and fifty-eight requisitions for fugitives from justice, sixty-three pardons, twenty-one remissions, and seventy-seven patents for land. There have been filed in this office one hundred and fifty articles of incorporation and amendments and consolidations, and also a great variety of miscellaneous papers.

The Attorney General has filed in this office a report showing eighty-two counties have reported to him an entry of fines to the amount of $18,812.59, and of forfeitures of $25,345.

LAWS AND JOURNALS.

The acts of the special session of 1872 were printed by the State Printer on paper furnished by this office on his requisition, and delivered in sheets. Those of the regular session of this year were printed by the Indianapolis Journal Company, and the two sessions were bound in one volume. The Journals of the special session were printed and bound in the same way. Those of the regular session are not yet printed, notwithstanding I have urged all possible haste. The Acts, completed Journals, and a large amount of other documents, including four volumes of Supreme Court Reports, have been distributed according to law; the remaining Journals, Brevier Reports and other documents will be sent out as soon as practicable.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

The larger part of the State Printing for the fiscal year was done by the State Printer, as will be seen from the Auditor's report. When that office was abolished by the General Assembly and all the proposed bills for the regulation of that important branch of the public service failed to become law, it was left to the chance of sundry statutes, each of which had but a special purpose. But, as most of them devolved the control of the printing on the Governor, or the Secretary, or the two combined, sufficient authority was found; and under the joint action of the two officers all needed printing has been done, and in all important cases by competitive bids. The result has been, favorable contracts with different parties, and good and prompt work, in most cases. But while due care has been used, to avoid unnecessary expense, the cost of printing has been large. The truth is, that Indiana is a great and growing State, and her public service demands a large and increasing line of expenditure in this direction. While all waste is to be avoided, the State can not afford to be parsimonious in furnishing the people with information of the doings of their public servants, as shown in published acts, reports and documents.

OFFICIAL BOARDS.

The General Assembly has from time to time devolved on certain of the State Officers special duties for their joint action; but the last General Assembly was especially liberal in this regard. So numerous are the official boards thus created, that the present officers have felt it to be desirable to make regular and permanent records of their meetings, which has been done by the Secretary of State, except where otherwise provided by laws. The most important of these Boards have been :

1. That for the redemption of the old Internal Improvement Bonds. This Board has met frequently, examined, allowed and paid bonds and coupons, amounting in the aggregate, with interest and all other expenses, to $439,263.07. The duties devolved on this Board were found to be very grave, and to involve the determination of many important legal questions, as well as questions of fact, and important calculations.

2. That for Equalization of County Assessments for Taxation, and the Assessments of Railroads and other corporations. The minutes of this Board are, by law, kept in the office of the Auditor of State ; and from the report of that officer will be seen the extent and gravity of its labors.

3. That for the erection of a permanent fence around the Tippecanoe Battle Ground. After inspecting the grounds in person, advertisements for proposals for an iron fence were published. From a large number of plans and bids, those of Mr. Thomas Harding, of Lafayette, were chosen, and a contract entered into. The work on this fence is well advanced, and when completed will cost, with grading, changing the creek bed, and all other expenses, some $6,000 less than the sum appropriated for the purpose ; and it is believed will give complete satisfaction.

4. That for the purchase of Lot 61, for the extension of the State House Grounds. The contract for the purchase of this lot from W. P. & E. P. Gallup, having been approved by the General Assembly before its adjournment, was consummated by the receipt of a deed to the State, and the payment of the purchase money, amounting to $19,500. This gives the State the ownership of the entire block, and the city having vacated Market street, a magnificent site of two blocks awaits the new State House so much needed.

5. That for the appointment of a Resident Agent of State at New York City, tendered the position to Mr. J. D. F. Lanier, whose name is so well and favorably known in connexion with the financial affairs of the State. But that gentleman feeling compelled to decline the position on account of failing health, his son, Mr. Charles Lanier, was appointed, with his father as bondsman.

6. That to determine the furnishing of the new Female Prison and Reformatory, and the employment of help therein, after careful scrutiny, made allowances on the requisitions of the Superintendent endorsed by the Trustees; and as the building is now occupied, opportunity will soon be afforded to learn the results of its workings.

Besides these formal boards, there have been numerous consultations concerning the affairs of the State, general and special, to the intent that each officer might have the benefit of the advice of his colleagues, and that no private or sinister ends might govern in the discharge of official duties.

There have also been official visits by the officers to several of the public institutions—Northern Prison, Soldiers' Home, and House of Refuge; and it is the intention to include them all during the official term.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF OFFICE.

At the last session of the General Assembly an act was passed authorizing the re-organization of this office, and the division of its duties and records into proper bureaus. Progress has been made in this direction, and the overhauling and indexing of records and papers will go on until completion. My predecessor collected a considerable amount of old papers from the cellars and elsewhere, and in assorting these, enrolled bills and other important documents have been discovered. By the end of another year, it is hoped that the entire files will be overhauled, arranged and indexed, so that every important paper will be immediately accessible to whoever may have need of consulting it.

By your appointment, Mr. Owen M. Eddy is continuing the work of indexing the Swamp Land Patents, the vast importance of which is continually pressed on the attention of this office. By this means we shall not only make the patents accessible, as they are not now, but will be able to point out the numerous errors which undoubtedly exist, and possibly suggest remedies for many of them. The canal and all other land patents are being indexed on the same plan; and the progress so far made suggests two important provisions which ought to be made by legislative action. One is, that there ought to be in this office a Bureau of Public Lands, and all the maps, deeds, records and papers relating thereto collected therein. They are now scattered in different offices, and much labor and annoyance is often found in searching for required information. The titles to millions of acres of lands held by the people are derived from the State, and her records should be in such condition that all questions of entry, sale and conveyance could be immediately settled. And as the years pass, the lands become more valuable, and first holders pass away, much litigation and wrong will ensue, if steps are not taken to prevent. The second provision, growing out of this, is that the original records, or duplicate copies, should be filed in this office of the disposition made by the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal of the 800,000 acres of lands conveyed to them by the State. They are Trustees for the State as well as of the stockholders of the canal, and the rights of thousands of people are involved in the integrity and safe-keeping of these records.

The Act before referred to required the establishment in this office of bureaus of Printing and Statistics. But unfortunately this provision is simply mandatory. The bills for the regulation of these two important interests, pending at the time of its passage, and which would have provided the working machinery for such bureaus, failed to pass; so that, for the present these departments must be nominal. What statistics the State has provided for are special, and will be found in the reports of the several officers who collect them. The Auditor's tables, though extremely imperfect, will give some important facts concerning our Agricultural interests. But for vital, criminal, mining and manufacturing interests, we have absolutely no figures. The annual reports required to be made by railroads, of their property and business, and from which valuable information might be derived, are entirely neglected by them. But two roads have reported during the year, both of which were unfinished, and neither running trains. I suggest that if you will direct me to give official notice to each road, that unless they shall promptly make the reports to this office required by law, the Attorney General will be instructed to proceed by quo warranto to forfeit their charters, it will induce them to give heed to their duty. I need hardly suggest how much aid the State Board of Equalization would derive from such reports, and how important they would be as a guide to legislation.

DUTIES TOWARDS GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

There are several special topics of duty pertaining to this office, having reference to the General Assembly, of which proper reports will be made next year, in time for its consideration. At present I will only say, that in addition to a considerable amount of stationery remaining over at the close of the last session, a large quantity of letter heads, enrolling paper, envelopes, etc., have been transferred to my custody by the State Librarian; and that but little will have to be purchased for the official use of the next session.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. W. CURRY,

Secretary of State.

PREAMBLE.

TO THE END that justice be established, public order maintained, and liberty perpetuated, we, the People of the State of Indiana, grateful to ALMIGHTY GOD for the free exercise of the right to choose our own form of government, do ordain this Constitution.

ARTICLE 1.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. We declare, That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that all power is inherent in the People; and that all free governments are, and of right ought to be, founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, and well being. For the advancement of these ends, the People have, at all times, an indefeasible right to alter and reform their government.

SEC. 2. All men shall be secured in the natural right to worship Almighty God, according to the dictates of their own consciences.

SEC. 3 No law shall, in any case whatever, control the free exercise and enjoyment of religious opinions, or interfere with the rights of conscience.

SEC. 4. No preference shall be given, by law, to any creed, religious society, or mode of worship; and no man shall be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry, against his consent.

SEC. 5. No religious test shall be required, as a qualification for any office of trust or profit.

SEC. 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, for the benefit of any religious or theological institution.

SEC. 7. No person shall be rendered incompetent as a witness in consequence of his opinions on matters of religion.

SEC. 8. The mode of administering an oath or affirmation, shall be such as may be most consistent with, and binding upon, the conscience of the person, to whom such oath or affirmation may be administered.

SEC. 9. No law shall be passed, restraining the free interchange of thought and opinion, or restricting the right to speak, write, or print, freely, on any subject whatever; but for the abuse of that right, every person shall be responsible.

SEC. 10. In all prosecutions for libel, the truth of the matters alleged to be libellous may be given in justification.

SEC. 11. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable search or seizure, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the person or thing to be seized.

SEC. 12. All courts shall be open; and every man, for injury done to him in his person, property, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law. Justice shall be administered freely, and without purchase; completely, and without denial; speedily and without delay.

SEC. 13. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall have the right to a public trial, by an impartial jury, in the county in which the offense shall have been committed; to be heard by himself and counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses face to face, and to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

SEC. 14. No person shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. No person in any criminal prosecution shall be compelled to testify against himself.

SEC. 15. No person arrested, or confined in jail, shall be treated with unnecessary rigor.

SEC. 16. Excessive bail shall not be required. Excessive fines shall not be imposed. Cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted. All penalties shall be proportioned to the nature of the offense.

SEC. 17. Offenses, other than murder or treason, shall be bailable by sufficient sureties. Murder or treason shall not be bailable, when the proof is evident, or the presumption strong.

SEC. 18. The penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation, and not of vindictive justice.

SEC. 19. In all criminal cases whatever, the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts.

SEC. 20. In all civil cases, the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate.

SEC. 21. No man's particular services shall be demanded without just compensation; no man's property shall be taken by law without just compensation; nor, except in case of the State, without such compensation first assessed and tendered.

SEC. 22. The privilege of the debtor to enjoy the necessary comforts of life, shall be recognized by wholesome laws, exempting a reasonable amount of property from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability hereafter contracted; and there shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud.

SEC. 23. The General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen, or class of citizens, privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens.

SEC. 24. No ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall ever be passed.

SEC. 25. No law shall be passed, the taking effect of which shall be made to depend upon any authority, except as provided in this Constitution.

SEC. 26. The operation of the laws shall never be suspended, except by the authority of the General Assembly.

SEC. 27. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, except in case of rebellion or invasion; and then, only if the public safety demand it.

SEC. 28. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, and giving aid and comfort to its enemies.

SEC. 29. No person shall be convicted of treason, except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or upon his confession in open court.

SEC. 30. No conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate.

SEC. 31. No law shall restrain any of the inhabitants of the State from assembling together in a peaceable manner, to consult for their common good; nor from instructing their representatives; nor from applying to the General Assembly for redress of grievances.

SEC. 32. The people shall have a right to bear arms, for the defense of themselves and the State.

SEC. 33. The military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil power.

SEC. 34. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor, in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

SEC. 35. The General Assembly shall not grant any title of nobility, nor confer hereditary distinctions.

SEC. 36. Emigration from the State shall not be prohibited.

SEC. 37. There shall be neither slavery, nor involuntary servitude, within the State, otherwise than for the punishment of crimes whereof the party shall have been duly convicted. No indenture of any Negro or Mulatto, made and executed out of the bonds of the State, shall be valid within the State.

ARTICLE II.

SUFFRAGE AND ELECTION.

SECTION 1. All elections shall be free and equal.

SEC. 2. In all elections, not otherwise provided for by this Constitution, every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the State during the six months immediately preceding such election; and every white male, of foreign birth, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the United States one year, and shall have resided in this State during the six months immediately preceding such election, and shall have declared his intention to become a citizens of the United States, conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, shall be entitled to vote in the township or precinct where he may reside.

SEC. 3. No soldier, seaman, or marine, in the army or navy of the United States, or of their allies, shall be deemed to have acquired a residence in this State, in consequence of having been stationed within the same; nor shall any such soldier, seaman, or marine have the right to vote.

SEC. 4. No person shall be deemed to have lost his residence in the State by reason of his absence, either on business of this State or of the United States.

SEC. 5. No Negro or Mulatto shall have the right of suffrage.

SEC. 6. Every person shall be disqualified from holding office during the term for which he may have been elected, who shall have given or offered a bribe, threat, or reward, to procure his election.

SEC. 7. Every person who shall give or accept a challenge to fight a duel, or who shall knowingly carry to another person such challenge, or who shall agree to go out of the State to fight a duel, shall be ineligible to any office of trust or profit.

SEC. 8. The General Assembly shall have power to deprive of the right of suffrage, and to render ineligible, any person convicted of an infamous crime.

SEC. 9. No person holding a lucrative office or appointment, under the United States, or under this State, shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly; nor shall any person hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except as in this Constitution expressly permitted: Provided, that offices in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, and the office of deputy Postmaster, where the compensation does not exceed ninety dollars per annum, shall not be deemed lucrative: And provided, also, that counties containing less than one thousand polls, may confer the office of Clerk, Recorder, and Auditor, or any two of said offices, upon the same person.

SEC. 10. No person who may hereafter be a collector or holder of public moneys, shall be eligible to any office of trust or profit, until he shall have accounted for, and paid over, according to law, all sums for which he may be liable.

SEC. 11. In all cases in which it is provided, that an office shall not be filled by the same person more than a certain number of years continuously, an appointment pro tempore shall not be reckoned a part of that term.

SEC. 12. In all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, electors shall be free from arrest, in going to elections, during their attendance there, and in returning from the same.

SEC. 13. All elections by the people shall be by ballot; and all elections by the General Assembly, or by either branch thereof, shall be viva voce.

SEC. 14. All general elections shall be held on the second Tuesday in October.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

SECTION 1. The powers of the Government are divided into three separate departments: the Legislative, the Executive, including the Administrative, and the Judicial; and no person charged with official duties under one of these departments, shall exercise any of the functions of another, except as in this Constitution expressly provided.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE.

SECTION 1. The Legislative authority of the State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives. The style of every law shall be: "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana;" and no law shall be enacted, except by bill.

SEC. 2. The Senate shall not exceed fifty, nor the House of Representatives one hundred members, and they shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties or districts, into which the State may, from time to time, be divided.

SEC. 3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years, and Representatives for the term of two years, from the day next after their general election: Provided, however, that the Senators elect, at the second meeting of the General Assembly under this Constitution, shall be divided by lot, into two equal classes, as nearly as may be; and the seats of Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of two years, and those of the second class, at the expiration of four years, so that one-half, as nearly as possible, shall be chosen biennially forever thereafter. And in case of increase in the number of Senators, they shall be so annexed, by lot, to one or the other of the two classes, as to keep them as nearly equal as practicable.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall, at its second session after the adoption of this Constitution, and every sixth year thereafter, cause an enumeration to be made of all the white male inhabitants over the age of twenty-one years.

SEC. 5. The number of Senators and Representatives shall, at the session next following each period of making such enumeration, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of white male inhabitants, above twenty-one years of age in each: Provided, that the first and second elections of members of the General Assembly, under this Constitution, shall be according to the apportionment last made by the General Assembly, before the adoption of this Constitution.

SEC. 6. A Senatorial or Representative district, where more than one county shall constitute a district, shall be composed of contiguous counties, and no county for Senatorial apportionment, shall ever be divided.

SEC. 7. No person shall be a Senator or Representative, who, at the time of his election, is not a citizen of the United States; nor any one who has not been, for two years next preceding his election, an inhabitant of this State, and for one year next preceding his election an inhabitant of the county or district whence he may be chosen. Senators shall be at least twenty-five, and Representatives at least twenty-one years of age.

SEC. 8. Senators and Representatives, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest, during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same, and shall not be subject to any civil process, during the session of the General Assembly, nor during the fifteen days next before the commencement thereof. For any speech or debate in either House, a member shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 9. The sessions of the General Assembly shall be held biennially at the capital of the State, commencing on the Thursday next after the first Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and on the same day of every second year thereafter, unless a different day or place shall have been appointed by law. But if, in the opinion of the Governor, the public welfare shall require it, he may at any time by proclamation, call a special session.

SEC. 10. Each House, when assembled, shall choose its own officers, (the President of the Senate excepted,) judge the elections, qualifications and returns of its own members, determine its rules of proceeding, and sit upon its own adjournment. But neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days nor to any place other than that in which it may be sitting.

SEC. 11. Two-thirds of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may meet, adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members. A quorum being in attendance, if either House fail to effect an organization within the first five days thereafter, the members of the House so failing, shall be entitled to no compensation, from the end of the said five days, until an organization shall have been effected.

SEC. 12. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same. The yeas and nays on any question, shall, at the request of any two members, be entered together with the names of the members demanding the same on the journal: Provided that on a motion to adjourn, it shall require one-tenth of the members present to order the yeas and nays.

SEC. 13. The doors of each House, and of committees of the whole, shall be kept open, except in such cases, as in the opinion of either House may require secrecy.

SEC. 14. Either House may punish its members for disorderly behavior, and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member; but not a second time for the same cause.

SEC. 15. Either House during its session, may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member who shall have been guilty of disrespect to the House, by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not at any time exceed twenty-four hours.

SEC. 16. Each House shall have all powers necessary for a branch of the Legislative department of a free and independent State.

SEC. 17. Bills may originate in either House, but may be amended or rejected in the other, except that bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives.

SEC. 18. Every bill shall be read by sections, on three several days in each House; unless in case of emergency, two-thirds of the House where such bill may be depending, shall, by a vote of yeas and nays deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; but the reading of a bill by sections on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with, and the vote on the passage of every bill or joint resolution shall be taken by yeas and nays.

SEC. 19. Every act shall embrace but one subject and matters properly connected therewith, which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title.

SEC. 20. Every act and joint resolution shall be plainly worded, avoiding, as far as practicable, the use of technical terms.

SEC. 21. No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title; but the act revised or section amended, shall be set forth and published at full length.

SEC. 22. The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws, in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

Regulating the jurisdiction and duties of justices of the peace and of constables;

For the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors;

Regulating the practice in courts of justice;

Providing for changing the venue in civil and criminal cases;

Granting divorces;

Changing the names of persons;

For laying out, opening and working on highways, and for the election or appointment of supervisors;

Vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys and public squares;

Summoning and empanneling grand and petit jurors, and providing for their compensation;

Regulating county and township business;

Regulating the election of county and township officers, and their compensation;

For the assessment and collection of taxes for State, county, township or road purposes;

Providing for supporting common schools, and for the preservation of school funds;

In relation to fees or salaries;

In relation to interest on money;

Providing for opening and conducting elections of State, county, or township officers, and designating the places of voting;

Providing for the sale of real estate belonging to minors or other persons laboring under legal disabilities, by executors, administrators, guardians or trustees.

SEC. 23. In all the cases enumerated in the preceding section, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general, and of uniform operation throughout the State.

SEC. 24. Provision may be made by general law, for bringing suit against the State, as to all liabilities originating after the adoption of this Constitution; but no special act authorizing such suit to be brought, or making compensation to any person claiming damages against the State shall ever be passed.

SEC. 25. A majority of all the members elected to each House, shall be necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills and joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses.

SEC. 26. Any member of either House shall have the right to protest, and to have his protest with his reasons for dissent, entered on the journal.

SEC. 27. Every statute shall be a public law, unless otherwise declared in the statute itself.

SEC. 28. No act shall take effect, until the same shall have been published and circulated in the several counties of the State by authority, except in case of emergency, which emergency shall be declared in the preamble or in the body of the law.

SEC. 29. The members of the General Assembly shall receive for their services, a compensation to be fixed by law; but no increase of compensation shall take effect during the session at which such increase may be made. No session of the General Assembly, except the first under this Constitution, shall extend beyond the term of sixty-one days, nor any special session beyond the term of forty days.

SEC. 30. No Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he may have been elected, be eligible to any office, the election to which is vested in the General Assembly; nor shall he be appointed to any civil office of profit, which shall have been created or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term; but this latter provision shall not be construed to apply to any office elective by the people.

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE.

SECTION 1. The executive power of the State shall be vested in a Governor. He shall hold his office during four years, and shall not be eligible more than four years in any period of eight years.

SEC. 2. There shall be a Lieutenant Governor, who shall hold his office during four years.

SEC. 3. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the times and places of choosing members of the General Assembly.

SEC. 4. In voting for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the electors shall designate for whom they vote as Governor, and for whom as Lieutenant Governor. The returns of every election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government, directed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall open and publish them in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. The persons respectively having the highest number of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be elected; but in case two or more persons shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for either office, the General Assembly shall by joint vote, forthwith proceed to elect one of the said persons Governor or Lieutenant Governor as the case may be.

SEC. 6. Contested elections for Governor or Lieutenant Governor, shall be determined by the General Assembly, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 7. No person shall be eligible to the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, who shall not have been five years a citizen of the United States, and also a resident of the State of Indiana during the five years next preceding his election; nor shall any person be eligible to either of the said offices, who shall not have attained the age of thirty years.

SEC. 8. No member of Congress, or person holding any office under the United States, or under this State, shall fill the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor.

SEC. 9. The official term of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall commence on the second Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and on the same day every fourth year thereafter.

SEC. 10. In case of the removal of the Governor from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the duties of the office, the same shall devolve on the Lieutenant Governor, and the General Assembly shall, by law, provide for the case of removal from office, death, resignation, or inability, both of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, declaring what officer then shall act as Governor; and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed or a Governor be elected.

SEC. 11. Whenever the Lieutenant Governor shall act as Governor, or shall be unable to attend as President of the Senate, the Senate shall elect one of its own member as President for the occasion.

SEC. 12. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces, and may call out such forces, to execute the laws, or to suppress insurrection or to repel invasion.

SEC. 13. He shall from time to time, give to the General Assembly information touching the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he shall judge to be expedient.

SEC. 14. Every bill which shall have passed the General Assembly, shall be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the House in which it shall have originated; which house shall enter the objections at large upon its journals, and proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent with the Governor's objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of all the members elected to that House, it shall be a law. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within three days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, it shall be a law without his signature, unless the general adjournment shall prevent its return, in which case it shall be a law, unless the Governor within five days next after such adjournment, shall file such bill with his objections thereto in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall lay the same before the General Assembly at its next session, in like manner as if it had been returned by the Governor. But no bill shall be presented to the Governor within two days next previous to the final adjournment of the General Assembly.

SEC. 15. The Governor shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, and may require information in writing, from the officers of the administrative department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 16. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 17. He shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after conviction, for all offences, except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. Upon conviction for treason, he shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence, until the case shall be reported to the General Assembly, at its next meeting; when the General Assembly shall either grant a pardon, commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and shall report to the General Assembly at its next meeting, each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, and also the names of all persons in whose favor remission of fines and forfeitures shall have been made and the several amounts remitted: Provided however, that the General Assembly may, by law, constitute a council, to be composed of officers of State, without whose advice and consent the Governor shall not have power to grant pardons, in any case, except such as may, by law, be left to his sole power.

SEC. 18. When during a recess of the General Assembly, a vacancy shall happen in any office, the appointment to which is vested in the General Assembly; or when at any time, a vacancy shall have occurred in any other State office, or in the office of Judge of any Court; the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, which shall expire when a successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 19. He shall issue writs of election, to fill such vacancies as may have occurred in the General Assembly.

SEC. 20. Should the seat of government become dangerous from disease, or a common enemy, he may convene the General Assembly at any other place.

SEC. 21. The Lieutenant Governor shall, by virtue of his office, be President of the Senate, have a right when in committee of the whole, to join in debate, and to vote on all subjects; and whenever the Senate shall be equally divided he shall give the casting vote.

SEC. 22. The Governor shall at stated times, receive for his services, a compensation, which shall neither be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected.

SEC. 23. The Lieutenant Governor, while he shall act as President of the Senate, shall receive for his services, the same compensation as the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and any person acting as Governor, shall receive the compensation attached to the office of Governor.

SEC. 24. Neither the Governor nor Lieutenant Governor shall be eligible to any other office, during the term for which he shall have been elected.

ARTICLE VI.

ADMINISTRATIVE.

SECTION 1. There shall be elected, by the voters of the State, a Secretary, an Auditor, and a Treasurer of State, who shall, severally, hold their offices for two years. They shall perform such duties as may be enjoined by law; and no person shall be eligible to either of said offices more than four years in any period of six years.

SEC. 2. There shall be elected, in each county, by the voters thereof, at the time of holding the general elections, a Clerk of the Circuit Court, Auditor, Recorder, Treasurer, Sheriff, Coroner, and Surveyor. The Clerk, Auditor, and Recorder, shall continue in office four years; and no person shall be eligible to the office of Clerk, Recorder, or Auditor, more than eight years in any period of twelve years. The Treasurer, Sheriff, Coroner and Surveyor, shall continue in office two years; and no person shall be eligible to the office of Treasurer or Sheriff, more than four years in any period of six years.

SEC. 3. Such other county and township officers as may be necessary, shall be elected, or appointed, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 4. No person shall be elected, or appointed, as a county officer, who shall not be an elector of the county; nor any one who shall not have been an inhabitant thereof during one year next preceding his appointment, if the county shall have been so long organized; but if the county shall not have been so long organized, then within the limits of the county or counties out of which the same shall have been taken.

SEC. 5. The Governor, and the Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State, shall, severally, reside and keep the public records, books, and papers, in any manner relating to their respective offices, at the seat of government.

SEC. 6. All county, township and town officers, shall reside within their respective counties, townships and towns, and shall keep their respective offices at such places therein, and perform such duties, as may be directed by law.

SEC. 7. All State officers shall, for crime, incapacity, or negligence, be liable to be removed from office, either by impeachment by the House of Representatives, to be tried by the Senate, or by a joint resolution of the General Assembly; two-thirds of the members elected to each branch voting, in either case, therefor.

SEC. 8. All State, county, township and town officers, may be impeached, or removed from office, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 9. Vacancies in county, township and town offices, shall be filled in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 10. The General Assembly may confer upon the Boards doing county business in the several counties, powers of a local, administrative character.

ARTICLE VII.

JUDICIAL.

SECTION 1. The Judicial power of the State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, in Circuit Courts, and in such inferior Courts as the General Assembly may establish.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of not less than three nor more than five Judges, a majority of whom shall form a quorum. They shall hold their offices for six years, if they so long behave well.

SEC. 3. The State shall be divided into as many districts as there are Judges of the Supreme Court; and such districts shall be formed of contiguous territory, as nearly equal in population as, without dividing a county, the same can be made. One of said Judges shall be elected from each district, and reside therein; but said Judges shall be elected by the electors of the State at large.

SEC. 4. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State, in appeals and writs of error, under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. It shall also have such original jurisdiction as the General Assembly may confer.

SEC. 5. The Supreme Court shall, upon the decision of every case, give a statement in writing of each question arising in the record of such case, and the decision of the Court thereon.

SEC. 6. The General Assembly shall provide, by law, for the speedy publication of the decisions of the Supreme Court, made under this Constitution; but no Judge shall be allowed to report such decision.

SEC. 7. There shall be elected by the voters of the State, a Clerk of the Supreme Court, who shall hold his office four years, and whose duties shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 8. The Circuit Courts shall each consist of one Judge, and shall have such civil and criminal jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 9. The State shall, from time to time, be divided into judicial circuits, and a Judge for each circuit shall be elected by the voters thereof. He shall reside within the circuit, and shall hold his office for the term of six years, if he so long behave well.

SEC. 10. The General Assembly may provide by law, that the Judge of one circuit may hold the courts of another circuit, in cases of necessity or convenience; and, in case of temporary inability of any Judge, from sickness or other cause, to hold the courts in his circuit, provision may be made, by law, for holding such courts.

SEC. 11. There shall be elected, in each judicial circuit, by the voters thereof, a Prosecuting Attorney, who shall hold his office for two years.

SEC. 12. Any Judge or Prosecuting Attorney, who shall have been convicted of corruption or other high crime, may, on information in the name of the State, be removed from office by the Supreme Court, or in such other manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 13. The Judges of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts shall, at stated times, receive a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 14. A competent number of Justices of the Peace shall be elected, by the voters in each township in the several counties. They shall continue in office four years, and their powers and duties shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 15. All judicial officers shall be conservators of the peace in their respective jurisdictions.

SEC. 16. No person elected to any judicial office, shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office of trust or profit, under the State, other than a judicial office.

SEC. 17. The General Assembly may modify or abolish the Grand Jury system.

SEC. 18. All criminal prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of the State ; and the style of all process shall be "The State of Indiana."

SEC. 19. Tribunals of conciliation may be established, with such powers and duties as shall be prescribed by law ; or the powers and duties of the same may be conferred upon other courts of justice ; but such tribunals or other courts, when sitting as such, shall have no power to render judgment to be obligatory on the parties, unless they voluntarily submit their matters of difference, and agree to abide the judgment of such tribunal or court.

SEC. 20. The General Assembly, at its first session after the adoption of this Constitution, shall provide for the appointment of three Commissioners, whose duty it shall be to revise, simplify and abridge, the rules, practice, pleadings and forms, of the courts of justice. And they shall provide for abolishing the distinct forms of action at law, now in use ; and that justice shall be administered in a uniform mode of pleading, without distinction between law and equity. And the General Assembly may, also, make it the duty of said Commissioners to reduce into a systematic code, the general statute law of the State ; and said Commissioners shall report the result of their labors to the General Assembly, with such recommendations and suggestions, as to abridgement and amendment, as to said Commissioners may seem necessary or proper. Provision shall be made, by law, for filling vacancies, regulating the tenure of office, and the compensation of said Commissioners.

SEC. 21. Every person of good moral character, being a voter, shall be entitled to admission to practice law in all courts of justice.

ARTICLE VIII.

EDUCATION.

SECTION 1. Knowledge and learning, generally diffused throughout a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to encourage, by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement, and to provide, by law, for a general and uniform system of Common Schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all.

SEC. 2. The Common School fund shall consist of the Congressional township fund, and the lands belonging thereto ;

The Surplus Revenue fund ;

The Saline fund and the lands belonging thereto ;

The Bank Tax fund, and the fund arising from the one hundred and fourteenth section of the charter of the State Bank of Indiana ;

The fund to be derived from the sale of county seminaries, and the moneys and property heretofore held for such seminaries ; from the fines assessed for breaches of the penal laws of the State, and from all forfeitures which may accrue ;

All lands and other estate which shall escheat to the State for want of heirs or kindred entitled to the inheritance ;

All lands that have been, or may hereafter be, granted to the State, where no special purpose is expressed in the grant, and the proceeds of the sales thereof, including the proceeds of the sales of the swamp lands granted to the State of Indiana by the act of Congress of the 28th September, 1850, after deducting the expense of selecting and draining the same ;

Taxes on the property of corporations, that may be assessed for Common School purposes

SEC. 3. The principal of the Common School fund shall remain a perpetual fund, which may be increased, but shall never be diminished ; and the income thereof shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of Common Schools, and to no other purpose whatever.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall invest, in some safe and profitable manner, all such portions of the Common School fund as not heretofore been entrusted to the several counties ; and shall make provision, by law, for the distribution, among the several counties, of the interest thereof.

SEC. 5. If any county shall fail to demand its proportion of such interest, for Common School purposes, the same shall be re-invested for the benefit of such county.

SEC. 6. The several counties shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of the said fund as may be entrusted to them, and for the payment of the annual interest thereon.

SEC. 7. All trust funds, held by the State, shall remain inviolate, and be faithfully and exclusively applied to the purposes for which the trust was created.

SEC. 8. The General Assembly shall provide for the election, by the voters of the State, of a State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall hold his office for two years, and whose duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IX.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide, by law, for the support of Institutions for the education of the Deaf and Dumb, and of the Blind; and also for the treatment of the Insane.

SEC. 2. The General Assembly shall provide Houses of Refuge, for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.

SEC. 3. The county boards shall have power to provide farms, as an asylum for those persons who, by reason of age, infirmity, or other misfortune, may have claims upon the sympathies and aid of society.

ARTICLE X.

FINANCE.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall provide, by law, for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, both real and personal, excepting such only for municipal, educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes, as may be specially exempted by law.

SEC. 2. All the revenues derived from the sale of any of the public works belonging to the State, and from the net annual income thereof, and any surplus that may, at any time, remain in the treasury, derived from taxation for general State purposes, after the payment of the ordinary expenses of the government, and of the interest on bonds of the State, other than Bank bonds, shall be annually applied, under the direction of the General Assembly, to the payment of the principal of the public debt.

SEC. 3. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

SEC. 4. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money, shall be published with the laws of each regular session of the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. No law shall authorize any debt to be contracted, on behalf of the State, except in the following cases: To meet casual deficits in the revenue; to pay the interest on the State debt; to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or, if hostilities be threatened, provide for the public defense.

SEC. 6. No county shall subscribe for stock in any incorporated company, unless the same be paid for at the time of such subscription; nor shall any county loan its credit to any incorporated company, nor borrow money for the purpose of taking stock in any such company; nor shall the General Assembly ever, on behalf the State, assume the debts of any county, city, town or township, nor of any corporation whatever.

SEC. 7. No law or resolution shall ever be passed by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana that shall recognize any liability of this State to pay or redeem any certificate of stocks issued in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville," passed January 19, 1846, and an act supplemental to said act passed January 29, 1847, which; by the provisions of the said acts, or either of them, shall be payable exclusively from the proceeds of the canal lands, and the tolls and revenues of the canal in said acts mentioned; and no such certificates or stocks shall ever be paid by this State.

NOTE.—Agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the General Assembly, Regular Session of 1871, and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election. Agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each house of the General Assembly, Special Session of 1872. Submitted to the electors of the State by an act approved January 28, 1873. Ratified by a majority of the electors, at an election held on the 18th day of February, 1873. Declared a part of the constitution by proclamation of Thomas A. Hendricks, Governor, dated March 7, 1873.

ARTICLE XI.

CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall not have power to establish or incorporate any bank or banking company, or moneyed institution, for the purpose of issuing bills of credit, or bills payable to order or bearer, except under the conditions prescribed in this Constitution.

SEC. 2. No banks shall be established otherwise than under a general banking law, except as provided in the fourth section of this article.

SEC. 3. If the General Assembly shall enact a general banking law, such law shall provide for the registry and countersigning, by an officer of the State, of all paper credit designed to be circulated as money; and ample collateral security, readily convertible into specie, for the redemption of the same in gold or silver, shall be required, which collateral security shall be under the control of the proper officer or officers of State.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly may also charter a bank with branches, without collateral security, as required in the preceding section.

SEC. 5. If the General Assembly shall establish a bank with branches, the branches shall be mutually responsible for each other's liabilities, upon all paper credit issued as money.

SEC. 6. The stockholders in every bank or banking company, shall be individually responsible, to an amount over and above their stock, equal to their respective shares of stock, for all debts or liabilities of said bank or banking company.

SEC. 7. All bills or notes issued as money, shall be, at all times, redeemable in gold or silver; and no law shall be passed sanctioning, directly or indirectly, the suspension by any bank or banking company, of specie payments.

SEC. 8. Holders of bank notes shall be entitled, in case of insolvency, to preference of payment over all other creditors.

SEC. 9. No bank shall receive directly or indirectly, a greater rate of interest than shall be allowed, by law, to individuals loaning money.

SEC. 10. Every bank, or banking company, shall be required to cease all banking operations within twenty years from the time of its organization, and promptly thereafter to close its business.

SEC. 11. The General Assembly is not prohibited from investing the Trust Funds in a bank with branches; but in case of such investment, the safety of the same shall be guaranteed by unquestionable security.

SEC. 12. The State shall not be a stockholder in any bank, after the expiration of the present bank charter; nor shall the credit of the State ever be given, or loaned, in aid of any person, association, or corporation; nor shall the State hereafter become a stockholder in any corporation or association.

SEC. 13. Corporations, other than banking, shall not be created by special act, but may be formed under general laws.

SEC. 14. Dues from corporations, other than banking, shall be secured by such individual liability of the corporators, or other means, as may be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XII.

MILITIA.

SECTION 1. The militia shall consist of all able-bodied white male persons, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, except such as may be exempted by the laws of the United States, or of this State; and shall be organized, officered, armed, equipped and trained, in such manner as may be provided by law.

SEC. 2. The Governor shall appoint the Adjutant, Quartermaster and Commissary Generals.

SEC. 3. All militia officers shall be commissioned by the Governor, and shall hold their offices not longer than six years.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall determine the method of dividing the militia into divisions, brigades, regiments, battallions and companies, and fix the rank of all staff officers.

SEC. 5. The militia may be divided into classes of sedentary and active militia, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. No person conscientiously opposed to bearing arms, shall be compelled to do militia duty; but such person shall pay an equivalent for exemption, the amount to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XIII.

NEGROES AND MULATTOES.

SECTION 1. No negro or mulatto shall come into, or settle in, the State, after the adoption of this Constitution.

SEC. 2. All contracts made with any negro or mulatto coming into the State, contrary to the provisions of the foregoing section shall be void; and any person who shall employ such negro or mulatto, or otherwise encourage him to remain in the State, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars.

SEC. 3. All fines which may be collected for a violation of the provisions of this article, or of any law which may hereafter be passed for the purpose of carrying the same into execution, shall be set apart and appropriated for the colonization of such negroes and mulattoes, and their descendants, as may be in the State at the adoption of this Constitution, and may be willing to emigrate.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall pass laws to carry out the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XIV.

BOUNDARIES.

SECTION 1. In order that the boundaries of the State may be known and established, it is hereby ordained and declared, that the State of Indiana is bounded on the East by the meridian line which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio; on the South by the Ohio river, from the mouth of the Great Miami river to the mouth of the Wabash river; on the West by a line drawn along the middle of the Wabash river, from its mouth to a point where a due north line, drawn from the town of Vincennes, would last touch the northwestern shore of said Wabash river; and thence by a due north line until the same shall intersect an east and west line, drawn through a point ten miles north of the southern extreme of Lake Michigan; on the North by said east and west line, until the same shall intersect the first mentioned meridian line, which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio.

SEC. 2. The State of Indiana shall possess jurisdiction and sovereignty co-extensive with the boundaries declared in the preceding section; and shall have concurrent jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases, with the State of Kentucky on the Ohio river, and with the State of Illinois on the Wabash river, so far as said rivers form the common boundary between this State and said States respectively.

ARTICLE XV.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECTION 1. All officers, whose appointment is not otherwise provided for in this Constitution, shall be chosen in such manner as now is, or hereafter may be, prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. When the duration of any office is not provided for by this Constitution, it may be declared by law; and, if not so declared, such office shall be held during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment. But the General Assembly shall not create any office, the tenure of which shall be longer than four years.

SEC. 3. Whenever it is provided in this Constitution, or in any law which may be hereafter passed, that any officer, other than a member of the General Assembly, shall hold his office for any given term, the same shall be construed to mean, that such officer shall hold his office for such term, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 4. Every person elected or appointed to any office under this Constitution, shall, before entering on the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation, to support the Constitution of this State, and of the United States, and also an oath of office.

SEC. 5. There shall be a Seal of State, kept by the Governor for official purposes, which shall be called the Seal of the State of Indiana.

SEC. 6. All commissions shall issue in the name of the State, shall be signed by the Governor, sealed with the State Seal, and attested by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 7. No county shall be reduced to an area less than four hundred square miles; nor shall any county, under that area, be further reduced.

SEC. 8. No lottery shall be authorized; nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.

SEC. 9. The following grounds, owned by the State in Indianapolis, namely: the State House Square, the Governor's Circle, and so much of out-lot numbered one hundred and forty-seven, as lies north of the arm of the Central Canal, shall not be sold or leased.

SEC. 10. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the permanent enclosure and preservation of the Tippecanoe Battle Ground.

ARTICLE XVI.

AMENDMENTS.

SECTION 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution, may be proposed in either branch of the General Assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall, with the yeas and nays thereon, be entered on their journals, and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election; and if, in the General Assembly so next chosen, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each House, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to submit such amendment or amendments to the electors of the State; and if a majority of said electors shall ratify the same, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of this Constitution.

SEC. 2. If two or more amendments shall be submitted at the same time they shall be submitted in such manner that the electors shall vote for or against each of such amendments separately; and while such an amendment or amendments, which shall have been agreed upon by one General Assembly, shall be awaiting the action of a succeeding General Assembly, or of the electors, no additional amendment or amendments shall be proposed.

SCHEDULE.

This Constitution, if adopted, shall take effect on the first day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, and shall supersede the Constitution adopted in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixteen. That no inconvenience may arise from the change in the government, it is hereby ordained as follows:

First. All laws now in force, and not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall remain in force until they shall expire or be repealed.

Second. All indictments, prosecutions, suits, pleas, complaints and other proceedings, pending in any of the courts, shall be prosecuted to final judgment and execution; and all appeals, writs of error, certiorari and injunctions, shall be carried on in the several courts in the same manner as is now provided by law.

Third. All fines, penalties and forfeitures, due or accruing to the State, or to any county therein, shall inure to the State, or to such county, in the manner prescribed by law. All bonds executed to the State, or to any officer in his official capacity, shall remain in force, and inure to the use of those concerned.

Fourth. All acts of incorporation for municipal purposes, shall continue in force under this Constitution until such time as the General Assembly shall, in its discretion, modify or repeal the same.

Fifth. The Governor, at the expiration of the present official term, shall continue to act until his successor shall have been sworn into office.

Sixth. There shall be a session of the General Assembly commencing on the first Monday of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one.

Seventh. Senators now in office and holding over, under the existing Constitution, and such may be elected at the next general election, and the Representatives then elected, shall continue in office until the first general election under this Constitution.

Eighth. The first general election under this Constitution, shall be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

Ninth. The first election for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judges of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Prosecuting Attorney, Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, under this Constitution, shall be held at the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two; and such of said officers as may be in office when this Constitution shall go into effect, shall continue in their respective offices until their successors shall have been elected and qualified.

Tenth. Every person elected by popular vote, and now in any office which is continued by this Constitution, and every person who shall be so elected to any such office before the taking effect of this Constitution, (except as in this Constitution otherwise provided,) shall continue in office until the term for which such person has been or may be elected, shall expire: Provided, that no such person shall continue in office after the taking effect of this Constitution, for a longer period than the term of such office in this Constitution prescribed.

Eleventh. On the taking effect of this Constitution, all officers thereby continued in office, shall, before proceeding in the further discharge of their duties, take an oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution.

Twelfth. All vacancies that may occur in existing offices, prior to the first general election under this Constitution, shall be filled in the manner now prescribed by law.

Thirteenth. At the time of submitting this Constitution to the electors for their approval or disapproval, the article numbered thirteen, in relation to negroes and mulattoes, shall be submitted as a distinct proposition in the following form; "Exclusion and Colonization of Negroes and Mulattoes," "Aye" or "No." And if a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of said article, then the same shall form a part of this Constitution; otherwise it shall be void, and form no part thereof.

Fourteenth. No article or section of this Constitution shall be submitted, as a distinct proposition, to a vote of the electors, otherwise than as herein provided.

Fifteenth. Whenever a portion of the citizens of the counties of Perry and Spencer shall deem it expedient to form, of the contiguous territory of said counties, a new county, it shall be the duty of those interested in the organization of such new county, to lay off the same by proper metes and bounds, of equal portions as nearly as practicable, not to exceed one-third of the territory of each of said counties. The proposal to create such new county shall be submitted to the voters of said counties, at a general election, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. And if a majority of all the votes given at said election, shall be in favor of the organization of said new county, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to organize the same, out of the territory thus designated.

Sixteenth. The General Assembly may alter or amend the charter of Clarksville, and make such regulations as may be necessary for carrying into effect the objects contemplated in granting the same; and the funds belonging to said town shall be applied according to the intention of the grantor.

Done in Convention, at Indianapolis, the tenth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one; and of the Independence of the United States, the seventy-fifth.

REMARKS.

It is proper to add, in relation to the receipts for the fiscal year, ending October 31, 1873, that a large proportion, as shown in the statement following, was not an actual receipt of money in the Treasury, but the transfer of the moneys of the State Debt Sinking Fund into the General Fund.

There was on hand to the credit of the State Debt Sinking Fund, at the close of the fiscal year of 1872.....	$603,221 08
And this amount appeared in the balance on hand in the Treasury at that date.
There were also several Trust Funds closed up as such, and turned over to the General Fund, which funds amounted to.....	66,938 01
These sums were transferred to the General Fund, as provided for by an act of the Legislature. The transfer was effected by making a disbursement from the funds named, and a receipt at the Treasury, though the change did not diminish or increase the amount in the Treasury.
Total of the funds transferred.....	$670,159 09
Total receipts of the Treasury during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873.....	$4,300,633 02
Deduct apparent receipts on account of the transfer of funds.....	670,159 09
Actual receipts, including balance November 1, 1872.....	$3,630,473 93

A similar explanation is necessary in relation to expenditures. The transfer of the funds named was made by warrants upon the respective funds, which, therefore, appeared upon the books as disbursements.

Total disbursements during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873.....	$4,116,457 55
Deduct apparent disbursements on account of the transfer of funds.....	670,159 09
Actual disbursements.....	$3,445,298 46

ABSTRACT OF TAXES LEVIED.

No abstract of taxes levied on the duplicates for 1873 can be given in this report, County Auditors having, under the law, until the 1st of January to make their returns to this office.

TEMPORARY LOAN.

In pursuance of the provision of an act entitled "an Act authorizing the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer of State to make a temporary loan," approved March 10, 1873, money has been borrowed to meet the appropriations for the present fiscal year, amounting to seven hundred and ten thousand dollars.

The first certificates issued by the State officers were for two hundred thousand dollars, executed March 12, 1873, due two years from date, and bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the presentation of the proper coupons at the Banking House of Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co., New York City.

The next certificates were for one hundred thousand dollars, and bear date April 15, 1873, due three years from date, with interest at seven per cent., payable semi-annually in New York City.

The next issued were for three hundred thousand dollars, July 11, 1873, interest the same, and payable in New York.

The last issued were for one hundred and ten thousand dollars, July 30, 1873, interest payable as in the preceding.

These loans became necessary for carrying on the government of the State, for meeting ordinary expenses, and for paying extraordinary appropriations made by the General Assembly in special and regular session in 1872 and 1873.

The acts of the Legislature provided for the payment of the old Internal Improvement Bonds, and certain sums to the counties on account of the erroneous appraisal of 1869, which, of themselves, made it necessary to have at least a half a million of dollars in the Treasury for immediate use for those purposes. To these were to be added the large appropriations to the Benevolent and Educational Institutions, the ordinary expenses of the government, and the appropriations to pay the expenses incurred by the Legislature of 1871, for the payment of which no provision had been made by that Assembly. These latter expenses, which could no longer pass without recognition, amounted in the aggregate to more than one hundred thousand dollars.

The levy for State purposes for the years 1871 and 1872, was placed by the Legislature at five cents on the hundred dollars of taxable property, which, upon a full collection could only produce three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars of Revenue per year. Out of this, however, were to be deducted the usual proportion of delinquencies, and certain credits allowed to counties in the spring settlement of 1871, in pursuance of a decision of the Supreme Court, which materially reduced the amount of revenue which otherwise would have come into the State Treasury.

The following statement shows the condition of the Treasury from October 31, 1872, to March 1, 1873, at which time most of the extraordinary obligations referred to had to be met and canceled:

The total balance in the Treasury at the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1872, was.....	$755,024 87
The receipts at the State Treasury from November 1, 1872, to March 1, 1873, from all sources, amounted to.....	889,757 29
Total	$1,644,782 16
The disbursements from November 1, 1872, to March 1, 1873, amounted to.....	1,475,148 26
Leaving on hand March 1.....	$169,633 90

The $755,024.29 on hand October 31, 1872, included $603,221.08 of the State Debt Sinking Fund, which was subsequently transferred to the General Fund of the Treasury, as provided for by an act of the Legislature abolishing the State Agency in New York. The transfer required a warrant upon the Treasury to pay the amount out of the State Debt Sinking Fund, and a receipt to show its payment into the General Fund. The receipts and disbursements, therefore, as given above, included this transaction, and make the receipts and expenditures appear larger than they really were, in order to close up the State Debt Sinking Fund, and place the proper amount to the credit of the General Fund. This much in explanation is deemed necessary to show why the receipts and expenditures during the time named are, apparently, unusually large.

In this relation it should be distinctly borne in mind that a large proportion of the receipts and disbursements of the Treasury Department are on account of Common School Revenue. This revenue is for an especial use, and is never encroached upon for ordinary State purposes. The whole amount which appears as School Revenue in a fiscal year, comes into the State Treasury, and is therefore a receipt, and at the distributions made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, is paid out upon the warrant of the Auditor to the counties, and consequently appears as a disbursement, though it is in no wise a part of the receipts of money for "State" purposes, and is only expended and used for the benefit of the Common Schools.

The whole amount of Common School Revenue received during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873, was $1,372,993.30 of which amount over one million was from taxes alone, levied for that particular purpose. The entire amount came into the Treasury, and was in a very short time paid out to the counties for the benefit of the Common Schools. In fact the distribution trespassed upon the General Fund of the Treasury to the amount of $37,031.38.

The whole amount of receipts at the Treasury for all purposes, during the fiscal year of 1873, including the balance on hand Nov. 1, 1872, was $4,300,633.02; of this amount only $438,191.14 was received for State purposes from the State levy.

It will be seen from the foregoing that with one hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars in the Treasury March 1, 1873, and with recent appropriations amounting to nearly three-quarters of a million of dollars there was no alternative but to make a temporary loan to meet the "casual deficit in the Revenue," and carry out the intentions of the Legislature as expressed in its acts and appropriations. The loans were obtained from time to time as was deemed best for the public interests, and on terms as advantageous as could be secured.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

The Legislature in January, 1873, repealed the act of March, 1859, which provided for the election of a State Printer, and formally abolished the office.

By a joint resolution, passed January 28, the Secretary of State, and the chairman of the Senate and House Committees on Printing, were authorized to have the necessary public printing done for the use of the General Assembly.

Also, by joint resolution, the late State Printer was authorized, under inspection of the Secretary of State, to finish the work then under contract and in his hands as State Printer.

The effect of the repeal of the law providing for a State Printer was to leave the matter of all Public Printing where it was placed by the act of December 20, 1865, "to prevent unauthorized printing at the expense of the State." All vouchers presented to this office, and for which warrants have been issued, have been approved as provided for in the resolutions, and the act named.

The total amount paid out on account of public printing during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873, is $57,328.39.

Of this amount there was paid to the State Printer up to and including the final settlement with him $40,431.31.

Since the office of State Printer was abolished and the final settlement made with that officer, public printing has been done and paid for to the amount of $16,897.08, all of which was authorized by the General Assembly.

The printing of the acts of 1872 and 1873, as ordered by the Legislature, has cost in the aggregate, $6,297.71.

The printing of the BREVIER REPORTS of the Assemblies of 1871, 1872 and 1873, for which payment has been made during the past fiscal year, as ordered and provided for by joint resolutions, has cost as follows :

Report of Session of 1871.....	$6,589 40
Report of Session of 1872.....	4,853 33
Report of Session of 1873.....	7,810 36
Total.....		$19,253 09

The printing of the INDIANA REPORTS of the decisions of the Supreme Court, during the fiscal year of 1873, has cost $19,171.30.

The Brevier Reports are charged to Legislative expenses, and the decisions of the Supreme Court to Indiana Reports, as provided for by law.

THE NEW ASSESSMENT.

The act for the assessment of property, and for the levy and collection of taxes, which was approved December 21, 1872, took effect immediately after its passage.

At the regular session of the Legislature in January following, however, many amendments to the law were offered, and some were finally made, which made it impracticable for this department to take decided steps towards carrying out the provisions until the Legislature had completed its revisions of the enactment, and adjourned.

The General Assembly adjourned on the 10th day of March, 1873, and the first duty to be performed under the new law was to advise county officers of its requirements, and prepare the forms and blanks for those officers, and for railroads and corporations, to make the proper returns.

Inasmuch as the work of assessing had to begin on the first day of April there was but little time in which to prepare the forms required, and for county officers, especially the assessors and their assistants, to become acquainted with the provisions of the new act.

The old acts governing the assessment of property seemed to provide for assessments on a basis of actual cash value. It is well known, however, that such an assessment was seldom or never made, and that the taxable value of property has been much less than the value as determined in ordinary business transactions. The present law was evidently designed to secure the assessment of property at its fair, cash value, if it were possible to do that by statutory provisions. The law has the merit of combining under one title most of the legal provisions pertaining to the assessment of property, and the levy and collection of taxes. It will not be claimed by any one that the enactment is, in all respects, perfect; there are known ambiguities, omissions, and imperfect provisions; it is not strange, therefore, if mistakes have been made under its many and various requirements. I am pleased to say, however, that county officers, and the county Boards of Equalization, who were more directly charged with carrying out the provisions of the law, as a rule, manifested a disposition to do what was in their power to secure a full and fair assessment, and to do so as promptly as circumstances would permit. Through their efforts, and those of the State Board of Equalization, we have to-day an assessment of property which approximates more nearly its cash value than ever before; and many thousands of dollars of capital stock, and tangible property are upon the duplicates, which, heretofore have been omitted, and have escaped taxation almost entirely.

The practical experience of this year, we may reasonably expect, will secure much better results in the future. As previously stated, the limited time which assessors had in which to learn their duties, and proceed with the labors imposed upon them, necessitated rapid work, under new conditions and imperfect knowledge; and the results cannot be as satisfactory as those which came from experience and uniformity of procedure.

I am of the opinion that the time for making the assessment, to-wit: from the first day of April to the first day of June, is too short. In the larger counties, perhaps in all, the work must be pushed rapidly forward, and a number of persons must be employed, to canvass all the townships, and enable the principal assessor to make up his returns for the County Auditor. Under such circumstances property is not so apt to be equally and uniformly assessed, as it would be by a smaller number of officers. It is probable that when the assessment of the present year is carried out upon the duplicates by County Auditors the aggregate will show some difference, compared with the aggregate of the returns made to this office in June last. The difference will be in a larger aggregate than now appears.

It is therefore necessary that longer time should be given for assessing property, and for making up the returns in a business-like manner, that they may stand any test, and give satisfaction to all communities by showing an equal and uniform valuation of property.

From the fact that the new assessment was not fully understood in the earlier part of the year, the rate of taxation in some counties is probably unnecessarily large. In many instances levies of taxes were made upon the old standard of values, though those values were materially increased before the levies were placed upon the books. Believing this to be a matter to which special attention should be directed, I addressed a circular letter, of which the following is a copy, to each County Auditor in the State, and to Mayors of cities, and at a time when any reduction of levies could be made without delaying the preparation of tax duplicates :

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, May 15, 1873.

To the Auditor of ——— County :

Dear Sir :

* * * * *

From the statements made to this office, in relation to the progress of Assessors, I am of the opinion that the assessment of property will be largely increased over any assessment ever made in this State; in some counties it will perhaps be doubled.

In view of this, I take the liberty of calling your attention to the importance of having local levies of taxes made in proportion to the assessment as now indicated. As the Township Trustees levied their taxes in March, taking the old values as a basis, I am of the opinion that at the June term of the Commissioners' Court the Trustees should reduce the March levies in proportion to the increase of assessment. As none of the taxes have yet been placed upon the duplicates of 1873, it is undoubtedly the duty of the proper authorities in counties, townships, and cities to reduce their levies to correspond with the assessment now being made. If this is done, the new valuation of property will not bring with it an unnecessary increase of taxation; and I respectfully call the attention of the authorities upon whom the duty of levying taxes devolves, to the necessity of taking promptly such action as will fully carry out the requirements of the law, and at the same time meet the wishes and subserve the interests of the people of the State. To this end it should be made known that there will be a reduction of tax levies to correspond with the increased valuation of property.

Very Truly,

JAMES A. WILDMAN,
Auditor of State.

Immediately after the passage of the act in March last, it was determined to hold a convention of County Auditors in this city, to discuss the law, examine and compare views in regard to interpretation and construction, and to have such deliberations as would lead to uniformity of views, and harmonious action, under its provisions. But upon further reflection it was found that such a convention would occupy time that would trespass seriously upon the few weeks allowed the County Assessors, and the County Auditors, to make the assessment, and complete the returns required. I was therefore compelled to yield to the latter emergency, and did not call the convention, as at first was decided.

Such legislation as the experience of the years 1873 and 1874 suggest, for modifying or improving the assessment law, will be recommended in the next annual report of this office, directed to the Legislature.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

As the full proceedings of the State Board of Equalization appear in this report, and have already been published in pamphlet form and distributed as required by law, it is perhaps not necessary to do more than to refer briefly to its labors during the present year.

The Board should be known in the law as the State Board of Equalization and Assessment. It is charged with not only the duty of equalizing the assessment of real estate in the several counties, but, also, of making the assessment of the tracks and rolling stock of railroads and the capital stock of all corporations organized under the laws of the State. This latter duty was especially onerous, owing to the fact that the law had not been before the people long enough to be thoroughly understood, and to the fact that the reports received at this office from county officials were, in some instances, incomplete, and did not furnish the information necessary to make a full and satisfactory assessment of the capital stock of corporations.

The Board, as provided in the act of December 21st, 1872, consists of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State. These officers, with Mr. J. C. Burnett, Deputy Auditor, acting as Secretary, met at the office of Auditor of State on the 16th of June, at which time the Board was organized, and continued in session until the ninth day of September.

Inasmuch as the action and progress of the Board depended upon the returns of the county assessments, as equalized by the County Boards, much delay was caused by the tardiness of County Auditors in reporting to this office, a delay which was in many cases made unavoidable by the magnitude of the work to be done and the difficulties to be encountered by those officers. These difficulties are more apparent when it is known that the State Board was required to meet on the third Monday in June and begin the work of equalizing and assessing, while the same act required County Boards to meet on the first Monday of the same month to make the equalization for their respective counties. This gave the County Auditors less than two weeks to make up their returns from the assessors, perfect the equalization as required of County Boards, and report in carefully tabulated statements to the Auditor of State. In some cases the County Boards found it necessary to order a re-assessment in particular townships, and an unavoidable delay was the consequence. In all the counties the work of the Auditors required great care and application, and permitted no delay that could be obviated in the preparation of the tables designed for this office.

With such returns as were received, however, the State Board proceeded with its work, and continued its labors until the equalization of the assessments in all the counties was completed, and the assessment of the capital stock of corporations was made as thoroughly as the incomplete reports received would permit.

In equalizing the assessment of real estate the Board made a careful and deliberate examination of the assessments as returned from the several counties, and by maps and statistics, and from information received from county officers and others who were present from time to time at the sittings of the Board, such calculations and comparisons were made as were deemed most essential in securing a just and equitable revision and equalization of the assessment of real estate for the year 1873.

As previously stated one of the greatest difficulties encountered by the Board was the assessment of the capital stock of corporations. The law provides that the Board shall make the assessment of the capital stock of companies or associations incorporated under the laws of Indiana, and it was at once apparent that many companies and associations doing business in the State, though organized under the laws of other States, would not properly come under the action of the Board in making the assessment of stock.

The process of arriving at the value of capital stock subject to assessment is, through official returns, as follows:

First—The sworn statement of the company or association, as made to the Auditor of the county, giving the true value of the stock.

Second—The assessed value of the company's tangible property, as returned by the County Assessor, and forwarded to this office.

If the true value of the capital stock exceeds the amount of tangible property, the difference shows the amount of capital stock to be assessed by the State Board, and to be placed upon the duplicate for taxation in the county in which the company is doing business.

If the tangible property of the company, which is taxed in the county in which it is located, is greater than the true value of the capital stock, there is no stock for assessment, and it does not appear upon the duplicate.

It was, therefore, necessary to have reports from County Auditors giving the sworn statements of companies in relation in their capital stock, and the assessment of the tangible property of the companies, as made by the local assessors.

These reports were received from comparatively few counties, and the power of the Board was therefore crippled and limited, and though every effort was made to get full returns, the Board was finally compelled to adjourn with the conviction that a number of companies and associations doing business in, and organized under the laws of the State, were not assessed, as contemplated in the law.

In making the assessment of the tracks and rolling stock of railroads in the State, the Board proceeded diligently to ascertain the fair cash value of all such property. To this end the cost and present value of right of way—the acres of land included in such right—was determined as nearly as was deemed possible; also the cost and present value of iron and steel in rails, joints and chairs; of the road-bed and ties; of the bridges, water-tanks, station-houses, depots, machine-shops, and other structures on the right of way, and all other property pertaining to the railroad track. Also the cost and present value of locomotives, passenger, freight, coal, platform, hand and other cars, and rolling stock of every kind.

In addition to this, it was necessary to take into consideration the commercial or business value of each railroad, in determining the cash value of the whole property of the road.

It is proper to say that in most cases the reports made by the railroads to this office, and upon which the assessment as made by the Board was based, were evidently prepared with the view of complying fully with the requirements of the law.

The time allowed this office to prepare the several forms and blanks upon which the companies were to make their returns, and for the roads to collect the information required, was short—that was from the 10th of March, when the Legislature adjourned, to the first day of May. Much of this time was necessarily consumed in the preparation of the blanks, and after the blanks were received by many of the companies' officers, in correspondence with this office in relation to proper interpretations of the provisions of the act.

It is believed, however, that the reports received, and the information obtained by personal examination, enabled the State Board to make as fair and equitable an assessment of the railroad property of the State as could be done in the first year of a new law.

The work of the Board has gone to the people. If it meet with their approval, its months of arduous labor will have been productive of great good.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES.

Section 6 of an act supplementary and amendatory of an act entitled "an act to provide for a uniform assessment of property," etc., approved March 8, 1873, provides that corporations, whether foreign or domestic, firm or individual, engaged in the business of transporting or carrying passengers or freight on any railroad in the State of Indiana, upon any contract or agreement with such railroad company, shall, in the months of January and July of each year, report to the Auditor of State, under oath, the gross amount of all receipts in the State of Indiana on account of the transportation of passengers or freight for the six months last preceding, and shall at the time of such report pay into the Treasury of the State the sum of three dollars on every one hundred dollars of such receipts for passenger fare, and the sum of one dollar on every one hundred dollars of such receipts for transporting freights.

In order to carry out the provisions of the law as above set forth, blanks for the proper reports were forwarded to all the freight transportation and sleeping car companies doing business in the State.

The following are copies of the blanks forwarded to the principal offices of the several companies:

above is a full and true exhibit of the gross receipts of the _____ of _____ during the six months ending June 30, 1873, on account of the transportation of passengers, and that the statement is based upon a correct apportionment of the receipts of the company, governed by the proportion that the distance traversed in the State bears to the whole distance paid for.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1873.

On the back of each blank was printed the section of the law previously referred to.

Of the sleeping car companies, to whom the blanks were forwarded, only one made a report of gross receipts and paid the tax required. The company which so reported and paid the tax was the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Sleeping Car Company, principal office at Buffalo, New York.

Of the "fast line" and other freight transportation companies, to whom blanks were forwarded, none of them reported gross receipts or paid the tax. Various reasons were advanced for not making the report as required, and one of the companies returned the following statement, subscribed and sworn to:

"The freight on shipments by this company is collected by the different roads forwarding our shipments and is not accounted for to this company in any way. Our receipts for freight are nothing."

The substance of the objections made by the companies to making the report and paying the tax, was that the freight lines and sleeping car companies are not transportation companies. The freight lines, it was urged, were solicitors of business for the railways which carried the freight and were, therefore, not liable for any tax on account of transportation, and the sleeping car companies did not collect fare for transportation of passengers on any railway. Not feeling satisfied with the reports of the companies, however, and believing the Legislature designed that they should pay a tax for the privileges enjoyed by them, and one sleeping car company having reported and paid the tax imposed, I have submitted the question to the Attorney General, and he will take such steps as may be necessary to have it settled by the courts.

LANDS AND LOTS BELONGING TO THE STATE.

The following described lands and city and town lots are the property of the State. Some of the pieces as set forth in the conveyances, have been acquired, and are held for special purposes, and some have been conveyed to secure the State against loss through defalcation.

It has been thought proper to make and publish a list of the several tracts so that definite and more general knowledge could be had of them; and also for the purpose of directing the attention of the General Assembly, at the proper time, to the necessity of providing by law for the disposal or proper care of those lands which have not been conveyed to the State for special uses.

So far as relates to lands acquired through the defalcation of public officers, and to make good certain claims against individuals, no one has the custody or disposals of the lands, and no one of the State officers is delegated to look after them, or to exercise any power in their care and management.

In consequence of this lack of authority there are several tracts which are entirely uncared for, and which must necessarily be exposed to damage and permanent injury, through the cutting and loss of timber.

1. The south-west quarter of the north-west quarter of section 3, township 16 north, range 5 west, in Putnam county, containing 45 40-100 acres.

Conveyed to the State by Sheriff's deed, and by quitclaim from Mason and Mary Griffith, on judgment obtained against Hiram E. Talbott and others.

No. 2. Lots 18, 19 and 20, in Morton, Caffin and Wright's subdivision of out lot No. 149, in the city of Indianapolis.

Conveyed to the State by John Stumph and wife and Samuel Lefevre.

No. 3. One acre in out lot No. 28, Clarksville, Clarke county, for grave yard lot for the State Prison south. Conveyed by Jane Keigwin.

No. 4. The east half of the south-west quarter 5, 30, 3 west.

The west half of the south-east quarter 5, 30, 3 west.

The east half of the north-west quarter 8, 30, 3 west.

The west half of the north-east quarter 8, 30, 3 west.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter 8, 30, 3 west, containing 360 acres, all in Pulaski county.

No. 5. The south half of the north-east quarter of section 15, township 34, range 2 west, containing 80 acres in Newton county.

These lands in Pulaski and Newton counties were conveyed to the State by Daniel A. Farley, ex-Treasurer of Pulaski county, to reimburse the Swamp Land funds, and University Land funds, in which funds losses to the amount of two thousand dollars had occurred while the said Farley was Treasurer of Pulaski county.

No. 6. The north-east quarter of the north-east quarter of section 1, township 12, range 7 west, containing 40 acres in Clay county.

Conveyed to the State by Aquilla Jones.

No. 7. Lots 242 and 243 in the "North Burying Ground," in Marion county, conveyed to the State by E. J. Peck and wife.

No. 8. One hundred acres in the south-east quarter of section 1, township 15 north, range 2 east, in Marion county, conveyed to the State by James P. Drake and wife, and by quitclaim from James H. McKernan.

This land was originally purchased as a site for a House of Refuge, but, under an act in relation to the House of Refuge, approved March 8, 1867, it was sold to one McCaslin, who subsequently forfeited it by non-payment of purchase money, and the title reverted to the State.

The above are lands held in fee simple. There are others, the principal of which are the Beaver Lake lands, and the canal lots in this city, which are in litigation, and consequently not enumerated with the foregoing.

STATE STATISTICS.

The importance to all classes of business, and to intelligent and prudent legislation, of a full and accurate exhibit of the annual products of the industries of the State, not only of the agricultural, but the manufacturing, mining and commercial industries, is so obvious, yet so inadequately provided for in this and most other States, that a few suggestions as to the information needed and the mode of obtaining it cannot be out of place in this report.

At the present we are dependent on three sources for the little we may learn of this vital subject. 1st, the national decennial census; 2d, the reports of the National Agricultural Bureau; 3d, the collection of facts and estimates in use by commercial papers in the interests of special classes of business. Of the first it is enough to say that it is worse than inadequate,—it is practically false in that it rarely reaches the public in detail until the State generally, and most of its political divisions, have outgrown its statements; and being decennial, it supplies no information, good or bad, for the intervening years. It is quite useless to business and misleading to legislation. Second, the reports of the Agricultural Bureau are limited to the industry it is especially charged with, and they never pretend to give even of that, more than an average estimate of annual results, made up from information gathered at different points of the State. Accurate enough they probably are, as averages, but that is not the kind of information, even if it embraced all forms of industry, that the business man, and especially the Legislature want. Both need to know the industrial condition and products of localities, what they have done and what they require. Third, the facts and estimates—mere guesses, however shrewd—of papers devoted to special industries, fail at the same points that the Agricultural Bureau fails. They give us a general view of the State's industries, and not very safe views even of those they practically apply themselves to.

In this condition of knowledge of our own labors, achievements and resources, no man can guide his action by better directions than conjectures. What a particular county has produced in corn, or wheat, or root crops, or mining products, or in manufactures, or what the amount of its commercial business has been, he does not know except by vague comparison of individual statements with each other, and by conclusions loosely built upon them. It cannot be necessary to enlarge upon the value to a legislator of such an exhibit as has been indicated, by which he may know exactly the industrial condition of his own county, or district, and of all the counties of the State.

To a business man its value is even more appreciable. But this is not all. More is needed than a knowledge of the State's industries. Its health, its educational and moral condition, its crimes, and all that facts can display of the domestic concerns of the people, ought to be fully reported. We ought to know the diseases, the localities especially affected, and their fatality. We ought to know the crimes committed, the nativity and previous condition of the criminals, the terms of punishment and the periods within which convictions are made. We ought to know the intellectual state of each county so far as it is exhibited by the support of and attendance upon schools. These and other points of information that will readily suggest themselves to all intelligent men are indispensable to the proper direction of legislation and the wise application of public charities. We know practically nothing about them. This great and urgent need should be met by the provision of adequate means to collect all desirable information, to prepare it promptly, by careful condensation in tabulated statements, or otherwise, for publication, and to give it as speedily as possible general diffusion among the people.

An attempt to supply this want was made a number of years ago, but the collection of facts was entrusted to the local assessors, under no penalty for neglect or refusal to act, and it failed so utterly that the enterprise was abandoned as impracticable except at a cost deemed too great for the service. A general but ill-founded apprehension that the information solicited was to be used to increase the assessment for taxes, or to impeach the returns they were to make or had made, also greatly obstructed the operation of the law. No successful attempt to reinstate the work was made till last winter, although attention was directed to it repeatedly by the Executive in messages, and by my predecessors in this office. Measures were devised in one form or another, but in the press of what was deemed more important business they were overlooked or pushed aside. Last December, however, at the special session of the Legislature, a provision was inserted in the act reconstructing the system of assessing property for taxation, requiring a return to the County Auditors from local assessors, and from County Auditors to this office of "the number of domestic and farm animals of all kinds, and the quantities in bushels and tons of every kind in each civil township of agricultural products, also manufactured products, bushels of coal mined, and such other items of product as may be directed by the Auditor of State," and of the number, names, age, and parentage of the deaf and dumb and blind. This provision, with the discretion allowed the State Auditor to enlarge the "items of product" to be reported by the Assessors, and with the exaction from him of a speedy preparation of the returns in a tabular form, exhibiting the products of each county, and of the aggregate for the entire State, and its subjection to public inspection and embodiment in the annual report of this office, would seem to meet the larger portion of the necessity. But, admitting the successful operation of the law, it still leaves an indispensable class of information unprovided for. The diseases and deaths, the prevalence of diseases in particular localities and at particular times, and their comparative fatality, can only be learned by a stretch of construction of the State Auditor's authority, which he can not assume the responsibility of making.

The language of the act clearly confines his discretion to industrial products and to the addition of such as the Legislature did not deem it necessary to name specifically. He can not safely require assessors to report the number of sick, of deaths, and the kinds of diseases, as a part of the permission to add "other items of product."

The educational or intellectual condition of the State may be accurately learned from the reports of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, so far as it is exhibited by the condition of the schools; but there are other indications, as the number of newspapers circulated, which can not be ascertained from any authentic source. Besides, the annual "tabular statement" required of the State Auditor should embody a condensed view of the details presented by the reports of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. It should contain, also, a condensed statement of the criminal statistics obtained by the Attorney General enlarged by the additions above suggested.

The local taxation of the State, county, township, and municipal should be required of the proper authorities in full, as it is now a part.

The operations of railroads as more fully set forth elsewhere, should be presented. In short the annual exhibit should display, as far as possible, the year's work, health, wealth, progress and general condition. The existing conditions of the law are inadequate to this object, though better than those previously made. But these like the former, are made dependent on local assessors, who are not compelled to regard them, and they are open to the same misconstruction that so greatly impaired the operations of the former—that is the belief that the information required is meant to affect taxation. This misapprehension is probably, in a measure, corrected, but it will remain more or less an obstruction to any attempt to gather State statistics by local assessors. Whether the value of full and accurate information of the kind described is sufficient to warrant the expense of a special organization, or the popular misapprehension may be so far disabused as to make no serious obstruction to the existing one, is for the Legislature to determine.

Appreciating the importance of the information provided for by the act of December 21, 1872, I addressed a letter on the 10th of February, to the Auditor of each county, calling attention to this provision of the law, and designating the statistics desired. In response returns have been made, as shown in the table appended, which though incomplete and often negligently made, show the germ of a valuable final result, if the law is persistently and systematically enforced.

It may not be safe to assume that even these apparently full returns are accurate, but enough is presented to indicate the importance of such a table, complete and trustworthy. It shows that this year there were in the State 514,438 horses, 54,307 mules, 1,211,246 cattle, 1,235,874 sheep, 2,999,139 hogs; that it had 1,902,599 acres in wheat, yielding an aggregate of 22,149,527 bushels or an average of nearly 12 bushels to the acre; that it had 2,627,980 acres in corn, yielding 81,185,485 bushels, an average of nearly 31 bushels to the acre; that it had in oats 624,795 acres, producing 11,434,628 bushels, or an average of $18\frac{1}{2}$ bushels; of potatoes there were produced 3,412,159 bushels; but the acres are not given, and the average cannot be ascertained. 570,382 tons of coal are reported mined, but the returns cannot be accepted as accurate.

It is unnecessary to notice the details further as they can be seen at a glance in the table. But as each county's product, acreage and average is there exhibited, it may be easily seen that, enlarged by the suggested additions touching health, crime and education, with the usual tax statements, made doubly valuable by full reports of all local taxation, and by returns of railroad operations and other matters of general interest, such a condensed view of the year's history of the State may be of inestimable value. And being annually compiled and promptly published, it would supply as far as human means can, such information in the form and at the time when it can be made most serviceable.

RAILROADS.

The immense railroad interests of the State make of obvious value the tables in this report, exhibiting as far as possible, a succinct history of our roads, the counties they traverse or enter, the date of their construction, acres of right of way, miles of track, weight and miles of rail, both steel and iron, miles of side track and weight of iron, number of ties per mile, kinds of joints and chairs, number of buildings and other structures, kinds of ballast, number of locomotives, passenger cars, sleeping and drawing room cars, express and baggage cars, box, stock, coal and platform, wrecking, pay and hand cars, with the totals of all, and the names of the chief officers. Such a table made complete would present a view of our railroad interests which, combined with the tabular results of the assessments made by the State Board of Equalization, would be of general interest and great value. But to make such an exhibit of this vast interest as should be made, there should be required for annual tabulating and publication a statement of the cost of right of way, construction, equipment, receipts from passengers, freight, mail and expressage, expense of maintaining tracks, buildings, officers, agents, engineers, laborers and others employed, the number and kinds of accidents to passengers or other persons, with cause, time and place, and to stock with amounts paid, and the amount of taxes paid. These returns should be required, not to trespass upon the private affairs of companies, but to furnish to the public, to other roads, and to the Legislature, such knowledge as is always valuable and often indispensable in directing private or corporate action, or public legislation.

With an annual display of the State's condition and industrial operations which such a collection of statistics as has been considered in this report Indiana will stand among the foremost of the governments of the civilized world in the knowledge of herself and in the diffusion of that knowledge wherever it can be of service.

The existing acts, as already indicated, will supply a large portion of these statistics when they are fully understood among the people and fully executed by the local officers. But in their best construction and operation they must still leave imperfectly reported, or wholly omitted, some of the most important particulars of our condition.

What amendments the acts need to supply the deficiency, how the desired information may best be obtained, and how the popular misapprehension of the object of obtaining such facts may be removed, as well as the department by which the whole business of gathering and publishing statistics should be conducted, are for the Legislature to determine.

It is pertinent in this connection to give a partial exhibit of the assessment of railroads in the years 1872 and 1873. As the railroad property in the State forms the larger portion of the assessment made by the State Board of Equalization, I give the railroad property as it appeared on the tax duplicates for 1872, and the amount assessed for 1873, in the following counties:

NAME OF COUNTY.	1872.	1873.
1. Allen.....	$420,360	$1,798,441
2. Dearborn.....	325,410	623,462
3. Delaware.....	152,700	494,463
4. Elkhart.....	324,450	1,062,765
5. Hendricks.....	290,070	825,484
6. Johnson.....	249,490	348,192
7. Lake.....	848,040	1,611,738
8. La Porte.....	437,122	1,665,012
9. Marion.....	709,396	1,519,160
10. St. Joseph.....	230,000	802,852
11. Vigo.....	365,260	854,024
12. Wayne.....	341,900	738,928
Total.....	$4,694,198	$12,374,521

The figures under the year 1873 are the amounts of the assessment as made by the State Board of Equalization. In addition to these amounts there was property in each county which was assessed by the local assessors, and of which no report was made to this office. It will be seen, however, that in the twelve counties given the assessment of 1873, not counting the local assessment, exceeds that of 1872 by seven million six hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

For further information in relation to railroads attention is especially directed to the tables in this report and the proceedings of the State Board, which are also included in these pages.

LOCAL TAXATION.

In order to make as complete an exhibit of the condition of the State as possible, I have sought to obtain statements of all the local taxes, not only the taxes usually returned to this office and annually reported, but those assessed by cities and towns. The appended table containing a condensed view of the incomplete returns received, show that local taxation always and greatly exceeds that imposed for State purposes. Where municipal are added to county and township levies the aggregate not unfrequently amounts to three or four times the legislative tax.

A correct knowledge of the burdens imposed by local necessity or enterprise or taste, upon property, or by existing indebtedness, is important to the capitalist looking for investments, and to emigrants looking for homes. A serious difference in the rate of taxation may easily make all the difference between a paying and losing enterprise. When the aggregate of local and general taxes amounts, as it does in many cases, to two per cent. of the cash value of property, under the new assessment law, so large an abstraction from available resources becomes an item of importance in calculating the chances of a manufacture, or other application of capital. It will effect real estate investments, especially when, as in cities, it may be additionally charged with the cost of improvements which the owners neither ask for, nor see any necessity for. So will the amount of indebtedness, not only as exhibiting the diversions of a portion of the revenue from other services, but as exhibiting the prudence or incaution of the city's policy.

County and township debts, as well as those of cities, ought to be fully reported every year. These with the taxes, the assessments, and the reports of agricultural and other industrial products, and the hygienic, educational, and moral condition of the county or township or city, will give every inquirer full information of the circumstances both of advantage and disadvantage in which he will place himself by locating in either. It is such information as every State should be able to give and which few or no States can give. Letters are constantly received at this office asking it, but, excepting occasionally and imperfectly, it cannot be furnished.

The amount of local taxation will readily suggest the importance of some limitation of the power of imposing it. The taxes for general purposes, in cities, is limited, but for special purposes municipal and county and township authorities are allowed the rather liberal range of their own discretion or fancy, to say nothing of the occasional improper uses of the revenue. Such abuses exist, everybody knows, and the permission of unlimited taxation for special purposes encourages them. The expedient of increasing a special levy is too frequently the step that leads to official irregularities, and improper diversion of the people's money. Thoroughly honest and reasonably prudent men cannot be expected to be put in control of local or municipal affairs always, by so miscellaneous a population as is usually found in cities, and one bad administration will undo the good of a dozen honest ones, and set an example of mischief to a dozen more. It is not easy for a general law to beneficially limit the revenue a city or other local government may raise for particular purposes, but no reasonable limitation can do so much mischief by restricting the means of possible good as the absence of all limitation may do in opening the way to probable evil. Cities, towns and townships should be required to report their taxes and their indebtedness.

THE STATE DEBT.

The condition of the public debt of the State at the date of this report, October 31, 1873, is as follows :

FOREIGN DEBT.

Five per cent. certificates of State stock.....	$26,969 99
Two and one-half per cent. certificates of State stock.....	4,460 13
War Loan Bonds.....	139,000 00
Temporary Loan.....	710,000 00
Internal Improvement Bonds.....	114,000 00
Total	$994,030 12

DOMESTIC DEBT.

School Fund, non-negotiable Bonds.....	$3,904,783 22
--	----------------

These Bonds are five in number, as follows :

No. 1. January 1, 1867.....	$709,024 85
No. 2. January 20, 1867.....	2,658,067 30
No. 3. May 1, 1868.....	184,234 00
No. 4. January 20, 1871	177,700 00
No. 5. May 3, 1873.....	175,767 07
Total	$3,904,783 22

REDEMPTIONS.

During the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873, certificates of State stock, and Internal Improvement Bonds, have been redeemed as follows :

Five per cent. certificates.....	$5,900
Two and one-half per cent. certificates.....	960
Internal Improvement Bonds.....	77,000
Total	$83,860

As stated in previous reports the Five and Two and one-half per cent. certificates of State Stock ceased to bear interest on the 1st day of September, 1870, and notice was then given that all outstanding certificates of State Stock would be paid in full on presentation at the office of Agent of State. Notwithstanding ample notice has been given from time to time during the past eight years, there are still outstanding Five and Two and one-half per cent. certificates amounting to thirty-one thousand and thirty dollars and twelve cents.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS.

Under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly entitled "an act to provide for the payment of sundry bonds or stocks of the State of Indiana issued prior to the year 1841, and declaring an emergency," approved December 12, 1872, the State assumed the payment of Internal Improvement Bonds outstanding, amounting to one hundred and ninety-one thousand dollars, to which was to be added at the time of redemption the accumulated and unpaid interest on the same.

Previously to the passage of this act the Internal Improvement Bonds were taken up and canceled as provided for in the acts of 1846 and 1847, known as the "Butler Bill." One-half of the principle of the surrendered bonds was paid for with a new certificate of State Stock, bearing five per cent interest per annum, and one-half of the unpaid interest with a new certificate of State Stock bearing two and one-half per cent. interest per annum. The other half of the principal and unpaid interest, were paid by the issue of certificates of Canal Stock, for the payment of which the holders were to look to the revenues and income of the Wabash and Erie Canal.

As provided for in the act of December 12, 1872, seventy-seven sterling and dollar bonds have been paid in full, together with the accumulated interest, as shown in the statements of the Governor, Secretary and Attorney General appended hereto.

The causes which led to the act referred to providing for the payment of the Internal Improvement Bonds are recited at some length in the preamble to House Bill No. 129, of the Special Session of the Legislature, December, 1872:

"Whereas, There are still outstanding certain Wabash and Erie Canal bonds or stocks, and certain Internal Improvement Bonds issued by authority of this State, prior to the year 1841, and which have never been surrendered under the legislation of 1846 and 1847, commonly known as the Butler Bill; and, whereas, a suit was commenced in 1869 in the Carroll Circuit Court, of this State, by John W. Garrett, against the trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and also against the owners of other public works formerly owned by this State, for the purpose of enforcing an alleged lien, which the said Garrett insists the holders of said bonds have on said canal, or on some part thereof, as well as on said other public works; said suit being brought by said Garrett as one of the holders of said bonds or stocks, as well as for his own benefit as for the benefit of all others holding similar bonds and standing in the same relations, the whole number of bonds thus outstanding being one hundred and ninety-one, all coupon bonds, and some of them being dollar bonds for one thousand dollars each, and the residue being sterling bonds for two hundred and twenty-five pounds sterling each, the precise number of each of these descriptions of bonds being unknown; and, whereas, the said action of the said Garrett has been removed by change of venue to and is now pending in the Cass Circuit Court, and other holders of such bonds have, at their own request, been made parties to said actions; and, whereas, said Cass Circuit Court has made an interlocutory decree in said cause pending, that the equities are with the plaintiffs, and that said bonds held by said Garrett and others are a lien on said canal, its tolls and revenues, and directing that if said lien is not satisfied before the 27th day of December, 1872, a sequestrator, to be appointed by said court in said cause, shall then take possession of said canal and all its appurtenances and collect the tolls, revenues and water rents thereof, and apply the same to the satisfaction of said lien."

It was the opinion of the Attorney General, expressed in a communication to Hon. W. K. Edwards, Speaker of the House of Representatives, December 5, 1872, that "the 22d section of the supplemental Butler Bill of January 27, 1847, makes it the duty of the State to protect the trust property from the lien of Garrett's bonds, and having the ability to do this, if she fails to do it, and allows the trust to be destroyed by standing by and seeing the trust property subjected to the payment of her own debts, she will put herself decidedly in the wrong."

Moreover it was the opinion of prominent attorneys, and of those who had given the matter much attention, that if the sequestration of the tolls and revenues and property of the canal was permitted by the State, her alleged liability for the payment of the Wabash and Erie Canal stock, amounting, with the interest thereon, to twenty millions of dollars, would appear in a more formidable light, and be cause for apprehension in that relation.

As will be seen in the statement in relation to the domestic debt of the State, an additional non-negotiable bond, amounting to one hundred and seventy-five thousand, seven hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seven cents, has been executed in favor of the School Fund. The bond was provided for by an act of the Legislature entitled "an act to consolidate certain mortgage loans, forfeitures, bills receivable and other debts and accounts due the School Fund," etc., approved March 11, 1873.

The details of the transaction are given in full in this report under the head of the Sinking Fund.

The resources of the State applicable to the payment of the foreign debt, were, on the 31st day of October, 1872, as follows:

In State Treasury.....	$603,221 08
In the hands of the State Agent.....	99,480 40
Total.....	$702,701 48

By the act of December 13, 1872, entitled "an act in relation to the Funded Debt of the State of Indiana therein mentioned" the assets of the State Debt Sinking Fund, in the Treasury and in the hands of the Agent of State in New York, were turned over to the General Fund. It was also provided that no further redemptions of War Loan Bonds should be made for two years from the taking effect of the act, but that the semi-annual interest should be paid promptly in New York as the same became due. It was further provided that any certificates of State Stocks presented for payment at the office of the Treasurer of State should be redeemed and cancelled by warrant upon the General Fund.

By the same act the State Agency in New York, as it then existed, was discontinued, and provision was made for the appointment of an Agent of State, by the Governor, Secretary and Treasurer, at a salary not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum, which agent should perform the duties heretofore devolving upon the Agent elected by the General Assembly.

Mr. Charles Lanier, of New York City, was the duly appointed agent, as provided for in the act.

There being no further necessity for a Board of State Debt Sinking Fund Commissioners, as originally created by an act of the Legislature, approved June 18, 1852, the Board ceased to exist, as set forth in the act of December 13, 1872, on the first day of February of the present year.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS.

The following is a list of the Internal Improvement Bonds and Coupons, and accrued interest thereon, paid under the provisions of an act to provide for the payment of sundry bonds or stocks of the State of Indiana, issued prior to the year 1841, and declaring an emergency, approved, December 12, 1872.

THE COLLEGE FUND.

Under an act of the General Assembly approved June 17, 1852, the proceeds of the sales of the University lands in Monroe and Gibson counties, and all donations for the use of the University made without special provisions, are kept as a principal, which is known as the College Fund. The principal is loaned by the Auditor of State, upon real estate security, at seven per cent. per annum, and the interest so received is paid over to the University for the use of that institution. The amount of the principal of the Fund is, at the date of this report, $104,399 49, all of which is loaned and earning interest.

INSURANCE.

Section eight of an act approved March 8th, 1873, makes the following requirements of foreign insurance companies:

SEC. 8. Every insurance company not organized under the laws of this State, and doing business therein, shall in the months of January and July of each year report to the Auditor of State, under oath of the President and Secretary, the gross amount of all receipts received in the State of Indiana on account of Insurance premiums for the six months last preceeding, ending on the last days of December and June of each year, and shall, at the time of making such report, pay into the treasury of the State the sum of three dollars on every one hundred dollars of such receipts less losses actually paid within the State.

The following form was furnished all foreign Insurance Companies transacting business in Indiana to make report to this office of their gross receipts and losses paid up to and including June 30th, 1873.

TAX STATEMENT BY INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Statement of gross receipts and actual losses paid by the———

SINKING FUND.

The General Assembly in regular session, March, 1873, passed an act entitled "an act to consolidate certain mortgage loans, forfeitures, bills receivable and other debts and accounts due the School Fund into one non-negotiable bond, and making other provisions in relation thereto."

The principle of the "other provisions" referred to in the above title, was the discontinuance of the Sinking Fund as a separate department.

It was provided in said act that the Auditor of State shall pay into the Treasury of the State, four thousand four hundred and forty dollars and forty-two cents, money in hand belonging to the Sinking Fund, which shall be placed to the credit of the General Fund of the State, and that the said Auditor shall also pay into the Treasury the further sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-three dollars and twenty-six cents, which shall be placed to the account of excess of bids, the same to be retained in the Treasury for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto by law, to whom it shall be paid upon the warrant of the Auditor of State upon proper application therefor; and the Auditor of State shall surrender to the Treasurer of State all the bills receivable, mortgage loans and forfeitures enumerated in the act, together with all books and papers therewith connected and necessary to the sale or safety, collection or settlement of said indebtedness or forfeitures.

It was also provided in the act that all the property in the mortgage loans and forfeitures herein enumerated, is hereby directed to be sold, on such terms, in such manner, and at such times, not later than the first day of January, 1874, as the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer of the State shall deem for the public interest, and the money arising therefrom shall be placed to the credit of the General Fund; also, that in further consideration of the execution of the non-negotiable bond prescribed and directed to be issued by the act, the two safes now in the office of the Auditor of State, the property of the Sinking Fund, are hereby transferred to the State, * * * * * and the Governor, Auditor, and Treasurer of State are authorized and required to make such disposition of said safes and other property as shall by them be deemed for the public interest.

The act referred to required the payment of four thousand four hundred and forty dollars and forty-two cents, cash assets of the Fund, and two thousand seven hundred and thirty-three dollars and twenty-six cents, to be placed to the account of excess of bids, making together seven thousand one hundred and seventy-three dollars and sixty-eight cents, to be paid into the General Fund of the Treasury.

But between the time the bill was prepared, and the date of its approval, when it became a law, expenses had been incurred in the management of the Fund, as provided for by law, amounting in all to six hundred and eighty dollars and twelve cents. It was not possible, therefore, to turn over the full amount of cash assets designated in the act; but the amount on hand, after paying the legal expenses of the Fund up to the date of the approval of the law, together with the books and cash items, were turned over to the Treasurer of State, as shown in the receipt given herewith.

“INDIANAPOLIS, April 23, 1873.

“Received of James A. Wildman, Auditor of State, the following papers, bills receivable, and money belonging to the Sinking Fund:

No. 1. Mortgage of James L. Bradley to the School Fund for the payment of four notes of ten thousand dollars each, dated April 30, 1870.

No. 2. Five notes of ten thousand each (each with a credit of twelve hundred dollars endorsed thereon) dated April 30, 1872, signed by S. H. Patterson and J. L. Bradley.

No. 3. One note for $5,300, one for $6,200, one for $5,600, and one for $6,500, all signed by John Fishback, President, and dated May 23, 1871. The said four notes are held as collateral security.

No. 4. Conveyance of Indiana and Dillard Ricketts to James L. Bradley.

No. 5. The sum of six thousand four hundred and ninety-three dollars and fifty-nine cents ($6,493.59.)

JOHN B. GLOVER,
Treasurer of State.

NON-NEGOTIABLE BOND.

The act provided for the issue of a non-negotiable bond, for the sum of one hundred and seventy-six thousand five hundred and seventy-three dollars and forty-two cents, with six per cent interest thereon from date, for the benefit of the Common School Fund, which bond was to absorb the assets of the Sinking Fund, Saline Fund, Bank Tax Fund, Swamp Land Fund, and the Fund from Estates without Heirs, and provided for the payment into the general fund of the Treasury of all the cash assets of the Sinking Fund, as hereinbefore set forth.

The amounts of said funds, as enumerated in the act, are as follows:

Sinking Fund.....	$113,346 63
Saline Fund.....	6,211 45
Bank Tax Fund.....	1,744 94
Swamp Land Fund.....	38,203 82
Estates without Heirs.....	17,066 55
Total.....	$176,573 42

The funds, it was found, after a careful examination after the approval of the act, did not show the same amounts upon the books of the Auditor of State as set forth in the act, there having been some payments from the Sinking Fund, as before named, and the Swamp Land Fund, between the time the bill was prepared and its passage and approval as a law. Six hundred and eighty dollars and twelve cents had been paid out of the Sinking Fund, and warrants had been issued as duly provided by law, upon the Swamp Land Fund, amounting to one hundred and twenty-six dollars and twenty-three cents, making it necessary to write the non-negotiable bond for eight hundred and six dollars and thirty-five cents less than the amount named in the act.

The following were the amounts on hand, and upon the showing as herein set forth, the non-negotiable bond was made May 3, 1873:

Sinking Fund.....	$112,666 54
Saline Fund, cash.....	4,431 45
Saline Fund, loans.....	1,780 00
Bank Tax Fund, cash.....	1,347 94
Bank Tax Fund, loans.....	397 00
Swamp Land Fund.....	38,077 59
Estates with ut Heirs.....	17,066 55
Total	$175,767 07

There were at the time of the transfer of the property of the Sinking Fund, two large safes in that department, one of which is in use in the office of the Attorney General, and the other, a large burglar and fire-proof safe, is in the office of the Auditor of State, and used for the safe keeping of valuable records and papers which have heretofore been kept in exposed situations in wooden cases.

In order to dispose of the forfeited lands of the Sinking Fund, as provided for in the act, a meeting was held at the office of the Treasurer of State on the 21st day of September, 1873, and the Treasurer of State was delegated to dispose of said lands by public sale, and make payment of the proceeds to the credit of the General Fund. As directed at said meeting, the sale of the forfeited lands in Jefferson county is to take place on the 4th day of November; in Pulaski county on the 7th day of November, and of the forfeited lands of other counties at the office of the Treasurer of State, in the city of Indianapolis, on the 11th day of November, 1873.

ORIGIN OF THE SINKING FUND.

Inasmuch as the Sinking Fund, as a separate department, has been closed as herein set forth, it may not be amiss to refer briefly to its creation and management.

The sinking Fund of the State had its origin in a provision of the charter or act creating the State Bank, granted by the General Assembly and approved January 28, 1834.

Sections 113 and 114 of that charter read as follows:

“SEC. 113. There shall be created a fund to be called the Sinking Fund, which shall consist of all unapplied balances of the loan or loans procured on the part of the State for its stock in the State Bank; or, for the purpose of being loaned to stockholders to enable them to meet their stock installments in the bank; the semi-annual payment of interest on the State loans to stockholders, and the sums that shall be received in payment of said loans; the dividends that shall be declared and paid by the State Bank on State stocks, and the dividends accruing on such portions of the stock belonging to other stockholders as shall have been paid for by the loan on the part of the State, and which shall not have been repaid by such stockholders.

“SEC. 114. The principal and interest of said Sinking Fund shall be reserved and set apart for the purpose of liquidating and paying off the loan or loans and the interest thereon, that shall be negotiated on the part of the State for payment of its stock in the State Bank, and the second and third installments on the shares of the other stockholders, in said Bank, and shall not be expended for any other purpose, until said loan or loans, and the interest thereon, and incidental expenses shall have been fully paid, and after the payment of said loan or loans, the interest and expenses, the residue of said fund shall be a permanent fund and be appropriated to the cause of Common School Education in such manner as the General Assembly shall hereafter direct."

The unapplied balances of the loans provided for, and the dividends declared, resulted as contemplated in a permanent fund, which, through many changes in official management and State administrations, has been carefully preserved and guarded until it has grown to be a fund of several millions of dollars, held in trust and controlled by the State for the benefit of the Common Schools.

Section 115 of the same act provided that the President and Directors, on the part of the State, of the State Bank, should constitute a standing Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, and that the cashier of the Bank should be Clerk of the Board.

The Sinking Fund, as thus provided for, was managed by a Board of Commissioners until January, 1867, when, in pursuance of an act of the Legislature, the management of the Fund was turned over to the Auditor of State, who was clothed with all the powers which had been conferred upon the Board, and the rather cumbersome and expensive management by a Board of Commissioners was abolished.

It was also provided that all outstanding loans should be called in and paid in three annual installments, so that the money might be invested in United States or State stocks and bonds, and the means of the Fund reduced to the simplest practicable form and condition.

By the act entitled "An act to consolidate certain bonds and mortgages, etc.," approved March 11, 1873, previously referred to, the act of January 20, 1867, clothing the Auditor of State with the powers heretofore held by the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, was repealed, and the Sinking Fund, as a separate department, ceased to exist. The Fund, however, as provided in the constitution, and by law, remains intact for the benefit of the Common Schools.

TIPPECANOE BATTLE GROUND.

An act was approved December 18, 1872, which authorized and empowered the Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, and Auditor of State to proceed at once to have a permanent enclosure placed around the Tippecanoe Battle Ground, and for this purpose there was appropriated the sum of $24,100.

The Secretary of State was authorized to advertise for proposals for an iron fence, and on the 2d day of June the Board met to receive the bids and plans proposed. The contract was awarded to Thomas Harding, of LaFayette, at $4.50 per lineal foot.

On the 11th of November the fence was formally received by the Board, and the final payments ordered to be made. The entire cost is $17,848.17, leaving of the appropriation on hand $6,251.83.

In Section 10, Article 15, of the Constitution of the State, which took effect in 1851, it is set forth as the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the permanent enclosure of the Tippecanoe Battle Ground, but twenty years elapsed before steps were taken to carry the provision into effect. The historic spot is now permanently enclosed, and the land, which was deeded to the State by General Tipton, one of the heroes of the battle there commemorated, will be preserved and guarded as a sacred heritage.

OBITUARY.

It is meet and proper that honorable mention should be made in this report of Major John D. Evans, ex-Auditor of State, and Mr. T. G. Palmer, late Deputy Auditor of State, who departed this life during the present year.

TRUMBLE G. PALMER.

Mr. Palmer died on the 22d day of April, 1873, after many weeks of painful illness. He was the son of Hon. Nathan B. Palmer, formerly Treasurer of State, who is still living, a venerable and honored citizen of Indianapolis.

Trumble Palmer was born at Madison, Jefferson county, Indiana, January 28, 1828, and at the time of his death was in his forty-sixth year. In the year 1855 he was appointed Deputy Auditor of State by Auditor Hiram E. Talbott, and held the position through succeeding administrations for a period of nearly seventeen years. His thorough knowledge of all the duties and requirements of the office, and his faithful and efficient performance of them, together with his courteous and considerate attention to all with whom he came in contact, made him a valued and esteemed public officer. He will be long and favorably remembered by the many persons who transacted business with this office during the years of his incumbency.

HON. JOHN D. EVANS.

Major Evans died at Noblesville on the 22d day of May, 1873, shortly after his return from the South, where he had gone in hopes of being benefited by the climate.

Major Evans was born in Harrison county, Kentucky, April 21, 1835. In October, 1868, he was elected Auditor of State, and in January, 1869, took possession of the office, succeeding the Hon. Thomas B. McCarty. As a soldier he had served his country well in the field, and came home with honors bravely won. ' In a public position, in an office of grave responsibility, he labored with the same zeal and energy to discharge every duty devolving upon him. The principal features of his administration were the closing up, as nearly as could be done, of the State's foreign indebtedness, and the transactions of the State Board of Equalization.

Major Evans was a thorough gentleman and a courteous, affable officer. In his official relations he maintained the respect and good will of all parties, and bore with him from office the just encomiums bestowed upon a faithful servant.

PROCEEDINGS

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
Indianapolis, Indiana, June 16, 1873.

Agreeably to an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "An act for the assessment of property and for the levy and collection of taxes," approved December 21, 1872, the State Board of Equalization, within and for the State of Indiana, convened at the office of the Auditor of State, at 2½ o'clock P. M.

The following members were present: Thomas A. Hendricks, Governor; W. W. Curry, Secretary of State; James A. Wildman, Auditor of State.

The members of the Board and J. C. Burnett, Deputy Auditor of State, as Secretary, respectively took the oaths prescribed by law, as follows:

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
Indianapolis, June 16, 1873.

We, and each of us, do solemnly swear that we will support the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of Indiana, and that we will faithfully and impartially discharge our duties as members of the State Board of Equalization, to the best of our ability.

(Signed)

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
W. W. CURRY,
JAMES A. WILDMAN.

I solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Indiana, and that I will faithfully perform my duties as Secretary of the State Board of Equalization.

J. C. BURNETT.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
MARION COUNTY, } ss.

Before me, Moses G. McLain, a Notary Public, in and for the county of Marion and State of Indiana, personally appeared the within named Thomas A. Hendricks, W. W. Curry, and James A. Wildman, members of the State Board of Equalization, and J. C. Burnett, Secretary of the State Board of Equalization, and were duly sworn according to law, and subscribed their names herewith.

[SEAL.] Witness my hand and Notarial seal this 16th day of June, A. D. 1873.

(Signed)

MOSES G. McLAIN,
Notary Public.

On motion of Mr. Curry, Governor Hendricks was chosen President of the Board.

The Auditor of State, for the information of the Board, stated that of the ninety-two counties only thirty had reported, or made returns of assessment of property, and that therefore little more could be done at present than to organize and adjourn to another day.

Adjourned till 2 o'clock, Tuesday, June 17, P. M.

JUNE 17, 2 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry and Wildman.

On motion of Mr. Wildman it was ordered that in the absence of the President of the Board, Mr. Curry act as President pro tem.

On motion of Mr. Wildman it was agreed that the abstracts of assessments of the several counties be taken up for consideration next Monday, the 23d instant, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

On motion of Mr. Curry it was ordered,

1. That inasmuch as the abstracts of assessment of the counties are not yet ready for examination, the Board will proceed to the assessment of Railroads, then Telegraphs, then other corporations in the order of section 59 of the assessment law.

2. That the assessment of corporations shall be suspended at the close of any class of corporations as soon as the county abstracts are ready, and such abstracts taken up and disposed of,

Adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

JUNE 18, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry and Wildman.

Lieutenant Governor Leonidas Sexton appeared and took the oath prescribed as a member of the Board, as follows:

"I solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Indiana, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge my duties as a member of the State Board of Equalization to the best of my ability."

(Signed)

LEONIDAS SEXTON.

Clerk Supreme Court.

The Board then took up for further consideration the assessment of the capital stock and tangible property of railroad companies. Gentlemen representing companies were admitted to express their opinions upon the subject under consideration, after which the statements of railroads as made to the Auditor of State were examined, which occupied the time till 5 P. M. The Board then having the same matter under consideration, adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

JUNE 19, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry, Sexton and Wildman.

The Board resumed the consideration of questions and calculations in relation to the assessment of the tangible property and capital stock of railroads.

The entire day was occupied in due examination of persons and the statements of railroads, and making such further calculations and estimates as the Board deem necessary to ascertain the cash value of railroad property.

Adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

JUNE 20, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry and Wildman.

The Board continued its labors, making examinations and investigations, as on previous days.

Adjourned at 4 P. M. to 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

JUNE 21, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry and Wildman.

The morning was occupied in the examination of Mr. Gazley, of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company.

After which the Board adjourned to Monday, June 23, at 2 o'clock P. M.

JUNE 23, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry, Wildman and Sexton.

The Board, as agreed at the meeting on the 17th, took up for consideration the abstracts of assessment of counties. After making some examinations, and finding that eighteen counties have not yet made returns, the matter was laid on the table for the present.

The assessment of railroads was then taken up, and, with the subject under consideration, the Board adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

JUNE 24, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Sexton and Wildman.

The assessment of railroad property was further considered. On motion it was determined that the assessment of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago Railroad (being the line from Indianapolis to Peru be made as follows :

72.87 miles.	Main track, per mile.....	$7,500
	Rolling stock, per mile.....	1,673

Ordered, that the capital stock of the Western Union Telegraph Company be assessed at $800,000 for the State of Indiana, and that said stock, less the tangible property of said company in the State, be apportioned for taxation among the counties of the State as required by Section 292 of the Assessment law.

Ordered by the State Board of Equalization, that the Auditor of State send to the counties from which full returns of corporations have not been received the following circular letter:

INDIANAPOLIS, August 1, 1873.

Auditor..... County:

Sir—As a number of the counties of the State have failed to make reports of corporations as required by Section 59 of the Assessment law, it is ordered by the State Board of Equalization that county auditors be requested to report to the Auditor of State at as early a day as possible, all corporations in their respective counties (excepting railroads, street railroads, plank roads, and turn-pike and bridge companies), as provided for in Sections 59 and 60 of the Assessment law. Auditors who have reported such corporations need not report again unless it has appeared that some corporation was overlooked in the first returns. Inasmuch as some of the counties have reported in full and the State Board has made the assessment of their corporations, it is unjust to them that any corporation subject to assessment should not be taxed as the law requires. To enable counties to make full returns of companies incorporated under the laws of the State, the State Board stands adjourned to the 11th day of August, instant, by which time it is hoped complete reports will be made as ordered. Auditors will therefore use all diligence in procuring the desired information, and making returns to the Auditor of State.

Very respectfully,

(Signed)
J. C. BURNETT,
Secretary.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
President of the Board.

Ordered, that the rolling stock of the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railroad be assessed at $3,000 per mile, instead of $3,300, as heretofore ordered.

Adjourned to Monday, August 11, at 2 P. M.

Present, Messrs. Curry, Wildman and Sexton.

It was ordered, that the LaFayette, Muncie and Bloomington Railroad, in Benton and Tippecanoe counties, making 35.73 miles of main track, and 1.67 of side track, be assessed as follows :

Main track, per mile.....	$6,500
Side track, per mile.....	3,900

The Board having had under consideration the application of the Fort Wayne, Jackson and Saginaw Railroad Company, and of certain citizens of Vermillion county, for a reduction of the assessment of said Railroad Company's property, and of the lands and lots and improvements in said county of Vermillion, and not having determined the same, adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

AUGUST 12, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Curry, (President pro tem) Wildman and Sexton.

It was ordered by the Board, in reference to the application of the Fort Wayne, Jackson and Saginaw Railroad Company, and to the application of citizens of Vermillion county, for a reduction on the assessment of the property of said Railroad Company, and on the lands and lots and improvements in said Vermillion county, that it is impracticable to make such reduction.

And the Board adjourned until Monday, August 18, 1873.

Present, Messrs. Curry, Wildman and Sexton.

The Board considered the assessment of the South Bend Branch of the Michigan Central Railroad, all in St. Joseph county, 5.12 miles in length; and assessed the same at $4,500 per mile.

Also considered the Peninsular Railroad, running through and into Porter, LaPorte and St. Joseph counties, and not being sufficiently advised concerning the same, the Board adjourned until to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

AUG. 19, 1873.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Curry, Wildman, Glover and Sexton.

The Board makes the following assessment of the capital stock of corporations in the State of Indiana, so far as returned to said Board, to wit:

(See table on pages following.)

Ordered by the Board, that the Auditor of State prepare the necessary classified tables and statements, showing the assessments and findings of the Board, and that he certify to County Auditors the amount of capital stock of corporations liable to taxation, as found by the Board.

Also, that he prepare, to be published with the proceedings of the Board, a statement of the defects in the assesment law, and the difficulties the Board has encountered in the performance of its duties.

In the matter of the Peninsular Railroad Company, the Board after due deliberation, have, and do appraise the same at $5,000 per mile. Rolling Stock $250 per mile.

Adjourned to Monday, September 1, 1873.

SEPTEMBER 1, 1873.

State Board of Equalization met.

Present, Messrs, Hendricks, Curry, Wildman and Glover.

Ordered, that the Auditor of State notify County Auditors that it is absolutely necessary that they return the total county assessments of all kinds of railroad property, so that the State Board can ascertain if there is not capital stock which ought to be taxed.

Adjourned to Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SEPTEMBER 5, 1873,

Board met as ordered.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Curry, Wildman and Glover.

Ordered, that the following additional assessments of capital stock be made, upon reports received since the last meeting of the Board :

CLAY COUNTY.

Morris Coal Company, Brazil, Capital Stock.....	$36,000
Clay Coal Company, of Indiana.....	$86,916

Ordered, that the capital stock of the Indianapolis Car Company be assessed at $24,250, instead of $500,000 as heretofore ordered, to correct error made in first assessment of said capital stock, and that the Auditor of Marion county be notified accordingly.

Adjourned to Tuesday, September 9, at 2 P. M.

SEPTEMBER 9, 2 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Hendricks, Wildman and Curry.

Ordered, that the capital stock of the Springfield Building, Loan and Savings Association, of South Whitley, Whitley county, of which a report has been received since last meeting, be assessed at $3,300, and the Auditor of Whitley county be notified of said assessment.

Whereupon, the Board adjourned.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OF

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1873.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS :

SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.

1873.

Doc. J.—T. S. R.—1

OFFICE OF TREASURER OF STATE,
Indianapolis, Nov., 1, 1873.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Governor:

SIR:—In obedience to the requirements of law, I have the honor to transmit, herewith, the following report of the receipts and disbursements of this department for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1873:

Balance in the Treasury November 1, 1872.....	$ 763,356 37
Receipts during the fiscal year.....	3,545,608 15
	$4,308,964 52
Disbursements during fiscal year.....	$4,123,789 05
Balance in Treasury, November 1, 1873.....	$ 185,175 47

Statements in detail of above report, and also a general balance sheet of the ledger of this department will appear in the following pages.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
JOHN B. GLOVER,
Treasurer of State.

REPORT.

STATE DEBT.

The condition of the public debt of the State at the date of this report is as follows:

FOREIGN DEBT.

Five per cent. stock outstanding.....	$ 26,969 99
Two and one-half per cent. stock outstanding.....	4,060 13
Six per cent. War Loan Bonds.....	139,000 00
Seven per cent. Temporary Loan Bonds, due 1876.....	510,000 00
Eight per cent Temporary Loan Bonds, due 1875.....	200,000 00
Internal Improvement Bonds.....	114,000 00
	$ 994,030 12

DOMESTIC DEBT.

Six per cent. non-negotiable bonds due the School Fund	$3,904,783 22
Total debt.....	$4,898,813 34

SALE OF FORFEITED LANDS.

In pursuance of an act of the General Assembly "to consolidate certain mortgage loans, forfeitures, bills receivable and other debts and accounts due the School Fund into one non-negotiable bond, and making other provisions in relation thereto," approved March 11,

1873, the following balances standing to the credit of the several named funds on the books of this department were transferred to and became a part of the General Fund:

Saline Fund.....	$ 4,431 45
Swamp lands.....	38,077 59
Bank Tax Fund.....	1,347 94
Estates without heirs.....	17,066 55
Total.....	$60,923 53

To this amount should be added the remaining assets of the Sinking Fund, amounting to.....	$112,666 54
Saline Fund loans.....	1,780 00
Bank Tax Fund loans.....	397 00

Amounting in the aggregate to one hundred and seventy-five thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seven cents, for which sum a non-negotiable bond was issued on the 3d day of May, payable to the Common School Fund of the State of Indiana.

By virtue of this transfer and consolidation all the books and papers of the Sinking Fund were turned over to this office, and all its assets became the property of the State, and whatever shall be realized therefrom will be passed to the credit of the General Fund. Included in those assets were certain forfeitures of lands, mortgaged to the Sinking Fund and current loans, amounting to twenty-one thousand and twenty-four dollars and forty-eight cents, which were directed in the above recited act to be sold on such terms, in such manner and at such times, not later than January 1, 1874, as the Governor, Treasurer and Auditor of State should deem for the public interest. Accordingly, the officers above named directed that the Treasurer of State should advertise that the forfeited lands situated in Jefferson county would be sold by him at public sale, in the city of Madison, on the 4th day of November, 1873; that the lands in Pulaski county would, in like manner, be sold at Winamac, on the 7th day of November, 1873; and the remaining lands situated in the counties of Brown, Jasper, Marshall, Porter, Knox, St. Joseph and Tippecanoe would be sold at the office of the Treasurer of State, on November 11, 1873; to be sold for one-third cash in hand, one-third in one year and one-third in two years from date, deferred payments to be secured by notes bearing six per cent. interest, with good freehold security.

Advertisements have been duly made in accordance with above instructions, and at the specified times the Treasurer of State will attend to the sales and make due conveyance to purchasers as directed by law.

OLD CLAIMS ON ACCOUNT OF PUBLIC PRINTING.

During the present fiscal year, the sum of nine hundred dollars and twenty-five cents has been paid into the Treasury and credited to the "Public Printing," account.

This amount was collected on notes taken by the late Attorney General Hanna in settlement with A. H. Conner, late State Printer, and placed in the hands of the Treasurer of State.

There are yet remaining unpaid of those notes $13,262.82, not including interest. Two of the notes are overdue, the principal amounting to $1,520, which have been placed in the hands of the Attorney General for collection.

AUDITOR'S AND TREASURER'S OFFICE FUNDS.

I deem it proper to remark that there is included in the amount charged to "Auditor's office," the sum of $2,829.25, which was paid Hon. John C. Shoemaker, late Auditor of State, on account of an appropriation made to him by the Legislature at its last session. And the sum of $1,861.10 is included in the amount charged to "Treasurer's office," which was paid Hon. James B. Ryan, late Treasurer of State, by virtue of a similar appropriation.

STATEMENT,

Showing the receipts and disbursements on account of the several funds for the fiscal year commencing the 1st day of November, 1872, and ending the 31st day of October, 1873.

OF THE

ATTORNEY GENERAL

OF

The State of Indiana

FOR

THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1873.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:
SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.
1874.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, JANUARY 1, 1874.

HIS EXCELLENCY, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of the State of Indiana.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit to your Excellency the following report:

TERM BEGINS—CALUMET DAM.

My official term began on the 26th day of November, 1872. On the 13th day of the same month the Legislature convened in extra session. A large part of my time was occupied in performing duties imposed by resolutions of the Senate and House of Representatives during the continuance of the extra and regular sessions, the two covering a period of four months. Full reports were made to those bodies of my action, except that imposed by a resolution of the Senate passed on the last day of the regular session, requiring Senator Wadge and myself to repair to Springfield, Illinois, and present to the Legislature of that State the importance of some decided action by that body, which would cause the removal of the feeder dam across the Calumet river, at Blue Island, in that State. This dam causes the overflow of about 75,000 acres of land in Lake and Porter counties, in this State, rendering the same valueless. These lands would become tillable and valuable if this obstruction were out of the river, and would be reclaimed by the owners of the same. We accordingly appeared before a committee composed of members of both branches of the Illinois Legislature having the matter in charge, and presented to it the facts and our grievances. A bill was presented providing compensation to Messrs Pfeiffer & Roll, parties owning a mill at Blue Island, and who held a lease from the Commissioners of the Illinois and Michigan canal of the water-power afforded by said dam, for the loss they would sustain by reason of the removal of it, and providing that the dam should be removed. We were assured by leading members of both branches of the Legislature that a bill wholly relieving our people from said nuisance, would be passed. Subsequently, however, I learned that favorable action had not been taken. Consequently the people of the counties above named are still suffering from the nuisance occasioned by the existance of this dam. After the dissolution of the injunction which was in force when I came into office, about seventy feet of the dam were removed, and while the remainder was in progress of removal, Pfeiffer & Roll obtained another injunction. I then learned that they were making preparations to repair it. I at once went to Chicago and filed a bill and obtained an injunction in the name of a Mrs. Fairchild, restraining them from rebuilding the dam. But before this writ was served, partial repairs had already been made, which have prevented its destruction by the spring and summer freshets. In the proceeding now pending the removal of the dam is prayed for. We hope to have a hearing soon, and if successful, will again present the matter to the Legislature of Illinois, which meets the present month.

Prior to the passage of the act of March 10th, 1873, the Attorney General of this State was not required to reside or have an office at the Capital. Consequently, prior to that time, few holding the office of Attorney General have had an office at Indianapolis. No record has ever been kept by my predecessors, so far as I have been able to ascertain, and therefore it was somewhat difficult for me to learn what had been done by them, and the condition of the business of the office.

PENDING SUITS.

State vs. John D. Evans,—State vs. Thomas B. McCarty,—
State vs. Nathan Kimbal.

I found several suits pending, which had been instituted by my predecessor; some in the courts of Marion county and some in the Supreme Court of the State. The case of The State of Indiana, on the relation of the Attorney General, against John D. Evans (and the sureties on his bond) as Auditor of State, was pending in the Superior Court of Marion county. Evans died shortly after I came into office, as also one of the sureties on his bond. Their representatives were made parties, and the case will come on for trial during the January term. There was also a suit against Thomas B. McCarty (and his sureties), former Auditor of State, in which a ruling had been made in the Superior Court in favor of the State. These suits were brought to recover interest alleged to have been received by Evans and McCarty on the funds of the State in their hands, respectively, while acting as Auditor of State and ex-officio Commissioner of the Sinking Fund. The effect of the ruling of the Superior court was, that they were liable for the interest received by them on said funds. There has been no trial on the merits. The ruling was on a demurrer to the complaint. The case against McCarty is pending in the Supreme Court on appeal from the Superior Court. If the decision of the Superior court be sustained, then it will be remanded for trial on the merits. There was also a case pending in the Supreme Court that had been brought by my predecessor against Gen. Nathan Kimball, former Treasurer of State, for interest claimed to have been received by him on money in his hands while acting as such Treasurer. In this case there had been a ruling by the Superior Court adverse to the State, and an appeal taken to the Supreme Court. These cases are still pending.

TERRE HAUTE RAILROAD CASE.

There was likewise a case pending in the Putnam Circuit Court, commonly known as the Terre Haute Railroad Case. The title of the case is, The State of Indiana on the relation of John C. Robinson, Prosecuting Attorney, vs. The Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company, in the nature of a quo warranto. The information charges several violations of the company's charter. At the last regular session of the Legislature a joint resolution was passed, making it the duty of the Attorney General to take charge of, conduct, manage, prosecute, discontinue or dismiss, and otherwise have charge of any and all suits and proceedings against railroad companies and other corporations in the nature of a quo warranto, and to adjust, settle and compromise any claim the State may have against such companies, etc., with this proviso: "That any suit or suits now pending, or which may hereafter be brought, shall be dismissed, adjusted, settled or compromised whenever the same shall be directed in writing by the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, and upon such terms and conditions as they shall direct." Shortly after the passage of this resolution an application was made to your Excellency and the Lieutenant-Governor to direct the dismissal of this proceeding, which application was not sanctioned by a dismissal, and I was permitted to prosecute the same. Mr. Robinson, who was the Prosecuting Attorney at the time this proceeding was instituted in the Putnam Circuit Court, had employed Judge Solomon Claypool and Hon. W. R. Harrison, two able attorneys, to assist him in the prosecution of said cause, and who had been engaged with him in its prosecution up to the time said resolution was passed. Since that time they and Mr. Robinson have acted with me in all the steps that have been subsequently taken in the case. The company changed the venue from Putnam to Owen county; then from Judge Franklin. Judge Malott was then called to try the case. At an adjourned term of the Owen Circuit Court held in May last, on demurrers filed to each separate cause of forfeiture in the complaint, Judge Malott sustained the demurrer to the 1st, 2d and 3d, and overruled it as to the 4th, 5th and 6th. Court convenes again in Owen county on the first Monday in March, when we hope to have this case tried. Judge Hester, of the ninth judicial circuit, has been called to try the case. This is a very important case to the State, in my opinion, for the reason that I believe a large amount of money is due from this company to the school fund. The State claims that her right grows out of the 23d section of the charter of the company, passed by the Legislature in 1847.

WATER WORKS CASE.

I also found a suit pending in the Hendricks Circuit Court, in which the State was plaintiff and the Indiana Central Canal Company was defendant, to recover a parcel of ground 809 by 125 feet in the city of Indianapolis, adjoining the Military Reservation. This property is said to be worth one hundred thousand dollars. This case was tried at the April term of that court. The trial lasted some three weeks. A verdict was rendered in favor of the State and against the Canal Company, and judgment has since been rendered on the verdict.

MINOR CASES.

A complaint was filed and judgment obtained against the Clerk of Orange county for $1,468.75, being for moneys unclaimed in estates and guardianship and unclaimed witness fees due the State.

A claim was filed against an ex-clerk of Washington county, for $2,000 due the State. The statute of limitations was pleaded. The court held that the statute does not begin to run as against the State until a demand is made. This cause was continued to adjust amount, which could be done without further litigation.

I filed a claim against the estate of an ex-clerk of Johnson county.

The questions of law arising in the case were argued and submitted at the November term of the Johnson Circuit Court. The Judge has the matter under advisement. These suits against clerks and ex-clerks are all for moneys due the State and Counties on account of court docket fees, unclaimed witness fees, fines, forfeitures, etc., which were retained by said officers while acting in their official capacities.

SINKING FUND, AND STATE VS. JOHN C. SHOEMAKER, ETC.

In 1871 the Legislature passed an act requiring the sinking fund in the hands of the Auditor of State, to be distributed to the several counties of the State, to be loaned by the auditors and treasurers of the counties respectively. A suit was instituted in Marion county to enjoin the distribution of this fund. The Auditor of State, Hon. John C. Shoemaker, was made a defendant. An injunction was granted by the court. The cause was appealed to the Supreme Court and the judgment of the court below reversed. The effect of the decision was to sustain the act of the Legislature requiring the money to be distributed. The effect of this litigation was to retain $636,207.75 in the hands of the Auditor, from February 24, 1871, the greater part of which was not distributed until April, 1872, and the balance until October, 1872. I was informed that the Auditor of State had this money deposited in banks, upon which interest was paid or agreed to be paid him. And knowing that the school fund had sustained a loss to the amount of eight per cent. interest, which would have accrued had the sum been distributed and loaned, two suits were instituted, one upon the injunction bond and one against Mr. Shoemaker, individually, to recover the interest received. These cases are set for hearing at the January term, 1874, of the Marion Circuit Court.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION—1869.

The Supreme Court in the case of the State, &c. v. McGinnis, &c., 34 Ind., 452, held that the action of the State Board of Equalization was illegal. They had increased the value of real estate in some counties and decreased it in others. Since that decision the State has been compelled to refund to the counties the State tax collected and paid into her treasury, prior to the rendition of that decision, amounting to about $175,000. There is now due the State from counties in which the assessed value of real estate was decreased, the sum of $127,999.03, made up as follows :

From Allen County.....	$	79	20
“ Elkhart Co.....		6,004	86
“ Floyd Co.....		628	12
“ Fountain Co.....		5,049	52
“ Johnson Co.....		18,183	36
“ Knox Co.....		676	63
“ Lagrange Co.		3,442	24
“ Ohio Co.....		49	11
“ Pike Co.....		1,251	20
“ Posey Co.....		4,491	28
“ Starke Co.....		1,259	22
“ Steuben Co.....		476	84
From Vanderburgh Co.....		82,756	00
“ Wells Co.....		9	57
“ White Co.....		1,407	40
“ Whitley Co.....		2,234	48

		$127,999	03

I attempted to adjust this matter with some of the counties owing the largest amounts, but found the county authorities unwilling to do so. The amount due from Vanderburgh county being largest of all, and the County Board unwilling to pay unless compelled to do so, suit was instituted in the Superior Court of Marion county for the amount claimed to be due the State. A demurrer was filed to the complaint, two causes being assigned: one as to the right of the State to recover, and the other as to the jurisdiction of the Court in this county over the defendant. The questions raised by the demurrer were argued at the November term of the Superior Court, Judge Blair holding that the State has a right to recover of the defendant, but sustaining the demurrer as to the jurisdiction of said court. An appeal has been taken to the General Term of the Superior Court. It will be seen by examination of the reports of the Board of Equalization, that if the amount claimed cannot be collected, those counties in which the reductions were made, will be released from their just proportion of the burthens of State taxation. Other amounts are also due from railroad companies, which, when added to the amounts due by the counties, will approximate the amount refunded by the State. Suits are likewise pending in Bartholomew, Scott, Johnson, and Clark counties to enjoin the collection of taxes assessed against the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company. An effort is now making to collect this tax, and the company has brought suit to enjoin the proper officers from collecting it. A suit will be brought in Marion county against this company to recover the amount of State tax due, which will test the question and save litigation in the several counties through which this road passes, and the legal questions arising as to this and other railroad companies can be fully tested in this one case.

OTHER SUITS.

Other suits have been brought in different parts of the State, but as they embrace the same questions as those mentioned, are not deemed of sufficient public interest to mention in this report. When finally determined, proper report of each will be made.

CLERK'S REPORTS OF FINES AND FORFEITURES.

The act of March 10th, 1873, referred to in the first part of this report, further defining the duties of the Attorney General, etc, requires the clerks of the Circuit Courts of the several counties to make report to the Attorney General within ten days after the expiration of each term of Court, of all fines assessed and forfeiture of recognizances entered at such term. A majority of the clerks in the State have been prompt in making these reports, while others have been somewhat negligent, and a few have failed to report at all. I made report by counties to the Secretary of State of these statistics on the first day of November, as required by law; and subsequently on the 7th day of the same month, made a supplemental report to that officer, giving him all the information received up to that date. Other reports have since been received for the November term, 1873, of the courts. These reports show an aggregate amount of fines assessed at the various terms of the Circuit Courts in the State, since the taking effect of the act referred to, of $27,072.36 fines assessed, and $32,480 forfeited recognizances entered.

ACT OF MARCH 10, 1873—DOCKET FEES, FINES, UNCLAIMED WITNESS FEES, ETC.

Another feature of the act of March 10, 1873, requires attention. By this statute is made the duty of the Attorney General "to ascertain from time to time the amounts paid to public officers of the State, county officers, or other persons, for unclaimed witness fees, court docket fees, license, money unclaimed in estates or guardianships, fines and forfeitures, or moneys that escheat to the State for want of heirs, or from any other source where the same is by any law required to be paid to the State, or any officer in trust for the State," it is made the duty of the Attorney General to recover the same for the State. Although the collections from such sources have thus far hardly met my expectations, partly owing to the failure to get the work of investigation thoroughly done in some of the counties, and partly to the fact that many officers and ex-officers have, since the passage of said act, paid over to the county treasuries large sums of money heretofore withheld by them, yet the State and county treasuries will have been augmented, I think, when the work is finally completed, by the addition of near $75,000. The total collections made by me up to and including December 31, 1873, is $43,710.94, as follows:

On account of fines	$12,019 03
On account of circuit court docket fees.....	9,855 09
On account of common pleas court docket fees.....	3,285 25
On account of moneys unclaimed in estates.....	6,975 54
On account of unclaimed witness fees.....	10,964 09
On account of jury fees:.....	651 33
	$43,710 94

Besides the above, near $4,000, being in notes and county orders, have been collected, of which no itemised report has yet been made to me, the work not having been completed in the counties in which the said amount was collected. Owing to the closeness of money matters, collections for the past three months have been very small.

UNCLAIMED BALANCES IN ESTATES.

It has never been the practice heretofore to make any report of the names of decedents, on account of whose estates moneys have been paid into, and are now in, the State Treasury, due and owing to unknown heirs. I have therefore thought proper to give the names of all decedents on account of whose estates moneys have been by me collected and paid into the State Treasury, with the amounts. In many instances the amounts are very small, and the total amount collected on this account is comparatively small; but, nevertheless, it seems but just that the unknown heirs should be furnished with some means of ascertaining that there is money due them, to recover which it is only necessary for them to prove their heirship in some court of record. The following is the list, the names of the counties in which collected being first given:

Brown county—James P. Coonfield, $5.60 ; George Burkhardt, $20.00.

Cass county—Lambert Bonean, $33.19 ; Jonathan W. Boughton, $29.00 ; William T. Shaffer, $43.00 ; John W. Coin, $7.00 ; Chauncey Ward, $3.95 ; Philip Keever, $82.60 ; Elam Jones, 91c. ; Joseph Henderson, $1.09 ; Ruth Corbit, $9.30 ; Benjamin Autrine, 85c. ; Charles Townsend, $70.09 ; Henry Miller, $34.83 ; Richard Brown, $4.62 ; Thomas Vernon, $2.82 ; Minor Saxon, $9.76 ; George Hamilton, $5.00.

Clay county—David Mosteller, $31.25 ; Henry Crist, $7.12 ; Matthew Jenkin, $91.32 ; V. T. Stewart, $9.10.

Fayette county—Daniel Murphy, $62.34.

Floyd county—Julius Teschemaker, $22.03 ; Michael Schwartz, $12.46 ; for Jacob Tucker (a minor), $6.23 ; Theresa Pape, $8.22 ; Nancy Brown, $2.70 ; William Rossman, $31.72 ; David Edward, $45.80 ; Christian Munns, $21.20 ; Elizabeth Harmond, $5.47 ; Lawson Very, $10.12 ; William Budd, $8.55 ; Isaac N. Akin, $21 65 ; James T. Duncan, $6 90 ; for Madaline Heiring (a minor), $4.30 ; V. Grostephan, $167.00 ; Lewis Hollis, $32.86 ; D. P. Porter, $165.45 ; Mary Eddleman, $3.75.

CLAY COUNTY LAND.

The State owned one undivided third of forty acres of land in Clay county, near the town of Brazil, which had been conveyed to the State by John P. Dunn in payment of a claim held by the State against him. The other two thirds was owned by Messrs. Root and Knight. They desired to subdivide the land as an addition to the town of Brazil, and after advising with your Excellency, it was thought advisable to have the same sold. A petition was filed praying for partition. The court found that it could not be divided, and entered a decree directing the sale of same at public auction. It was sold for $3,333.33 the proceeds collected by me and paid into the State Treasury.

The money collected by me from time to time was at once deposited in bank, and so remained until the times arrived to report the same—sometimes for a few days, and at times small amounts would thus remain for weeks. On these deposits I have been allowed interest, and the sum of $55.18 thus accrued I will account for in my report to the Treasurer of State at the end of the present month.

INDIANA WAR CLAIMS.

Since preparing the above, in company with your Excellency and the other officers of State, I visited Washington for the purpose of looking after the interests of the State in reference to the claims due the State from the United States. There is a balance of the suspended war claim amounting to something near two hundred thousand dollars. While in Washington I made such examinations and inquiries into the claim, as that I am now prepared to proceed in the prosecution of the same, and am satisfied that quite a large sum can be collected without further legislation by Congress, and will therefore proceed at once to make the additional proofs and explanations required. There is also a claim filed with our war claim for interest and discount on our war loan bonds amounting to $600,000. This claim cannot be paid without legislation by Congress. An effort will be made to procure the necessary legislation. A bill was presented at the last session of Congress making provision for its payment, but was not acted upon. The claim seems just and should be paid.

TWO PER CENT. FUND.

The State has been pressing a claim for several years known as "The two per cent. fund." This is surely a just claim and I have no doubt will ultimately be recognized by Congress and paid. In the present condition of the Treasury there may be some question as to the propriety of pressing it at the present session of Congress.

I will keep your excellency advised of any and all steps proposed to be taken in reference to all claims against the United States, and advise with you from time to time as to their prosecution.

Respectfully submitted.

J. C. DENNY,
Attorney General of Indiana.

OPINIONS.

At the request of your Excellency, I append hereto such of my opinions to the State and county officers as effect the public at large:

NOTARIES PUBLIC—REPRESENTATIVES. A Notary Public accepting the office of Representative in the General Assembly, thereby vacates the former.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, APRIL 7, 1873.

His Excellency, HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana :

DEAR SIR—Yours, enclosing letter from Hon. L. Dow Glazebrook, to hand. You request me to give my opinion as to whether he having been elected, qualified, and acted as a representative in the late General Assembly, he thereby vacated the office of Notary Public, and especially as to whether he can hold the office of Notary Public and Representative at the same time.

Sec. IX., Article 2 of our Constitution, provides that no person shall hold more than one lucrative office at the same time. Our Supreme Court in the case of Dajley vs. The State ex. rel. Huffer, 8th Blackford, p. 329, say "that the acceptance by an incumbent of one lucrative office, of another such, vacates the former office."

Is the office of Notary Public a lucrative office? Blackstone defines an office "to be a right to exercise a public or private employment, and take the fees, and emoluments thereunto belonging." Under this definition, it appears clear that the right to exercise the duties, and take the fees of a Notary Public is an office. There can be no question, tested by the same rule that a Representative in the General Assembly is an office. So in my opinion they are both lucrative offices. Pay, supposed to be an adequate compensation, is affixed to the performance of their duties. Therefore I conclude that when the Dr. accepted the position of Representative, he vacated the office of Notary Public, and his right to exercise the duties of Notary Public, will not revive on the expiration of his term as Representative, but before he can do so, he must be re-appointed and qualified.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—When a Notary Public removes from the County in which he resided at the time he was appointed, he thereby vacates his office.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL, INDIANA,
INDIANAPOLIS, April 8, 1873.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana :

DEAR SIR :—In yours of the 8th instant, you propound the following question : “Can a Notary Public, appointed and qualified while a resident of one county, remove to and continue to act as such in another under the same commission ?”

Article 6, Sec. 6, of the Constitution provides that “All county, township and town officers shall reside within their respective counties, townships and towns ; and shall keep their respective offices at such place therein, and perform such duties, as may be directed by law.”

Sec. I. of the “ Act providing for the appointment of Notaries Public and defining their duties,” I G. & H., p. 445, the following language is used : “ Notaries Public shall be appointed and commissioned by the Governor, upon a certificate of qualifications and moral character from the Judge of the Circuit or Common Pleas Court of their counties respectively, and shall, before they enter upon their duties as such, take an oath of office before the Clerk of the Circuit Court of their counties respectively, and file in his office, to be approved by said Clerk, an official bond,” &c.

It would seem from the constitutional provision and the section of the statute above referred to, that it was intended by the Convention and the Legislature that the officer should reside in the county when appointed; and it surely cannot be presumed that he could, as soon as he was appointed in one county, remove to another county and there exercise the functions of his office without being again appointed. My opinion, therefore, is that, when a Notary removes from the county in which he resided at the time he was appointed, he thereby vacates the office.

REPRIEVES.—The Governor has the power to grant reprieves in all cases.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, July 7th, 1873.

His Excellency THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—In yours of the 5th inst., you state: “I respectfully request your opinion in writing upon the following question:

“Is the Governor of Indiana authorized by the Constitution to suspend the execution of sentence upon a party convicted of the crime of seduction and sentenced to confinement in the State Prison, until the case can be examined by the Supreme Court upon appeal?”

I have examined the question you present with as much care as the circumstances would admit of. Section 17, Article 5 of the Constitution provides that “He (the Governor) shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses, except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law.”

The Supreme Court, in 9 Ind. p. 20, say: “The power of the Governor, under the present Constitution, to remit fines and forfeitures is not absolute. It can only be exercised pursuant to legislative direction.” But it has never been understood that it was necessary to the exercise of the power to grant reprieves and pardons that legislation was necessary before the power could be exercised. No provision has ever been made by the Legislature on this subject, and the power of granting pardons has been continually exercised by all the Governors of the State from the time of the formation of the Constitution to the present time. The Legislature in 1852, shortly after the adoption of the Constitution, provided a mode of proceeding as to remissions of fines, &c., by the Governor.

For the above reasons I conclude that if the Governor has the power to grant pardons without any regulation on the subject by the Legislature, by the same provision of the Constitution the power to stay the execution of a sentence, or in other words, grant reprieves, is conferred; and in a proper case may and should be exercised.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS—A temporary absence on business is not such an absence as is contemplated by the 13th section of the Criminal Code.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21, 1873.

Hon. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—In your communication of the 18th inst., addressed to me, you say: “At the recent term of the Hancock Circuit Court, John ‘C. Atkinson was convicted of the crime of perjury and sentenced ‘to thirty days’ imprisonment in the county jail. An application is ‘pending before me, for his pardon. The indictment was found on ‘the 20th day of September, 1871, and assigns perjury upon false ‘testimony given in that court on the 26th day of August, 1869, ‘and upon the trial the State proved the date as alleged. To take ‘the case from under the statute of limitations, the indictment ‘alleges that, after the commission of the crime, the defendant was, ‘at several different times, absent from this State, in all amounting ‘to five months. To support this averment, it was proven upon the ‘trial that, at one time, he was at Cincinnati, Ohio, for as much as ‘fifteen days, and, at another time, from two to four weeks, but that ‘he was at home in the meantime; so that no one absence was more ‘than from eight to fifteen days. In the months of February and ‘March, 1870, he was in the State of Illinois two or three times; in ‘all, three or four weeks; and in 1871 he was in that State from two ‘to two and one-half months, returning home once or twice during ‘that time. During the entire two years from the 26th of August, 1869, his home was in Hancock county, in this State, and his family remained there. His trips to Cincinnati and Illinois were exclusively upon temporary business. At Cincinnati, he was engaged in the sale of hogs bought by himself and others in this State and shipped to that city for sale. In Illinois, he was engaged in purchasing and collecting cattle, to be brought to this State to be fed and pastured here for market.

“I will be obliged if you will give me your opinion, whether such an absence from the State is shown as to take this case out of the statute of limitations under section 13, page 393, 2 Gavin & Hord.”

In reply thereto I have the honor to state that section 13 of the criminal code provides: “If any person who has committed an offense, is absent from the State, or so conceals himself that process cannot be served upon him, or conceals the fact of the crime, the time of absence or concealment is not to be included in computing the period of limitation.” In my opinion the facts proven as to the absence of the defendant were not sufficient to take the case out of the statute. His absence was only temporary, and on business. He did not flee from the State to avoid service of process upon him.

It seems clear to my mind that a temporary absence on business is not such an absence as is contemplated by this statute. Was the State prevented from instituting the prosecution because the defendant went to Illinois to purchase hogs or cattle, or because he went to Cincinnati on business? It seems to me, to construe the statute thus would be unreasonable, and would lead to absurdity. It could not have been the intention of the Legislature to provide that a mere temporary absence for a few days, for business purposes alone, would take a case like this out of the statute of limitations. I am, therefore, of opinion that the facts proved were not sufficient to prevent the statute of limitations being relied on as a bar to the prosecution.

STATE LIBRARY.—State officers may take the books from the State Library to their several offices in the State buildings, when their use is required in the discharge of their official duties.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 15, 1873.

Hon. THOS. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of yours of the 13th inst., wherein you state: "I have the honor to request your opinion in writing, whether or not, under the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly, entitled, "An Act regulating the duties of the State Librarian, and providing penalties for a violation of the provisions of this Act," approved March 9, 1863, as modified and affected by the Act of March 9, 1867, entitled, "An Act providing for the erection of a suitable building for the use of the Supreme Court and State officers," etc., approved March 9, 1867, * * * the offices of the Governor and other officers of State may properly be taken and held by the State Librarian, to be included in the term "Capitol buildings," and thus permit the books in the State Library rooms to be used by the several officers mentioned in the former Act, "when required" by them "in the discharge of their official duties."

In answer thereto I have to state that the first section of the Act of March 9, 1863, (3 G. & H., 325,) authorizes and requires the State Librarian to allow the Governor and other State officers, Judges of the Supreme Court, members of the General Assembly, and Judges of the United States Court, when required in the discharge of their official duties, the use of the books, &c., in the State Library. By this same section it is also provided that "in no case shall any such book, &c., be taken outside of the capitol buildings."

At the time this act was passed the State officers (except the Governor,) occupied rooms outside of the capitol building proper, near where they are now kept in the new State building. This new building was erected under the Act of March 9, 1867, (3 G. & H., 507.) All the State offices are now in the new building. It is now one of the "Capitol buildings." The Legislature could not have intended, when they authorized the erection of the new building, to prevent the Judges of the Supreme Court and the State officers from using the books in the State Library. To prevent them from taking the books, &c., from the old capitol building would practically have this effect.

In my opinion, the officers named in the Act of March 9, 1863, may properly take books, &c., belonging to the State Library to their offices, when required to use them in discharge of their official duties.

THE WORDS "one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three," as used in the 1st, 3d, 4th, 12th, 14th and 15th sections of the act of March 10, 1873, making general appropriations, and similar acts of former years, mean a Calendar year, and the year under this, and similar appropriation acts begins on the first of January of each year. Money appropriated by an act providing that "— dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary," appropriates the money, and if there is a balance of the fund at the end of the year remaining unexpended, it laps over into the following year's appropriation. In appropriations all accounts should be kept as an entirety; all appropriations credited and all drafts charged. There should be no rests in the account.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, JANUARY 8, 1874.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

SIR:—In yours of the 26th ult., you ask :

" 1. What is the meaning of the words, 'for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three' and 'for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four,' as used in Secs. 1, 3, 4, 12, 14 and 15 of 'an act making general appropriations for the years one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three and one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four,' approved March 10th, 1873, and of similar language in the appropriation, Acts of 1865, 1867 and 1869. Is the year thus named the calendar year? If not, when does the year commence?"

"2. Do unexpired balances of the 'Governor's Office Fund' and of the 'Civil Contingent Fund of the Governor,' accrue and stand to the credit of the Governor, subject to his drafts for office and incidental expenses in transacting the public business, as limited in the acts making the several appropriations? ”

“3. The annual reports of the Auditor of State, and the monthly statements of the Auditor and Treasurer of State, show a total disbursement on account of the construction of the Female Prison, up to December 31, 1872, inclusive, of $51,686 91. This was an excess and overdraft of $1,686 91, upon the appropriation made by section 34 of the Act establishing the Institution; approved May 13, 1869. By the first section of the supplemental act approved February 3, 1873, as explained by the joint resolution approved February 6, 1873, the further sum of $50,000 was appropriated and placed to the credit of the building fund. An accrued indebtedness of $19,376 23, evidenced by certificates of the Board of Managers, was immediately paid out of that appropriation. Was the overdraft of $1,686 91 also chargeable to said last appropriation? That is to say, is the account to be kept by the Auditor with that fund (and others like it) an entirety, to which all appropriations are to be credited and all drafts charged, or are there rests in the account? If so, when do such rests occur?”

The 1st section of the act of June 18, 1852, (2 G. and H., 337,) provides that “the construction of all statutes of this State shall be by the following rules, unless such construction be plainly repugnant to the intention of the Legislature, or of the context of the same statute.” And by the 5th clause (or rule) of this section it is provided that ‘the word “year” shall mean a calendar year, unless otherwise expressed.’ This act fixes a rule of construction of the statutes of this State. Therefore, I conclude that the words “for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three” and “for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four,” as used in the statute referred to in your letter, mean a calendar year; and that therefore the year under these appropriation Acts begins on the 1st day of January of each year.

The application of this rule may be the cause of much inconvenience; but inasmuch as it is provided by the statute making the rule that the word “year” shall mean a calendar year, unless otherwise expressed, I feel compelled to so construe it.

As to the unexpended balances of the “Governor’s Office Fund” and the “Civil Contingent Fund of the Governor,” accrued and standing to the credit of the Governor, subject to his draft for incidental expenses in transacting the public business as limited in the Acts making the several appropriations, my opinion is, that, although each of the acts appropriating money for the purposes above stated provide that “— dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, etc., be, and the same is hereby appropriated,” yet, it is in fact an appropriation of the amount named in the act. When an appropriation is made for a continuous service, or for an object that is continuous, and there is a balance of the fund at the end of the year remaining unexpended, it laps over into the following year’s appropriation. So, if an appropriation be made for a given year, and at the end of the year, it proves to be in excess of the necessary expenditure of that year, it is applicable to the same continuous objects during a subsequent year. If, therefore, in a particular year, the appropriation for a given service prove deficient, a balance remaining of the appropriation for the same service, made for a previous year, may be drawn upon to fill up the deficit.

In this State we have no statute providing that any balance of an appropriation, unexpended at the close of the year, shall go into the general or surplus fund.

The rule as to appropriations seems to have been understood by Congress as above stated; and to provide against such contingency, in 1795, 1820 and 1852, acts were passed, providing that all balances remaining unexpended for two years after the close of the year for which such appropriations were made, shall be carried into the “Surplus Fund,” except for a purpose in respect to which a longer duration is specially designed by law; and in 1870 an Act was passed providing that all such balances should go into the general fund at the expiration of one year.

The appropriations made for the years 1873 and 1874 for the Governor’s Contingent Fund are one thousand dollars for each year. From 1865 to 1873, inclusive, the total amount appropriated is $25,000. The amount drawn is $19,286 88, leaving a balance not drawn of $5,713 12.

The Governor’s Office Fund, for the same years aggregate $44,000. Amount drawn $40,575 89; leaving a balance not drawn of $3,424 11.

I am informed by Hon. Asbury Steele, an eminent lawyer, and who was the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate at the late Special Session of the Legislature, and Chairman of the Judiciary Committee at the regular session, that the question as to the appropriation for the Civil Contingent Fund of the Governor, was discussed by the members of said Finance Committee; that they found by examining the condition of the fund that had before been appropriated for said purpose, that a considerable balance remained of said fund which had not been drawn, and which in their opinion could legally be drawn upon by the Governor; and for this reason they appropriated only one thousand dollars for each of the years 1873 and 1874; which, when added to the balances remaining of former appropriations, would be sufficient. The above amount of $5,713 12, may, in my opinion, be drawn upon by the Governor for said purposes.

An appropriation is the setting apart a sum of money for a given purpose, and while each of these acts provide that — dollars are appropriated for the year, they also provide that the same are appropriated for a certain specified service. The Legislature could not have supposed that $1,000 a year would be sufficient for the Governor's Contingent Fund.

I therefore conclude that the Legislature intended that the balances remaining of former appropriations could and should be drawn upon to pay the Contingent expenses of the Executive. Also, for the necessary expenses of the Executive Department. The balances remaining of former appropriations should be first drawn before drawing upon the appropriations for the year for which they are made. See opinion of Att'y Gen'l Cushing, 7 Vol., opinions Att'y Gen'l U. S., pp. 1 and 14.

As to the 3d question propounded, my opinion is, that the appropriations for 1869 and 1873 to the Female Prison, should be added together, and that not more than the $100,000 can be drawn; and that the amount drawn prior to the appropriation of 1873, should be deducted from the amount appropriated for that year. The account should be kept as an entirety. All appropriations are to be credited and all drafts charged. There should be no rests in the account.

THE SUPPLEMENTAL Act of March 8th, 1873, authorizes the collection of State and County taxes in two installments, and requires penalty to be added if the first installment be not paid on or before the 15th of April—this penalty to be added by County Treasurer. On failure to pay the second installment, the penalty of ten per cent. attaches as fully as on failure to pay the first. It is the duty of County Treasurers to make two settlements with the Treasurer of State in each year: one on or before the 1st day of January—one on or before the 15th day of May. The Auditor of State may require other settlements.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, April 9, 1873.

Hon. JAMES A. WILDMAN,

Auditor of State:

DEAR SIR:—The questions presented in the letter addressed to you by the Auditor of Bartholomew County, and which was referred to me for my opinion, are as follows:

1. Does the new assessment law (Act of December 21, 1872,) since the changes made by the Supplemental and Amendatory Act of March 8, 1873, authorize the collection of the State and County tax in two installments?

2. Does the law provide that any penalty be attached to the second installment, to wit: the installment to be paid in November, if it be not paid on or before the 15th of November?

3. Does the law now in force require County Treasurers to make settlement and pay over to the Treasurer of State any tax collected by him after April settlement, other than the taxes which are delinquent on the third Monday in April?

4. Does the law require the County Auditor to add to the next year's duplicate any unpaid tax on the second installment, to wit: that which should be paid on or before the 15th day of November?

I will answer the questions in the order they are presented in the letter:

The Supplemental and Amendatory Act of March 8, 1873, does require and authorize the collection of the State and County tax in two installments. Sec. 1 of said act provides that persons or tax-payers may pay the full amount of tax charged to them on or before the third Monday in April, or may at his option pay one-half thereof on or before the third Monday in April, and the remaining half on or before the 15th day of November following. It further provides that, in all cases where as much as one-half of the amount of tax charged against a tax-payer shall not be paid on or before the third Monday in April, the whole amount charged shall become due and be returned delinquent, and collected as provided by law. The 155th section of the act of December 21st, 1872, provides that, in case any person shall refuse or neglect to pay the tax imposed on him, the County Treasurer shall, after the third Monday in April, levy the same, together with ten per cent. costs, etc. The Supplemental Act of March 8, 1873, defers this action by the County Treasurer until after the 15th day of November, provided one-half be paid on or before the third Monday in April.

To the second question proposed, my opinion is that the penalty does attach, in case of failure to pay the second installment, as fully and completely as it does in case of failure to pay the first. The Supplemental and Amendatory Act does not attempt to amend the whole revenue law, but only a part of it; therefore, the act of December 21st remains in force, except in so far as the same may be changed by the Supplemental Act. Section 172 of the act provides: "That there shall be a penalty of ten per cent. upon the amount of taxes returned delinquent, which the person or property assessed shall be liable to pay, together with interest upon the whole amount until paid."

To the third question my opinion is, that it is the duty of the County Treasurer to make two settlements in each year—one on the 1st day of January, and one on the 15th day of May. Sec. 160 of the act of December 21st, 1872, provides that each County Treasurer shall, on or before the first day of January in each year, pay over to the State Treasurer, all moneys found due for State, revenue, school tax, and all other State purposes, according to the certificate of settlement with the Auditor of his county, etc. And Sec. 181 provides that County Treasurers shall pay over to the State Treasurer all such money as is due to the State on or before the 15th day of May in each year. Sec. 166 provides that the County Treasurer shall proceed to collect the said taxes, damages and fees, and when the same is collected, shall pay the same into the State Treasury. These three sections provide for two settlements, and fix the time each shall be made; and sec. 166 provides for the payment of the delinquent tax collected, but does not fix the time of payment; so that, if the amount of tax collected should be paid at the time of settlement, or the Auditor of State may direct the payment of the same at any other time, if an amount sufficient to justify such settlement be collected between the January and May settlement.

To the fourth question my answer is, that the law now in force does require the County Auditor to add to the current year's duplicate any unpaid tax on the second installment; that is, the installment which falls due on the 15th day of November. If there was no provision in the act of December 21, 1872, on the subject, the act of 1852, with the amendments thereto made since, would be in force; because, if there is no provision in the new law on the subject, there would be no act in conflict with said acts—and the new law only repeals such laws as conflict with it; and, therefore, the old law would be in force. But Sec. 261 provides that, if the tax on any property liable to taxation is prevented from being collected for any year or years by reason of any erroneous proceeding, or other cause, the amount of such tax which such property should have paid shall be added to the tax on such property for the next succeeding year. And Sec. 138 makes it the duty of the County Auditor, in making out the duplicate, to "set down in a separate column the amount of taxes on all property returned delinquent for any preceding year and remaining unpaid, and a penalty of ten per cent. on the same, and shall carry out the aggregate amount into a column of totals."

It does seem to me that, taking all these provisions together, the law is clear and explicit on all the propositions made in said Auditor's letter. The law is long and much more prolix than is necessary, and is consequently more difficult of comprehension than it would have been if it had been more skillfully prepared. It was passed, at the close of the Special Session, in great haste, and consequently could have been revised and abridged, as it might and no doubt would have been, had more time been allowed for the consideration of the same; but, in its crude shape, if properly executed, it is a great improvement on the former revenue laws of this State.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES:—Are liable for interest received by them on trust funds.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, March 20, 1873.

Hon. MILTON B. HOPKINS,
Supt. Pub. Instruction :

SIR:—In your communication, addressed to me, you state that the following is a copy of a letter written by the County Examiner of Clark County, Indiana, to your office :

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., January 23, 1873.

Hon. MILTON B. HOPKINS,
Supt. Pub. Instruction.

“DEAR SIR:—In case there should be several thousand dollars raised by taxing the people of a Township for the purpose of erecting a Township school house, and the money should be in the hands of the trustee several years, and he should put the money at interest and appropriate the interest as his own, what should be done and by whom? Does not the interest belong to the Township, and should not the Prosecuting Attorney for the County take the case in hand?”

And further. You request of me an official opinion upon the following question: If a School Trustee receives interest on trust money in his possession, is he responsible for that interest? And if so, is he responsible on his bond or as an individual? And whose duty is it to bring suit to recover the same?

In answer, I have to state that a Township Trustee is an officer having charge of the funds of the township; he is a trustee for the public within the Townships for which he acts, and is responsible and should be held to answer as such. If a Township Trustee use the trust funds in his possession so as to make a profit, and he appropriate the same to his own use, he and his sureties are liable on his bond for the amount of the profit thus realized.

If he mixes the trust funds with his private moneys and employs them both in a trade or adventure of his own, the cestui que trust may, if she prefer it, insist upon having a proportionate share of the profits, instead of interest on the amount of the trust fund so employed, or interest may be received on the money during the time the same was thus used by the Trustee. The following authorities are in point: 8 English Chancery Reports, p. 172; 3 Brown Chancery R. by Belt, p. 41; 3 Howard U. S., 133; 16 Howard U. S., 544; Hilt on Trustees, side pp. 374, and note 2, 522, note 1.

Our Supreme Court, in 34 Ind., pp. 323 and 324, say that Sec. 4 of the Act providing for the election and prescribing the duties of Prosecuting and District Attorneys, imperatively requires them to prosecute suits against Township and County officers to recover any of the trust funds, etc. It is the duty of Prosecuting Attorneys to institute and prosecute suits to recover funds of the description referred to by you, and by the Act approved March 10, 1873, prescribing the duties of the Attorney General, it is provided that if the Prosecuting Attorney shall fail for twelve months after the cause of action in any such matter shall have accrued, to institute and prosecute such suits, that then and in that case it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to do so.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.—Attorney General. Acts of March 8, 1873, and March 10, 1873, construed. Act of March 10th repeals such parts of Acts of March 8th as conflict with it.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, July 22, 1873.

Hon. MILTON B. HOPKINS,

Sup't Pub. Inst.:

DEAR SIR: In yours of the 19th inst. addressed to this office, you state that "The last Legislature, by the 6th section of an Act approved March 8, 1873, (see page 78, of the late Acts,) made it the duty of the County Superintendent, at least once in each year, and as much oftener as he may deem proper, to examine carefully the dockets, records and accounts of the Clerks of Courts, County Auditors, County Commissioners, Justices of the Peace, Prosecuting Attorneys, and Mayors of Cities, and see that all fines, forfeitures, unclaimed fees, liquor licenses and surplus dog tax are promptly collected, reported and paid over to the proper fund and revenue.

"On the 10th of March, and just two days after the approval of the act referred to, another act was passed and approved, supplemental to certain acts mentioned in the title, making it the duty of the Attorney General, in certain cases, to institute proceedings and collect, and have paid into the proper treasury, all fines and forfeitures due the school fund. (See page 17, sections 2 and 9.)

“In the practical administration of the law of March 8, 1873, some confusion and doubt have arisen in the minds of County Superintendents and the officers mentioned in the law, as to the effect of the Act of the 10th of March upon that of March 8th.

“Does it repeal it? If so, in part or in whole? If in part, what particular part?”

I will state, in answer to your questions, that the 9th section of the act of March 10—Sess. Laws, 1873, p. 20—covers the greater part of the subject matter of the act of March 8, and embraces other. It requires the Attorney General “to ascertain the amount paid to any public officer, or other person.” It also requires him to collect all the items mentioned in the act of March 8 (with the exception herein mentioned), together with all other funds due the State from certain officers mentioned, and other persons, “or from any other source where the same is by any law required to be paid to the State, or any officer in trust for the State.”

The above quoted language follows the enumeration of the different classes of funds to be collected by the Attorney General. It also requires him to institute and prosecute such proceedings as may be necessary to collect the same. It seems clear, therefore, that this latter act, though passed at the same session, embraces the subject matter of the former act; that is, it requires the Attorney General to do all the acts that by the act of March 8, are required to be performed by County Superintendents, with the exceptions hereinafter mentioned.

The 13th section of the act of March 10, repeals all laws in conflict with it.

Sections 6 and 7 of the act of March 8, and sections 2 and 9 of the act of March 10, do conflict; and in so far as they do conflict, the latter act is in force, and the former sections are repealed as to all that in which they do conflict. There are, however, portions of said sections 2 and 9 that do not conflict with sections 6 and 7 of the act of March 8. The 2d section of the act of March 10 provides “that in all cases where the prosecuting attorneys have failed for one year after the assessment of any fine or the forfeiture of any recognizance, or may hereafter for one year after the assessment of any fine or forfeiture of any recognizance, fail to institute proceedings to collect and pay into the proper treasury any fine or forfeiture, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to institute proceedings and collect and have paid into the proper treasury all fines and forfeitures."

Therefore, when fines assessed have remained uncollected for a less time than one year after judgment, and forfeitures have remained without suit for a less time than one year after having been taken, the Superintendent may have proper proceedings instituted to secure their collection; but in cases where the time above stated has elapsed, then the matter is beyond the control of the County Superintendent, and the act of March 10, above referred to, makes it the duty of the Attorney General to make the collections.

The Supreme Court, in 22 Ind., p. 204, say: "That a later law embracing the subject of a former one, by implication repeals the former so far as they conflict with each other."

In 7 Blackford, p. 313, they say: "If two statutes be inconsistent with each other, the latter must govern."

Where a new or subsequent statute covers the subject matter of an old one, and makes different provisions, the new repeals the old. 6 Ind., pp. 146 and 432. 1 Ind. Dig. (Davis) p. 774, secs. 50 and 51.

If the Legislature provide in one act for the discharge of a specified duty by an officer therein named, and subsequently provide for the discharge of the same duty by another officer, the subsequent act of the Legislature being inconsistent with the former, and being the last expressed will of the law-making power, must govern.

The two acts do not conflict in this farther particular, viz: By the act of March 8, it is made the duty of the County Superintendents to "see that the full amount of interest on school funds is paid and apportioned, and when there is a deficit of interest on any school fund or a loss of any school fund or revenue by the county, that proper warrants are issued for the reimbursement of the same."

They should also look after and see to the prompt enforcement of fines assessed where executions are in the hands of sheriffs, constables and marshals, see that executions are promptly issued, and see that no unnecessary delay is allowed in such collections; and to see that suits are promptly instituted on forfeitures, in all cases where such judgment has not been entered, or forfeitures taken more than one year before making the investigation. Where judgments have been taken or forfeitures have been entered more than one year, the act of March 10, makes it the duty of the Attorney General to make the examination and collection.

The act of March 8 does not authorize County Superintendents to make any collections. It only authorizes them to make examinations and reports, and to cause suits to be instituted by the proper law officer of the State, the Prosecuting Attorney, or Attorney General in certain cases mentioned in the act of March 16.

COUNTY TREASURERS AND AUDITORS.—Their fees—A part of sec. 107 of the act of March 6, 1865, repealed by act of March 8, 1873—Act of March 6, 1865, remains unchanged.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, April 2, 1873.

HON. M. B. HOPKINS,
Sup't Pub. Inst.

DEAR SIR:—Your communication in these words has been received:

“Section 107 of the school law act, approved March 6th, 1865, ‘III Statutes, Ind., p. 461, provides that the County Auditor shall ‘receive for his services ‘four per cent. on all disbursements of ‘interest,’ and sec. 6 of the fee and salary act, approved March 8th, ‘1873, provides that ‘the Auditor shall be allowed one-fourth of ‘one per cent. on all school funds disbursed by said Auditor.’ Also, ‘the act of 1865, sec. 107, id. prescribes the Treasurer’s fees, and sec. ‘5 of the fee and salary act, id. provides as follows: ‘Also, five ‘per cent. for receiving and disbursing all funds other than taxes ‘and school funds,’ etc.

“I desire your opinion as to how much of sec. 107 of the act of ‘March 6, 1865, is repealed by the act of March 8th, 1873, and ‘what are the fees which an Auditor and Treasurer are entitled to ‘for disbursing the school funds and revenues.

There is no provision in the act of March 8th, 1873, repealing any part of the act of March 6th, 1865, in direct terms. Section 41 of the fee and salary act does repeal certain acts therein named, but no reference is made to the said act of March 6th, 1865. Therefore, if any part of this act is repealed, it is done by implication. In the act of March 8th, 1873, in the latter part of section 6, the following language is used: “The Auditor shall be allowed one-fourth of one per cent. on all school funds disbursed by said Auditor.”

I am satisfied that it was the intention of the Legislature to repeal that portion of sec. 107 which is in these words: "And four per cent. on all disbursements of interest," and to substitute therefor the latter clause of section 6 of the act of March 8th, 1873, in these words: "The Auditor shall be allowed one-fourth of one per cent. on all school funds disbursed by said Auditor; so that section 107 as amended would read substantially as follows:

"County Auditors shall receive for their services in managing the schools funds the two per cent. damages accruing on all sales for non-payments of loans, two per cent. on all loans on which the mortgaged premises are advertised for sale and not sold, and one-fourth of one per cent. on all school funds disbursed by said Auditor."

I came to this conclusion for the following reasons: The interest accruing from the fund, license tax, State school tax, unclaimed fees, and local tuition tax, are the only moneys disbursed,—that is, paid out. Money loaned is not paid out. Loaning money for trust funds is not disbursing it. Therefore, the only moneys that are or can be "disbursed" by the Auditor, are those mentioned above.

I am of the opinion that it was the intention of the Legislature to amend said section as above indicated, and to give to the Auditor one-fourth of one per cent. on all disbursements instead, or in lieu, of the amount allowed for disbursing the interest alone as allowed by act of 1865. This provision was evidently intended to repeal the provision allowing four per cent. as fixed in the act last referred to.

The law of March 6th, 1865, fixing the fees of Treasurers for the handling of school fund moneys, remains unchanged.

DELINQUENT TAXES—Fees and Mileage of County Treasurers, how paid, &c.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, June 25, 1873.

MR. HENRY J. RUDISILL,

Auditor of Allen County:

DEAR SIR:—In your letter addressed to the Auditor of State, you request him to procure my opinion on the following questions:

1. Are the provisions of Sec. 161 of the Act of December 21,

1872, as to the payment of fees and mileage, to be collected from the delinquent tax-payer, still in force, or are the same repealed by the "fee and salary bill?"

2. If repealed, what portion, if any, of the fees for the collection of delinquent taxes is to be collected from the tax-payers, and what portion is to be paid from the funds?

3. Can the Treasurer, as the law now stands, when demand is made of the delinquent tax-payer, at his place of residence, and the taxes then paid without levy, charge mileage and other fees of constables for making such demand? And, if so, is such mileage and other fees to be paid by the delinquent tax-payer, or to be deducted from the taxes collected?

In as much as the questions you propound, with others by County Treasurers and Auditors in different counties of the State, in relation to the fees, etc., to be allowed Treasurers for the collection of delinquent taxes, have within the last few days been submitted to me, I will, in answering your questions, attempt to cover the entire ground.

The 4th Sec. of the Act approved March 8, 1872, entitled, "An Act supplementary and amendatory of an Act, entitled, 'An Act to provide for uniform assessment'" etc., approved December 21, 1872, provides that "The County Treasurers be and are hereby required, immediately after their April settlement with the County Auditor, either in person or by deputy, to call upon every delinquent taxpayer," etc.

Sec. 161 of the act to provide for a uniform assessment, etc., approved December 21, 1872, provides that "The said Treasurers shall be allowed for their services in making such collections, five per cent. on the amount of all such collections of delinquent taxes, payable in just proportions out of each fund collected, and shall also be allowed Constable's fees and mileage from the place of holding elections in each township, to the residence of such delinquent tax-payer, which shall be collected from such tax-payer."

By section 5 of the "fees and salary bill," approved March 8, 1873, it provided as follows:

"The County Treasurers of the several Counties, shall receive the fees below enumerated, and no others, to wit: * * * *
Also, five per centum on all delinquent taxes collected, when paid voluntarily and without levy; and the Treasurer shall also be allowed the same fees and charges, except mileage, for making distress and sale of goods and chattels, for the payment of taxes, for the payment of taxes, as may be allowed by law to Constables," etc.

The statute, when properly construed, gives mileage and other fees allowed by law to constables, when the taxes are collected without distress and sale; but if distress and sale be made, then, in as much as the Treasurer is allowed ten per cent. for collections made in this manner, he is not entitled to charge mileage. These two sections, when construed together, would read as follows: Also, five per cent. on all delinquent taxes collected, when paid voluntarily and without levy, and such mileage and other fees as now allowed by law to Constables. In other words, the Act of March 8, 1873, does not repeal that portion of the Act of December 21, 1872, allowing mileage from the place of holding each Township election to the residence of the tax-payer, when collection is made without distress and sale. The "fee and salary bill" fixes the fees of Constables, and this Act authorizes County Treasurers to charge the same fees that Constables are authorized to charge for like services, including commissions for collections.

When collections are made by distress and sale, the same fees are allowed as above stated, except mileage. The total fees in such case will be ten per cent., as fixed by said Sec. 5, and Constables' commissions and other fees allowed by law to Constables. So that on sums exceeding six dollars, the commissions will be fifteen per cent., to which should be added the other fees allowed by law to Constables, as above stated.

The five and ten per cent. specified in said Sec. should be paid out of the delinquent tax collected, ratably out of each fund, and the mileage, commissions, etc., as allowed to Constables, should be collected from the delinquent tax-payer. The evident purpose of the Legislature by the use of these words in Sec. 5, above quoted to wit: "The County Treasurers of the several Counties shall receive the fees below enumerated, and no others," intended to provide that no other allowance should be made by the County Board or paid out of the funds, but in construing the last Act above referred to, it must be done in the light of all the enactments of the Legislature on this subject. The mode of payment provided for in the Act of December 21, 1872, is not changed by the Act of March 3, 1873, and in my opinion, the amount of fees to be taxed against the delinquent tax-payer is not changed except to provide that when the taxes are collected after levy, mileage should not be charged.

In case the money is made without sale, the commissions to be charged to the tax-payer would be two and one-half per cent., instead of five, as allowed on sales.

A TOWN board has no power to exact and enforce a license fee for the sale of intoxicating liquors. The act giving such authority declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, 33 Indiana 608.

I find that the Legislature by an act passed in 1867 (3 G. and H., 122) attempted to give towns the power to require a license to sell liquors. But the Supreme Court in 33d Indiana, p. 608 say, "There is nothing in the original act on the subject of incorporated towns etc., (G. and H. p. 619,) that confers such power. A municipal corporation can no more exercise such powers not conferred upon it, than can any other corporation; they are all creatures of the law, and can exercise such powers, and such only, as are conferred upon them by the law."

I find that the act of 1859 (G. and H. p. 518 Sec. 16) contained a provision substantially the same as Sec. 21 of the new Temperance Law. This act was in force at the time this decision was made.

They then go on and hold that the act of 1867 is unconstitutional. Under the ruling of the Supreme Court, the question is, does the Temperance Bill, Sec. 20, "confer upon it," (a town) the right to require a license? Do these words: "but nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit the Common Councils of cities, and the Boards of Trustees of incorporated towns, from demanding and enforcing a fee for permits," confer upon towns the power to exact a license or charge a fee for a permit? It would seem under the ruling of the Supreme Court above referred to, that it would not. This ruling of the Supreme Court is the law, until overruled by that court; and, therefore, my opinion is that the law does not authorize Town Boards to require or exact a license fee for selling liquor within the limits of such town.

TREASURERS' FEES for handling funds derived from sale of County bonds and from loans, &c.,—The County Board of Equalization the only lawful body to appraise lands and R. R. property.

That portion of section five of the fee and salary act of March 8, 1873, in reference to Treasurer's fees on funds borrowed by the County or realized from the sale of County bonds, which are one and the same thing, taking that portion of the section which has reference to the subject matter now under consideration would read as follows: For receiving and disbursing funds arising from the sale of County bonds, &c. The County sells her bonds, or borrows money and issues her bonds for the amount borrowed, and for receiving and paying out this fund the Treasurer is entitled to one per cent and no more. No other fee or compensation is provided for in this section.

The Supreme Court in the case of the State on the relation of Evans, Auditor of State, vs. McGinnis, 34 Ind. p. 452, decides that the action of the State Board of Equalization of 1869 was void. And by the several acts of the Legislature since passed, the appraisalment of lands and railroad property made by the County Board of Equalization seems to be recognized the only legal appraisalment or valuation, and indeed under the law it would seem without the subsequent recognition of the same by the Legislature that the County appraisalment is the only legal and valid one for the year 1869 and subsequent years including the year 1872.

Railroad Companies should pay tax for the years 1869, 1870, 1871 and 1872, on the value of its property, as fixed by the County Board of 1869.

THE BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS constitute a part of the County Board of Education, and are entitled to take part as such in the proceedings of said County Board.

I am satisfied that the Act of March 3, 1871, substitutes the Board of School Commissioners for that of "School Trustees," and such Board has all the rights and privileges of the officers for which they are substituted; and that in all cities where such Boards are legally organized, they do constitute a part of the County Board of Education, and are entitled to take part as such in the proceedings of said County Board.

JURY FEES—Act of 1852 still in force, providing for the taxing of a jury fee of $4 50 against the losing party. There is no Statute repealing the act authorizing the taxation of docket fees in criminal cases.

By 2 G. and H. p. 31, Sec. 5, Act of 1852, it is provided that $4 50 shall be taxed in every case tried by a jury in the Circuit Court, etc. In the fee and salary act of 1871 p. 31 it is provided that a fee of $5 00 shall be taxed for jury fee. No provision is made in the new fee bill for a jury fee to be taxed. As the bill was originally drafted, it provided that $2 50 per day should be taxed for such juror. This was stricken out, and the Legislature evidently intended to leave the law of 1852 or 1871 in force.

If the act of 1871 by implication repealed the act of 1852, and the present act repealed that of 1871, under the ruling of the Supreme Court in 2d Blackford p. 32, the repeal of the repealing clause would revise the original act of 1852, and, therefore, the act of 1852 under this view of the law is in force; and I am satisfied that this is a correct representation of the effect of a repealing act.

You will see by reference to the act of March 8, 1873, Sec. 41, that the act of February 21, 1871, is repealed with certain exceptions and the point now under consideration is not one of those excepted, and that, therefore, the portion requiring a jury fee of $5 00 to be taxed is repealed.

I am therefore of opinion that a jury fee of $4 50 should be taxed against the losing party of such case tried by a jury.

I can find no statute repealing the act authorizing the taxation of a docket fee in criminal cases.

A TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE—Has power to purchase books, maps, school furniture, &c., for school houses.

You ask my opinion as to the following questions :

“1st. Have Trustees authority to purchase school furniture, apparatus, etc. at their option and without reference to the County Board?”

“2d. Is it the duty of the County Board to determine what school furniture, maps, etc., the Trustees shall purchase?”

Sec. 10, Act of March 6, 1865, provides that the Trustees shall take charge of the educational affairs of their respective townships, towns and cities, employ teachers, and shall establish and otherwise provide suitable houses, furniture, apparatus and other articles and educational appliances necessary for the thorough organization and efficient management of said school.

In Sec. 8 of amended school law approved March 8, 1873, it is provided that "Said Board shall consider the general wants and needs of the schools and school property of which they have charge, and all matter relating to the purchase of school furniture, books, maps, charts, etc. The amendment authorizes the Trustee to advise with the Board, but in the purchase of furniture, maps, etc. the Trustee may act upon his own judgment without advising with the Board. The Legislature have provided this advisory Board. The Trustee may submit the question as to furniture, maps, etc., to said board, or act upon his own judgment. The statute does not compel the Trustee to so act, as is done in reference to the purchase of books, etc.

*COUNTY TREASURERS' FEES for handling School Funds—

You will find by examining the Act of February 21, 1871, that the Act of March 6, 1865, is not referred to in any way. It seems to have been the purpose of the Legislature at all times to keep the fees of officers, so far as the School Fund is concerned, separate and apart from other fees, &c. You will by a careful examination of the several acts see this very plainly.

And the same purpose is plainly indicated in the latter part of Sec. 5, Acts 1873, p. 121. The following language is there used: "For securing and disbursing all funds other than taxes, or school funds," &c., thus showing that it was not the intention to change the fees of Treasurers as to that fund. It therefore seems perfectly clear to my mind, for the reasons above stated, and for reasons stated in my letter to Mr. Hopkins, that the Act of March 6th, 1865, is still in force.

Quite a number of the Circuit Courts have decided that the Act of Feb. 21, 1871, was unconstitutional. The Supreme Court was divided in opinion on the question; therefore, to say the least, its constitutionality is questionable. I think a majority of the Courts held it to be unconstitutional.

In 2d Blackford, p. 32, the Supreme Court say, "That if a statute be repealed, and the repealing act itself be afterward repealed, the original act is revived."

In Sec. 802, 2 G. & H., p. 336, a different rule is provided as to the law repealed by that act, but is not adopted as a rule of construction, except as to the acts repealed by said act. Therefore, it would follow that the repeal of the Act of 1871, if it could be construed as repealing the Act of March 6, 1865, would revive the last named Act; but my opinion is that the Act of March 6, 1865, was not repealed by that of Feb. 21, 1871.

TAXATION OF RAILROADS.—Act of December 21, 1872, construed.

Sec. 79 of the Act of December 21, 1872, requires Railroad Companies to furnish to the Auditor of State a list of all their tangible property; also, a statement as to their stock, etc., as required by the several subdivisions of Sec. 79, and the total amount of all indebtedness, except for current expenses. It will be seen by a careful examination of the several sections of this law, that much of the information required to be furnished is for the purpose of informing the State Board of Equalization, and to enable them to act advisedly in the premises.

I do not understand that it is the purpose of this act to tax railroad companies for all their property, and then tax them a second time on the amount of the capital stock. The provisions of this law are not as comprehensive as they might have been. My opinion is, that the true intent and meaning of this act is to require railroad companies to be taxed as individuals are taxed. Any other system could not be enforced under the Constitution. Article X., Sec. 1, is as follows: "The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, both real and personal, excepting such only for municipal, educational, literary, scientific, religious, or charitable purposes, as may be specifically exempted by law."

This provision of the Constitution requires :

1. That the assessment shall be uniform ; and,
2. That it shall be equal on all persons whose property is subject to taxation ; that is, that the burthen of taxation shall be imposed on all classes of persons owning property subject to taxation equally. It cannot be said that an individual's property shall be valued at its fair cash value, and that a corporation shall not only pay tax upon the value of its property, and then again upon the stock, which is the mere representation of the value of the property of the company. A corporation is merely an association of persons associated together, uniting their funds, purchasing the stock in such corporation, and thus uniting and consolidating the capital of each into one common enterprise. So at last the company is composed of individuals. The company does not own the stock, but the individuals composing the company own it.

Railroad companies and other corporations are required to list and return the property and stock of the company as a matter of convenience and information. But can such company be required to pay tax on all the property owned by it, and then pay on the capital stock? I think not. But the company may, and properly should be, required to give the Board of Equalization all the information of which it is possessed, to enable them (the Board) to make a just valuation and assessment of the property of the corporation ; and I am of opinion that the blanks prepared and furnished to railroad companies by the Auditor of State, if properly filled out by such companies, will accomplish the object intended ; that is, to secure a just and equal assessment of the railroad property in the State.

I am satisfied that the Board of Equalization will not attempt to require a literal enforcement of the 292d section of the said Act of 21st December, 1872, but that they will construe it as required by the 12th section of the Act ; and that they will not hold that the property of railroad companies, or any other corporation, shall pay double tax, but that they will require such corporation to be assessed and pay tax just as individuals are assessed and taxed. This, and this only, will be "uniform" and "equal" taxation.

I do not understand the law as the late Auditor, who prepared the bill, seemed to understand it. (See his Report to the General Assembly for 1873, pp. 46 and 47.) I cannot understand why, in estimating the stock, that you should add to the cash value of the stock of the Company the amount of the debts due and owing by the Company. Under the law, as applied to individuals, you can not deduct from the value of his property the amount of his debts. Now, if a company give in all their property, and owe one million of dollars, for the purpose of determining the value of the stock, why should this be added to the cash value of the stock? I can not understand why.

In some instances, railroad companies have property worth two or three times as much as the amount of their stock would indicate; in others, the amount of stock far exceeds the value of the property. Therefore, it seems but just and proper that the facts required to be stated in said blanks prepared by the Auditor of State, should be furnished for the information of the Board, as before stated; so that they may have all the facts before them when they begin the work of equalization. They should know who owns the stock, the amount paid on same, its value, etc.

I am satisfied that justice will be done to all Railroad Companies by the Board, and that no Company will have just cause to complain, and that they will be taxed as individuals are taxed under like circumstances.

It seems to me that subdivision 4 of section 12 of said act makes this matter perfectly plain. It provides: "The capital stock of all companies," etc., "shall be so valued by the State Board of Equalization as to ascertain and determine, respectively, the fair cash value of such capital stock, including the franchises, over and above the assessed value of the tangible property of such company or association."

THERE MUST be a uniform rate of Assessment and Taxation.

The law requires property to be appraised at the fair cash value. Nothing short of this will comply with the law. I cannot understand how an officer acting under oath can appraise wheat that has a fixed cash value at so much less than the same is selling for in cash.

I read your letter to the Auditor and he tells me that Counties adjoining your County make the same complaints against you, that you make against them. May there not be some misunderstanding about this matter?

But I am satisfied that your County Board of Equalization can remedy the defects complained of. The Constitution, Article X, Sec. 1, provides that the General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, both real and personal.

Now, the provisions of the law if properly executed would secure the result intended to be provided for in this section of the Constitution; but if not attained by the Assessor, it may be done by the County Board of Equalization.

But I am satisfied that if it can be shown to the Auditor of State that the inequality of which you complain exists to any considerable extent that he will take the proper steps to remedy the defect.

You will see by sec. 269 of the act of Dec. 21, 1872, that he has the power to do so.

DESCRIPTION OF LANDS.—Sec. 272 of Assessment Act of 1872 construed.

My opinion is that the proper construction of Sec. 272 of Assessment Act of December 21, 1872, in cases where a tract of land is divided in parcels so that it cannot be described without giving the metes and bounds, then, and in all such cases, it is the duty of the owner to cause it to be surveyed and platted into lots; not as town lots, but it may be done as Lot No. 1, 2, &c. of subdivision of southeast quarter of southeast quarter, of Sec. 1, Town. 1 north, range 15 west; or, say lot No. 1 of subdivision of a tract east one-half of Sec. 1, Town. 1 north, range 15 west; made by A. B. and recorded in book (give name of record, 1, B, or in any way so as to designate the record where the plat may be found); or, say lot No. 1 of that part of northwest quarter, of sec. 28, Town. 16 north, range 12 west, containing three acres, as designated on plat recorded in book (give the description of record as "Record B" or "Record 1.")

The section referred to provides that the description if made in accordance with the number and description set forth in the recorded plat shall be deemed a good and valid description. The evident object was, to get upon the duplicate such descriptions as would not be void (in case of sale) for uncertainty.

If a tract of land be described as "part of the northwest quarter, Sec. 28, Town. 16, range 12," this would be void for uncertainty. It does not designate what part of the quarter is owned by the taxpayer.

This section does not apply to towns and cities alone, but to all subdivisions which cannot be accurately described without describing by metes and bounds.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—Permits to sell intoxicating liquors—Can only grant permits at REGULAR sessions of said Board.

The 2d Section of the Temperance Law, approved February 27, 1873, provides that any person desiring a permit to sell intoxicating liquors, &c., shall file in the office of the Auditor of the proper County, not less than twenty days before the first day of the term of any REGULAR session of the Board of Commissioners of such County, a petition in writing, &c.

The license provided for in this law can only be granted on the order of the County Commissioners made at a regular session of the Board. The Auditor has the right under act approved February 2d, 1855, to call a meeting of the County Board; but such meeting would not be a regular session as provided for in this law.

I am therefore of the opinion that no order can be made until the regular session in June.

If a party should file a petition and bond, without the order of the Board of Commissioners authorizing the permit to issue, he would be liable to be prosecuted and convicted under the law.

The action to be taken by the Board on the filing and presentation of the petition are judicial acts, and therefore their action in passing upon all the questions must be performed before a legal permit can issue.

MARRIAGE LICENSE may issue in any County of the State where male is 21 years of age and female 18—In such case actual residence in the County where license issues is not necessary.

You ask two questions: 1st. "Is a residence of the lady for 30 days in the County actually necessary when parties are twenty-one years of age?" 2d. "If the lady resides in one County of this State can license issue out of another County?"

In answer to your first question my opinion is, that if the female be over the age of 18 years, and the male over the age of 21 years, actual residence in the County is not necessary.

In answer to your second question my opinion is, that if the parties be over the age above stated, license may issue in any County in this State.

But the Clerk, before he issues such license, should require these facts, viz: the ages of the parties to be proved as required by Section 6, 1 G. & H., p. 430.

THE RATE OF TAXATION may be reduced, but not increased, by Town Trustees.

I am satisfied that the rate of taxation may be reduced, but that it can not be increased. If a state of facts should arise, such as an increase of the value of the taxable property after the rate is fixed by the Trustees, so that to collect the amount fixed would exceed the absolute necessity for the purpose intended, it would be unjust to the people to collect more than is absolutely needed for the purpose. My opinion is that the rate of taxes may be reduced.

AN ORDER made by Town Board after their election, and within ten days thereafter for the levy of corporation tax, valid—Acts done by them after the expiration of ten days invalid, if certificate of election be not filed as required by statute.

The law only requires me to give opinions to State officers. but inasmuch as the question you present is one of some interest, I have examined it with as much care as I could, and my time would allow.

In the case of Dinwiddie, et al., vs. The President, &c. of the Town of Rushville, (37 Ind., pp. 66 and 67,) the Supreme Court say: "This was a complaint * * * to enjoin the making of certain improvements in the town of Rushville, at the expense of the property holders, under an ordinance passed by the corporate authorities.

"Demurrer to the complaint sustained, and exception. Judgment for defendants."

In this case no certificate of the election of town officers was filed in the clerk's office as required by statute. (I do not attempt here to give the opinion in full, but only a statement of the point, and so much of the opinion as is necessary to show what they hold.) "We must hold that the ordinance is void, and the improvements are being made without competent legal authority." They also say: "Where a statute expressly prohibits a thing, until another has been done, the prohibition cannot be disregarded without judicial legislation." They hold the ordinance void because the certificate had not been filed as required by the statute.

But your case presents a different question. Here your election was held on the 5th day of May. The law required the assessment to be made before the third Tuesday in May. The return of the certificate should have been made on the 15th day of May. All the requirements of the act had been substantially complied with so far as was necessary, prior to the time the levy was made.

Therefore, I am of opinion that the assessment was properly and legally made.

All acts done by the Board between the 5th day of May and the 7th day of July, will be void.

CIRCUIT COURTS have jurisdiction to punish persons for violation of the 9th Section of the Temperance law of 1873.

The 16th Section of the act of February 27th, 1873—Acts of 1873, p. 156—provides that "The penalty and provisions mentioned in the 14th section of this act may be enforced by indictment in any court of record having criminal jurisdiction; and all pecuniary fines and penalties provided for in any of the sections of this act except the eighth and twelfth may be enforced and prosecuted for before any Justice of the Peace of the proper county, in an action of debt, in the name of the State of Indiana as plaintiff."

The Circuit Court is a court of general jurisdiction, and has competent jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except only such petty offenses over which justices of the peace have exclusive jurisdiction, simple assaults, &c.

Justices have only such jurisdiction as is conferred by Statute. They have no common law jurisdiction. See 1st Ind. Digest, p. 548 Sec. 4.

The first part of the sentence above quoted is meaningless, or at least it merely re-enacts what was the law before. Does not change the law as it stood before its passage. Without it Circuit Courts had complete jurisdiction. See G. and H. pp. 181 and 182, Sec. 1.

The 16th section gives justices jurisdiction to enforce pecuniary fines or penalties only. This does not extend their jurisdiction, but limits it to fine or pecuniary punishment.

The 9th section provides that "It shall be unlawful for any person to get intoxicated. * * *. Any person convicted of intoxication shall be required upon the trial to designate the person or persons from whom the liquor, in whole or in part, was obtained. In default of so designating such person, he or she shall in addition to the fine above mentioned, and as a part of his or her punishment for the offense, be imprisoned," &c.

How can a justice execute this penalty when by the 16th section they are only authorized to inflict "pecuniary fines and penalties?" This section, then, in my opinion, limits the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to cases in which fines only can be assessed.

If, then, I am correct in this construction, Circuit Courts are the only courts in which section 9 can be fully executed. That court having general jurisdiction of all crimes and misdemeanors, except as limited by 1st Section of Statute 3, G. and H., pp. 181 and 182, has jurisdiction of drunks.

SECTIONS 2 AND 4 OF Temperance Law of February 27th, 1873, construed—Whose names must be signed to the petition for permits?—Those who voted at last election.

"Does the petition for a permit to sell intoxicating liquor under the act of February 27th, 1873, require a majority of the voters in the township at the time the petition is circulated, or a majority of the voters who voted at the election mentioned in the section?"

In the 2d section of the act—in that part of the section in which reference is made to the petition and the petitioners—the following language is used: “Which petition shall be signed by the applicant, and also by a majority of the legal voters resident in the ward,” &c. In the 4th section it is provided, “That the whole number of votes cast for candidates for Congress at the last preceding Congressional Election in the township * * * * shall be deemed to be the whole number of legal voters of such ward, town or township, a majority of whose names shall be signed to the petition of such applicant.”

It is a rule of construction that the whole statute must be construed together; it is one act, and is to be construed as if it were but one section. Suppose you take Secs. 2 and 4, and paraphrase the portion referring to the subject matter, as follows: (Sec. 2) “Which petition shall be signed by the applicant, and also by a majority of the legal voters resident in the ward, &c., (Sec. 4,) and that the whole number of votes cast for candidate for Congress at the last preceding congressional election in, &c., shall be deemed to be the whole number of legal voters of such ward, town or township, a majority of whose names shall be signed to the petition of such applicant.” A majority of what names? Surely, of the legal voters, Who, for the purpose of this act, are to be deemed legal voters? The answer seems plain. They are those whose names are found on the poll books; those who voted at the election referred to. If in a township, those who voted for Congressman; if in a city, those who voted for Councilman; if in a town, those who voted for Trustees.

If one side of a county newspaper be printed in a city distant from the county, it is nevertheless a printing and publishing of the same in the county where the other side is printed, and where the paper is distributed.

The point you make is this: A part, or one side of a paper is printed in Chicago or some other city, containing miscellaneous and literary matter, the other side being filled up with home news, advertisements and such other matter as the editor deems expedient and best. Would this be a printing and publication of the paper in the County? My opinion is that it would. Suppose you should purchase paper with the name of your newspaper printed on it and you print the balance of the paper in your office, would this be a printing and publication of the paper in your county? Clearly it would be.

If the paper be one of general circulation and a part of it printed in your office and it be circulated, or published from your office, I am satisfied this would make your paper a proper medium for the publication of legal notices. The words "printed" and "published" are used as synonymous terms. Sometimes the one and sometimes the other is used, and in some States the words "printed and published" are used. The object and purpose of the law is to give notice to the public of the facts, and I think this object is effected when the notice and one-half of the paper is "printed" in the County as fully as it would be if both sides of the paper were printed in the County.

EACH MEMBER of the County Board of Equalization entitled to a vote in fixing value to be placed upon land in each Township in the County—The County Board may change values fixed by them in their final order, and the value fixed will be conclusive and binding on the Auditor, unless changed by State Board.

1st. If an Assessor is instructed by the Board of Equalization to re-assess a certain township, or townships, by such a per cent. as will reduce the average value, say from $60 per acre to $55, can he make any different assessment, or reduce the average, say to $50 per acre?

My opinion is that the Assessor is the agent of the Board, with limited powers. He can do what he is directed to do by the order, and nothing more. The order of the Board must be complied with.

2d. If the Assessor disregards the instructions of the Board, and two of them are in favor of receiving said re-assessment, and two opposed to its reception, would the Assessor have a vote on its reception or rejection?

3d. If the Assessor would have no vote, and ten of the Board vote for and ten against the reception of the assessment, in what condition would that leave the assessment?

4th. Should the assessment not be received by the Board what would be the legal course to pursue?

5th. In case the assessment should not be received as re-assessed, would it be legal for the Auditor to put the property upon the duplicate returns?

I will attempt to answer your questions, 2, 3, 4 and 5. It seems that the Board may by their final order regulate the appraisement of land, etc., in any township. They may then adopt or reject the appraisement made by the Assessor. It is the final order made by the Board that governs, and the value thereon fixed will be binding upon the Auditor, unless changed by the State Board.

Each member of the Board has a right to take part in all its deliberations, and, as such member, may vote upon all questions that legitimately come before it. He would therefore have a right to vote upon the question as to the value to be fixed upon the land in any Township.

Upon the first question you make I am well satisfied that he must comply with the order of the Board, but practically this is not important, for the reason that the Board may subsequently change the order then made. And for this reason they may, and perhaps do, during their entire session, from day to day, receive new lights, and obtain knowledge not possessed by them before, as to the value of property; and if they, before their final adjournment find that they have committed errors, such errors may be corrected.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS for Judicial Circuit and Criminal Circuit Court entitled to appear and prosecute crimes and misdemeanors before Justices and Mayors or Cities and have fee taxed for same.

The office of Prosecuting Attorney is of Constitutional creation, and the point made that he has no right to appear and prosecute before Justices of the Peace and Mayors of cities, would be that of a Constitutional officer shorn of all duties in the prosecution of crimes and misdemeanors.

Did the Legislature in the act of April 23, 1869—3 G. & H., 178—intend to take from him the right to appear for the State or as the Attorney for the State, in all the Courts of the State, including Justices' and Mayors' courts? It is not contended that any subsequent act gives to Criminal Court Prosecutors any new or additional rights or powers not conferred by the act of April 23, 1869. The 1st section of said act provides that "the Criminal Circuit Court shall have original exclusive jurisdiction of all felonies and of all misdemeanors, except as provided by law for Justices of the Peace, and shall have such appellate jurisdiction in criminal actions as is or may be provided by law for the Circuit Court." This section makes this further provision: "The said criminal courts shall in all things, not otherwise provided by law, be governed by the law in force in regard to Circuit Courts; and the Judge, Prosecuting Attorney, Clerks, and Sheriffs of said criminal Circuit Court shall receive the same salaries and fees allowed by law to the Judges, Prosecuting Attorneys, Clerks and Sheriffs of the Circuit Court."

The office of criminal Prosecuting Attorney, or the Prosecuting Attorney for the criminal Circuit Court, is of statutory creation. He has no rights, powers or privileges not given or created by this statute.

Does the fact that the criminal Circuit Court has "exclusive jurisdiction of felonies and misdemeanors, except as prescribed by law for Justices of the Peace, and such appellate jurisdiction as is or may be provided by law for the Circuit Court," take away from the Prosecuting Attorney the right to appear and represent the State before Justices in the prosecution of felonies and misdemeanors? My opinion is, that it does not.

The criminal prosecutor being of statutory creation can have no powers except such as are created by the above quoted statute. The evident intention of the Legislature was to furnish the State with a representative in the Criminal Court. He has no power or rights except such as are given by said statute, except it be conferred by subsequent legislation. Has it been so conferred?

Section 16 of the new fee bill—acts of 1873, p. 130—provides that "The Circuit, Criminal Circuit, and District Prosecuting Attorneys' fees shall be as follows, to-wit:

* * * Docket fee before Justice of the Peace, on plea of guilty, or on conviction, $5.00."

This act, then, provides a fee for each of these officers before Justices of the Peace. Indeed, all the laws passed since the office of Prosecuting Attorney was created, has given him a fee for prosecuting before Justices. See act June 16, 1852, 1 R. S. 1852, p. 280; acts 1855, 1 G. & H., p. 335; fee and salary law of 1871, statutes 1871, p. 27. See, also, act above referred to of 1873. The act of February 22, 1871, statutes 1871, p. 24, gave Justices jurisdiction of violations of the fish law, and required Prosecuting Attorneys to see that the provisions of the act were enforced.

Can it be said that the Legislature provided that an officer should receive a fee for doing a thing he had no right to do?

Laws are to be construed so as to make sense. Can it be that when the Legislature provided that he should see that the fish law was enforced before Justices of the Peace, that he had no right to appear in that Court to prosecute, when at the same session they gave him a fee for appearing and prosecuting in that Court? I think not. I therefore conclude that either of said officers may appear and prosecute criminal causes, either felonies or misdemeanors, before Justice's or Mayor's, and when one of them appears for the State, or has instituted the proceeding before a Justice, the other is excluded. I cannot conclude that an officer created by the fundamental law of the State can be shorn of all right to exercise all the powers and functions of his office unless the legislative intent is very clearly manifested.

BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT

OF

OF

THE STATE OF INDIANA.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:
SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.
1874.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Indianapolis, January 22, 1874.

To his Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

In compliance with the one hundred and twenty-second section of the school law, making it the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to make a brief report in writing to the Governor, in the month of January, in each year when there is no regular session of the General Assembly, indicating in general terms the enumeration of the children of the State for common school purposes, the additions to the permanent school fund within the year, the amount of school revenue collected within the year, and the amount apportioned and distributed to the schools, I herewith submit my biennial report for the year ending December 31, 1873.

The last legislature, by an amendment of the fourteenth section of the school law, approved as late as the 8th of March, required that the enumeration of the children of the State for common school purposes should be made in that same month and April following instead of July and August as heretofore. This required great expedition and consequently notice of the change, with the proper blanks, was immediately sent to the trustees throughout the State, who have discharged the duty with energy and promptitude, the results of which are indicated by the figures below :

I. ENUMERATION.

Number of white males between 6 and 21 years of age.....	324,082
Number of white females between 6 and 21 years of age.....	307,067
Total number of white children.....	631,149
Number of colored males between 6 and 21 years of age.....	4,589
Number of colored females between 6 and 21 years of age.....	4,594
Total number of colored children.....	9,183
Whole number	640,332
Whole number enumerated in the preceding July and August.....	631,549
Increase in our schoolastic population within six months.....	8,783

II. ADDITIONS TO THE SCHOOL FUNDS.

1. Common School Fund.

Amount of Common School Fund in June, 1872	$2,239,502	22
Amount of Sinking Fund distributed.....	56,140	09
Amount since added from other sources.....	2,453	20
Amount in June, 1873.....	2,341,267	12

These figures show that the increase of the Common School Fund from the first day of June, 1872, to the same date in 1873, is $101,764.90. More than one half of this amount, however, is from the Sinking Fund, which is now exhausted, and consequently no additions in the future can be made from this heretofore fruitful source.

2. Congressional Township Fund.

Amount of Fund June, 1872.....	$2,269,867	61
Amount since added from sale of lands.....	19,316	15
Amount June, 1873.....	2,289,183	76
Add the value of 12,925 acres unsold lands.....	83,697	18
Total Congressional Fund.....	2,372,880	94

This fund, with the exception of the $83,697.18, the estimated value of the unsold congressional school lands, is productive of interest. In a very few instances these lands are cultivated, and the rents and profits are applied to the education of the children of the proper township.

Our school funds have become very much simplified. They are now embraced under the two heads, Common School Fund, and Congressional School Fund.

The former embraces the various funds mentioned in the Constitution of the State and set apart by it for educational purposes, such as the surplus Revenue Fund, Saline Fund, Bank Tax Fund, Sinking Fund, and the fund derived from the sale of county seminaries, the last dollar of which has found its way into the fund, and is at the present time productive of interest. This fund embraces also, fines, forfeitures, escheats, etc., which continue to augment it from year to year. A part of this fund is held in trust by the different counties of the State, the rest is held by the State herself, which debt she has acknowledged by the issuance of certain non-negotiable bonds, bearing six per cent. interest.

The Congressional Township Fund includes the proceeds of the sales of the sixteenth sections, as well as the present value of such of those lands as remain unsold. Both of these funds may be summarized as follows :

Non-negotiable bonds.....	$3,904,783	21
Common School Fund.....	2,341,267	12
Congressional Township Fund.....	2,372,880	94
Total.....	$8,618,931	27

III. COMMON SCHOOL REVENUES.

The principal sources of our common school revenue are taxes upon the property and poll of the State, interest upon common school fund, liquor licenses, and unclaimed fees.

The following table exhibits the revenue derived from each of these sources for the year ending November 15th, 1873 :

Apportioned by the Superintendent of Public In- struction, collected by tax.....	$1,190,626	65
Interest on common school fund.....	189,455	47
Liquor licenses.....	40,212	50

Unclaimed fees.....	7,193 72
State's interest on bonds paid.....	231,064 50
Other sources.....	27,382 86

Total revenue collected for apportionment.....	$1,685,935 70
Amount apportioned.....	1,646,913 83
Apportioned by County Auditors, interest on the Congressional fund collected and appropriated by the counties.....	98,988 12
Amount derived from local taxation.....	530,667 80

Total.....	629,655 92
Grand total of school revenue for tuition for the year ending November 15, 1873.....	$2,276,569 75

The revenue of 1873 compared with that of 1872,
Increase by State tax.....	120,324 96
Increase by interest on Fund.....	28,615 37
Increase by unclaimed fees.....	6,693 34
Increase by local taxation.....	118,689 15
Increase by interest on bonds.....	7,323 54

Total increase.....	$281,641 36
Decrease by abolishing fees for liquor licenses.....	68,067 50
Decrease in Congressional revenue (only one distri- bution).....	47,992 09
Total decrease.....	116,059 59
Net increase.....	$165,581 77

The increase derived from taxation is due to an increase in the wealth of the people and the number of taxable polls.

The increase in the amount of interest is caused partly by an increase in the productive school fund itself, in accordance with the act of March 11, 1873, and partly by a change of the rate of interest from 7 to 8 per cent.

The increase in the amount derived from unclaimed witness fees is the result of the energy of the Attorney General and County Superintendents, in accordance with the legislation of last winter.

The interest on the Congressional Fund is the amount apportioned in June, and does not include the distribution made in January of this year, and is therefore only about half the usual amount reported from this source.

The same is true of the amount derived from local taxation.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS.

Average length of schools in days.....	105
Average length of schools in months.....	5 $\frac{1}{4}$
Number enrolled in primary schools.....	451,259
Number enrolled in high schools.....	13,895
Average daily attendance of white children.....	295,931
Average daily attendance of colored children.....	2,920
Number of districts in which schools were taught.....	8,918
Number of districts in which colored schools were taught	90
Number of white male and female teachers employed. ..	11,965
Number of colored male and female teachers employed	91
Number of school houses in the State.....	9,202
Number of school houses built within the year.....	465
Cost of same.....	$872,900 73
Whole number of persons licensed by the County
Superintendents.....	9,575

Quite a number of changes were made in our school law by the Legislature at its last session, the wisdom of which can be certainly determined only by a practical test. Among these changes the most important is the abolition of County Examiner, and the creation in its stead of that of

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

The law devolved the selection of this officer upon the township Trustees, who, from their relation to the public schools, were supposed to be peculiarly fitted for making such selection. These appointments were made by the trustees in every county in the State on the first Monday of June last, the day designated by the law. Persons were generally appointed by the Trustees with exclusive reference to their qualifications, and in all such cases the results have been eminently satisfactory, and the law itself has been rendered popular. In a few instances, however, I regret to report, that fealty to political party rather than to common schools, was made the one essential qualification for the office. In such counties the law has failed in a great measure to respond to public expectation. The fault in this case is not in the law itself, but in the administrators of the law.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION.

This Board is composed of all the township and school trustees of the county, together with the County Superintendent, and is another new feature in our school system. It takes its origin in certain "general wants and needs of the schools and school property of which they have charge." It is the special province of this Board to secure the best possible text books for the schools, to relieve the parent of the burden of frequent changes, and to secure uniformity in text books in the same school.

Under the law creating it this Board was not called into existence until as late as September last. It has, therefore, but fairly entered upon its work. Most of its decisions are merely advisory. "In a multitude of counsellors there is safety."

TOWNSHIP INSTITUTES.

Experience had abundantly shown that it was impossible to secure the attendance of all the teachers at the County Institutes, inasmuch as the law made such attendance voluntarily, and that, as a general rule, those teachers who needed the advantages of these institutes most, were the ones who failed to attend. For the purpose, therefore, of reaching all the teachers, and making the benefits of institutes universal, the legislature, at its last session, enacted a law requiring the township trustee to cause to be held in his township "township institutes or model schools, for the improvement of teachers, at least one Saturday in each month during which the public schools may be in progress." This law requires the attendance of all the teachers in the township and for non-attendance imposes a penalty.

Thus far these institutes have been almost universally attended, and they have awakened an interest and a rivalry among teachers which must result in great good to the schools of the State.

CHANGE IN RATE OF INTEREST.

County Auditors inform me that they are now collecting interest at the rate of eight per cent upon all expired loans and new loans, and that they have no difficulty in finding borrowers at the increased rate.

STATE INSTITUTES.

Under the auspices of the State Board of Education three State Teachers' Institutes were held during the past summer. One at Muncie, one at Franklin, and one at Vincennes. These institutes were largely attended by teachers from various parts of the State, and the instruction which was given by experienced educators of our own State and from abroad was invaluable.

COUNTY INSTITUTES.

These have been more generally held than in any former year, and more generally attended by the teachers. With our people they are now a fixed fact. They have given a fresh impetus to the cause of popular education in every county in the State. Perhaps not less than ninety-five per cent of our teachers receive all their professional training in these temporary Normal schools. Trustees in the employment of teachers discriminate in favor of those who attend these institutes and against those who neglect or refuse to attend them. The money used in their support greatly increases the teaching power of the State, and is therefore wisely expended.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The State Normal school has not only maintained its own high character as a professional school, but likewise that of the class of institutions which it represents. "A written pledge on the part of the applicant for admission, filed with the principal, that said applicant will, so far as may be practicable, teach in the common schools of Indiana a period equal to twice the time spent as a pupil in the Normal school," is a condition of admission. In the number of pupils, each year gains upon its predecessor. Its growth has been constant. Each term enrolls from twenty-five to forty per cent more students than the corresponding term of a preceding year. During the past year about three hundred students were in attendance. Twenty of this number graduated, and each of these is faithfully carrying out the condition of admission. The universal verdict in reference to their teaching is that their work is thorough.

The influence of the school is not limited to its graduates. There are many under-graduates whose ideas of school work and methods of instruction have been greatly improved by an attendance at the institution.

This school must ever be regarded as the heart of our common school system.

Chauncy Rose, Esq., a distinguished and wealthy citizen of Terre Haute, generously donated to the institution last year the sum of four thousand dollars for the purchase of a library of reference. More than one half of that sum has been expended in accordance with his wishes, and the institution is now in possession of a very valuable library.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

The reports now on file in this office show that our people have expended during the year past $872,900.73 in the erection of school houses, which is more than has been expended for the same purpose in any preceding year.

The average cost of these is something over $1,800.00, which indicates very clearly the character of these buildings.

Not a child in Indiana, so far as known to me, has been deprived of school privileges for the want of a school house in which to attend school.

CONCLUSION.

Almost every department of our school system indicates progress during the past year. Our permanent school fund has been augmented; our annual school revenue has been increased; more than the usual amount of money has been raised by local taxation; the school houses erected have been more substantial, and more in accordance with true architectural taste; the schools have been better attended, graded and organized; the teachers, been better qualified for their profession, and better paid for their services.

In respect to the average duration of the school term, the year past suffers in comparison with the year immediately preceding; for while as compared with all other years it shows a decided gain, in this instance there is a loss of eleven days. This is much to be regretted, and shows the necessity at once of a law fixing the minimum length of a school term.

In view of the fact that common schools are the only hope of the poor to obtain an education at all, and in view of the additional fact that nineteen-twentieths of our population obtain from common schools all the education they ever do obtain, and that most of our public men receive from these the first elements of thought and their rudimental conceptions of men and things, permit me, in the conclusion of this brief report, to congratulate your Excellency, and through you the entire people of the State, upon the generally prosperous condition of our free public school system.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, INDIANA,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

INDIANAPOLIS, December 31, 1873.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

SIR—I have the honor to submit, herewith, the Annual Report of this Department for the year ending December 31, 1873.

Of ordnance and ordnance stores there was on hand on the first of January last :

Springfield rifles.....	649
Enfield rifles.....	440
Total	1,089

718 light cavalry sabres.

716 Kitridge, Smith & Wesson carbines.

One bronze six-pounder cannon, so badly powder-burned as to be deemed unsafe for firing salutes.

There has been received upon requisition on the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., under the act of Congress of April 23, 1808 :

500 Springfield breech-loading rifle muskets.

150 Spencer repeating rifles.

2 light bronze twelve-pounder cannon.

There has been issued to independent companies within the last year :

100 Springfield rifles to the Evansville Zouaves, Evansville, Indiana.

100 Springfield rifles to the German Sharp-shooters, Evansville, Indiana.

Remaining on hands:

Springfield rifles.....	449
Enfield rifles.....	440
Springfield breech-loading muskets.....	500
Spencer rifles.....	150
Total.....	1,539

There are in the Arsenal two new twelve-pound bronze cannon, one of which has been used for firing salutes, besides one six-pounder badly damaged, and one six-pound Mexican trophy.

There was remaining due this State, after the last requisition for rifles had been filled, the sum of $14,326.

Since then a requisition has been made for six Gatling guns, complete, at an estimated cost of $8,370, leaving still due the State the sum of $5,956, to which must be added this State's distributial share of the $200,000 annually distributed among the several States under an act of Congress of April 23, 1808.

During the past year there have been two occasions for calling on the military force of the State to suppress domestic violence. The first, at Knightsville, in Clay County, on the 15th of April; and the second, at Logansport, Cass County, on the 27th of December. To the former place were sent a detachment of City Police, under command of Chief Thompson, and a detachment of the Emmett Guards under command of Capt. Barry. Sixty Springfield rifles, and 2,000 rounds of ammunition were furnished this expedition. The guns and about one-half the ammunition were returned to the Arsenal. To the latter place were sent a detachment of the City Police, a detachment each of the Guards and College Guards—all under command of Gen. Macauley. This force was furnished with seventy-six (76) Spencer rifles and about 1,500 rounds of ammunition. On the return of this expedition, the arms and ammunition were left with the Sheriff of Cass County, to be used by him, if necessary, in preserving the public peace. These guns and ammunition have not yet been returned to the Arsenal. About this time, 34 Spencer rifles and one box of ammunition were furnished the Sheriff of this County, in order that he might be the better prepared to suppress any violent demonstrations that were then seriously apprehended, in consequence of the railrcad engineers' strike. These guns are still in the custody of the Sheriff. During the troubles in Wayne County, growing out of the removal of the County seat, one box, 1,200 rounds, of ammunition was sent to the Sheriff of Wayne County on his requisition. This box was afterwards returned to the Arsenal ; but the original packages had been opened, and in returning the cartridges, they failed to return the gun caps, thereby rendering the ammunition useless to the State.

Thanking you for advice and assistance rendered me in the discharge of the duties of this office, I am,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. W. CONNER,
Adjutant General, Indiana.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

OF THE

VINCENNES UNIVERSITY

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING JANUARY 1, 1874.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

REPORT.

To the Hon. T. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of the State of Indiana,

And Members of the Legislature :

In accordance with the requirements of the Charter of the Vincennes University, we, the Trustees of said University, herewith respectfully submit the yearly report of the affairs of said University to your honorable body, for the year ending January 1, 1874.

There has been an average attendance since the opening of the school, January 1, 1873, of fifty-two scholars.

The branches taught have been Writing, Orthography, Descriptive Geography, Grammar, Algebra, Arithmetic, Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Latin, German, English Literature, Geology, Botany and Singing.

The Board have employed Prof. L. Prugh, President of the University, at a salary of fifteen hundred dollars; Miss L. V. Stewart, first assistant, at a salary of one thousand dollars; Miss Ray Piety, second assistant, at a salary six hundred dollars.

The funds of the University are invested in Knox County and City of Vincennes, Indiana, Bonds, as reported.

It is the purpose of the Trustees to add to the apparatus as fast as needed, so that the pupils may have every advantage which such a school should give.

The real estate and buildings belonging to the University are valued at seven thousand dollars.

The chemical and philosophical apparatus is valued at about three hundred and twenty-five dollars.

There is a library of several hundred volumes belonging to the University. The pupils have, in addition, the use of the Vincennes Library.

To the Geological specimens already owned by the University, a number, in addition, have been contributed by the Smithsonian Institute, Washington City, and also by the pupils.

Accompanying this report you will find the Annual Circular of the school.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. HITT,
President Board of Trustees.

H. T. ROSEMAN,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

OF THE

INDIANA STATE PRISON

SOUTH.

December 15, 1873.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS :
SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.
1874.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
Jeffersonville, Dec. 15, 1873.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—In accordance with the provisions of law we herewith submit this our first annual report for the year 1873 ending this date.

Accompanying this, please find the Warden's and other officers' reports of the Indiana State Prison, South. From an examination of them it will be seen that the earnings of the prison, from convict labor and all other sources, are in excess of the ordinary running expenses.

The amount expended in repairs of the prison during the year, $17,802.05, is not large; in fact, falls short of the amount which we anticipated at the beginning of the year, not only from taking into view what was set forth by the Warden and the Directors in former reports regarding the dilapidated condition of the prison, but from our own personal observation and from a thorough examination of the condition of the shops, the walls, and in short, the whole structure previous to the repairs having been made. These, as well as the removal of the barn and stables in order to protect them from fire, and re-fencing the garden grounds, together with the various improvements and repairs made, we believe were all necessary and were authorized by us. The prison now appears to be in a very good state of repair, and will not require an extraordinary amount of money to keep it so for some time to come.

The earnings of the prison for the past year are in excess of the ordinary expenses, and, although the excess is small, yet taking into account the great amount of sickness, and necessarily the loss to the labor account from this cause, we think the showing is fully up to what we could reasonably expect, and believe, under the present contracts and management, without any drawbacks from extraordinary sickness or other causes, the prison will be entirely self-sustaining in the future.

It will be remembered that the last legislature elected Mr. Samuel Platt as one of the directors of the prison, in place of Captain John Kirk, believing him ineligible to hold said office for cause. This state of affairs rendered it somewhat embarrassing for the present Board to decide just how to act under the then existing complications, as both of these gentlemen claimed to be entitled to a seat in the Board.

It was finally agreed between these gentlemen that during the time their case was before the courts and until decision was made as to which was legally entitled to hold the office, that neither should be recognized or officiate in the business of the Directory.

As no decision has yet been made in the case, the other two members of the Board transact the official business without apparently any dissatisfaction or unpleasant feelings existing between any of the parties.

Owing to existing complications, as mentioned above, at the time the present Board assumed the duties of their office, it was agreed that no election should take place for the offices of Moral Instructor and Physician until such time as the case in litigation between Messrs. Kirk and Platt should be decided. Therefore, the then present incumbents, the Rev. J. W. Sullivan, Moral Instructor, and Dr. Wm. H. Sheets, Physician, were continued in their positions. And we would desire here to say that we do not think that we could have made any change in either of these departments that would have been more satisfactory to us, or whose efforts could have been more conducive to the moral or medical welfare of the institution. In order that we might become better acquainted with the internal workings of prisons and be better prepared to decide in regard to such internal workings and management, we visited various prisons from time to time, and after a careful observation we can say, without hesitation, that, in our opinion, there is no prison which we have visited that is superior to this in its general management, and we believe the present Warden of this prison, Colonel L. S. Shuler, has no superior as a disciplinarian and in the general management of convicts.

To the officers of the prison and their assistants we would extend our thanks for the faithful performance of their duties, and especially to Col. L. S. Shuler, Warden; Capt. A. M. Luke, Deputy Warden; and R. J. Forsyth, Clerk, for their systematic and able management of the important trusts committed to their care.

Referring to the Warden's report for details, etc., we respectfully submit the matter for consideration.

A. L. MUNSON,
B. F. HILL,
Directors.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
December 15th, 1873.

To the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN—As the above date ends the Prison year, I am reminded that the time has again arrived, provided by law, for the annual reports of this Institution. In accordance therewith, I hereby submit this, my fifth annual report, for the fiscal year ending this date.

By reference to the clerk's reports it will be seen that the total receipts of cash from all sources have been $63,793 66, and the total expenditures $66,796.29, thereby showing an excess of $3,002.63, advanced by the Warden.

The total ordinary expenses for running the Prison during the year is $66,806.23, and the total earnings from convict labor and all other sources is $67,088.39, showing the earnings $282.16 in excess of ordinary expenses.

The expense for repairs done to the Prison during the same time is $17,802.05. This expenditure may appear at first sight to be large, but when you come to take into consideration the great amount of labor on various repairs, it is not excessive.

You will doubtless remember, in reading my last annual report, I called attention to the dilapidated condition of the Prison generally. The walls were decaying and falling to pieces; the shops were in a leaky condition for want of roofing.

I have had the walls which surround the entire grounds thoroughly repaired, and the roofs have been put in a good condition, as well as various minor repairs done, in fact a general overhauling of the entire concern. The walls now are in a good state of repair, and will last so for many years to come, and the various shop roofs, are now, I think, in a better condition than they have been for ten years.

The new addition to the Prison shops on the east side of the Prison yard, and adjoining the buildings occupied by the Warden and Deputy Warden, was converted by the car company into a foundry, for casting car wheels and the State barn and stables, situate in the rear of the Warden's house, were in constant danger of being burnt by sparks from the foundry cupola, as they, as well as the back buildings attached to the dwellings of the Warden and Deputy Warden were on several occasions set on fire from this cause. I therefore found it absolutely necessary to remove the barn and stables some distance across the avenue on the Prison garden grounds. I also removed the wooden roofs from all the back buildings and replaced them with fire-proof material, which with removing the old fence round the garden grounds, which had become unfit to turn stock, and erecting a new fence. These improvements have therefore, very considerably swelled the repairs account.

The large warehouse erected by Hall, Moore & Burkehardt, during their time as contractors of Prison labor, on the west side of the Prison grounds (and which has been greatly in our way, and has much impeded the work of the car company,) I have had removed at some expense, at the same time amicably adjusted matters of difference existing in regard to this with Hall, Moore & B., and thereby avoiding litigation likely to accrue out of this.

After the removal of the female convicts from here, I found it necessary to make some change to facilitate the labor in cleansing the convicts' clothing. I therefore had a furnace erected in the wing of the Prison formerly occupied by the females, suitable for washing purposes, and have connections made with the machinery in the shops, and by the means of shafting extending into the laundry, we will do the washing by machinery erected for this purpose, and will by this improvement reduce the number of men required for this work about one-half.

By reference to the report of assets and liabilities, I find that there is due to sundry parties $27,684.74, and the assets are including $17,848.31, the amount of the invoice $36,741.09. The item of bills receivable is for paper which we hold of the car company, they being unable just at the present to liquidate their indebtedness for labor.

The convict labor account for the year is $65,650.40. The daily average of convicts is 395, which is three less than last year. The females were removed to the Reformatory at Indianapolis, on the 8th day of October; otherwise the daily average would have been just about the same as the year previous.

During the month of July the dysentery made its appearance among the convicts, and in a short time assumed an epidemic character, and only during the present month has the last case been discharged from the hospital. During the season there were about two hundred cases treated for this malady alone; eight convicts died during the prevalence of the epidemic. Over one thousand cases were treated in the hospital from this and all other causes during the year. I would refer you to the Physician's report for details in that department.

After a lapse of two years since the labor of the Prison has been employed in the manufacture of cars, I am fully satisfied that there is no branch of manufacturing now carried on in prisons, that is more suitable or better adapted to convict labor than car manufacturing. In the various departments, where mechanical labor is required in wood and iron work, the men skilled in these branches can be employed, and those who are not mechanics, and whose terms of sentence are too short to instruct them in such mechanical work can be employed in the various departments to a good advantage where ordinary laboring work is required.

The discipline throughout the Prison has been good, in fact better than could reasonably be expected in an institution of this character. The use of the "cat" as a means of enforcing discipline has almost entirely been abolished—is only used in very extreme cases.

I would refer you to the report of the Rev. J. W. Sullivan, Moral Instructor, for all information connected with his department, and I would take this opportunity of expressing my warmest thanks, and deeply sympathize with him in his arduous labors, and his untiring efforts put forth in endeavoring to reform those unfortunate men over whom he has been placed as a "good shepherd."

Before closing this I desire to make special mention of the Prison Physician, Dr. William H. Sheets, and would say that during the past year his duties have been extremely arduous, and I feel highly gratified for the faithfulness displayed by him at all times, and more especially for his zeal and untiring attention in administering to relieve the suffering victims under his care during the prevalence of the late epidemic in the Prison.

I am under many obligations to Captain A. M. Luke, Deputy Warden; R. J. Forsyth, Clerk; and my Assistant Keepers, for the faithful manner in which they have discharged their several duties.

And to you, gentlemen, I would express my warmest thanks for the kind manner in which you have received my suggestions in the various matters of business which have presented themselves to my mind from time to time, and I sincerely hope that all our business and social intercourse may continue as pleasant in the future.

Your obedient servant,

L. S. SHULER, Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH.
JEFFERSONVILLE, December 15th, 1873.

To the Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN:—At the time I submitted my last annual report that fearful disease small-pox was raging in our city to an alarming extent, but by thorough vaccination, and other precautionary means, we escaped its invasion within the walls of the Prison until the month of February. To our astonishment it found its way into the Prison under circumstances altogether unaccountable, which resulted in two cases, one proving fatal. We were fortunate in preventing a general spread of the disease through the Prison. We have had rather more than a usual tendency to febrile diseases, especially of the pernicious type, having treated two hundred and thirty-eight cases.

About the time the cholera made its appearance in our country, a very malignant form of dysentery made its appearance in the prison, and, notwithstanding the strict sanitary precautions which were observed, the disease almost became an epidemic, and continued throughout the summer, until late in the fall. Of this disease we treated one hundred and six cases, and lost eight. In addition we treated one hundred and ninety cases of diarrhoea. A larger number of men were exempted from work, on account of injuries received, than last year.

Our mortuary list is much greater than last year, having lost thirteen by death. At first sight this number would appear very large, or thought to be unprecedented in the history of the Prison, but on examination of the record you will find this not the case. The death rate this year will be three and two-tenths per cent. to three hundred and ninety-five, which is the average number of convicts in prison, and only one and two-tenths to one thousand and ninety-five cases treated. You will also find, on instituting a comparison between the death rate under my predecessor, and that of my own, for the same length of time, or number of years, that mine has been two and one-fourth less per year than his. This difference is not to be attributed to the superior skill of one physician over the other, but rather to the superior management of one general administration over the other, and is only another one of the good results of a policy which seeks to elevate the feelings and inspire the hopes of the convict, and assures him if he is only faithful and obedient, he will be recognized and treated as a man.

The following are the names of those who died during the year:

Ira Dines, died of phthisis-pulmonalis, March 17.

James Glover, colored, died of small-pox, February 22.

Isaac McCarty, died of dysentery, August 2. This man had not been long in prison before attacked, and for some cause did not come to the sick call until he was almost prostrated, when he was at once placed in hospital and put under treatment.

James Donehue, died of chronic inflammation of the bowels, September 13. This man was serving out his second term, but so diseased that he was under treatment about all the time while in prison.

Larkin Lamar, died of typhoid fever, September 15. This man was insane and before conviction had been a patient in the Insane Asylum and should have been kept there.

Cadwell Emmons, died of dysentery, October 3. This man was a usedup old syphilitic case.

George Reed and John Bateman died of dysentery, October 4. These were both old syphilitic cases. Bateman was well advanced in years.

Albert Johnson, died of dysentery, October 5. This was a young man who felt keenly his imprisonment, and through diffidence or some other cause did not come to the sick call for a week or more after he was attacked with the disease.

William Cross, died of dysentery, October 6. This man led a hard life; his whole system was diseased. He was among the first who took the dysentery and recovered so as to go about, but relapsed and died.

Independence Rork, died of phthisis-pulmonalis, October 31.

Eugene Sullivan, died of dysentery, November 8. This man also bore the marks of a diseased body and a dissipated life.

John Burns, died of dysentery, November 20. This man was sentenced the second time, May 1, 1873, and at once admitted to the hospital and treated for syphilis, where he remained for some time and was finally sent out to work. In September he took the fever and was just convalescing from that when he took the dysentery and died.

It is a matter of history in this prison that the large majority of deaths that occur are among those who have led lives of dissipation and debauchery, having contracted disease before they came. At this time we have four in hospital and they are all chronic cases. Our department was very much relieved on the removal of the females to their prison at the capital, both by way of expense and annoyance.

Our hospital steward resigned his position and on the 1st of October the place was filled by securing the services of Mr. Ed. Gilpin, a young man who has studied medicine and attended one course of medical lectures. He manifested great interest in his duties, and under his direction, with the consent of the Warden, he has thoroughly renovated and repainted the hospital and its adjoining rooms, and indeed has looked after all the sanitary matters connected with the prison.

At this date the general health of the prison is very good. Every facility has been afforded for the treatment and comfort of the convicts when under my care.

I again acknowledge my indebtedness to the Warden, Deputy Warden and other officers of the prison for their kind assistance in the discharge of my duties. And, gentlemen, accept my sincere thanks for the kindness you have extended to me. With this you will find a summary of complaints.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM H. SHEETS,
Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON, SOUTH,
CHAPLAIN'S OFFICE, December 15, 1873.

MESSRS. A. L. MUNSON AND B. F. HILL, Directors:

GENTLEMEN:—In presenting this, my thirteenth annual report, as Chaplain of this prison, I would desire, first of all, to acknowledge the hand of a kind providence by which we have been sustained through the labors of another year.

While it is my object and aim to secure the moral enlightenment and spiritual reformation of the prisoner, it is the occasion of sorrow that so many of the inmates are found “seeking death in the error of their ways.” Notwithstanding this is fearfully true, yet there is a good moral influence, pervading to some extent the entire prison, while more or less success has attended the efforts made and instrumentalities employed to lead the unfortunate victims of temptation and crime into the paths of virtue and religion.

Quite a number of those who have left the prison this year have gone out redeemed and saved, who, as we learn, still maintain their integrity, while many who still remain are preparing to follow in their footsteps.

Our library is in a good state of preservation although some of our books have fallen into bad hands and badly used, yet as a general thing they are well taken care of; they are regularly distributed, of which a strict account is kept.

We gratefully acknowledge a valuable acquisition to our library through the kindness of the Society of Friends at Plainfield, by a donation of fifty-three Bibles and sixty-six Testaments. Also from other sources a large number of most valuable magazines which has added greatly to our fund of reading matter.

Our Sabbath school is growing in interest of late. We are favored with the assistance of several gentlemen from the outside who have kindly offered their services as teachers and the result has been a larger attendance on the part of prisoners, which promises great good.

There is an unusual amount of religious interest in the prison at the present time, and our prayer meetings are well attended. Great respect is paid to all services of the chapel, while to many the Gospel has not come in word only, but in demonstration of the spirit and of power, who now rejoice in the assurance of the forgiveness of sins.

I would express my high appreciation of the valuable aid afforded me while in the discharge of my responsible duties in the countenance and support of the Warden and his subordinates.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. SULLIVAN,

Chaplain.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OF THE

NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 15, 1873.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

DIRECTORS' OFFICE, NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,
MICHIGAN CITY, INDIANA, Dec. 16, 1873.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana.

SIR:—We have the honor to submit at this time to your Excellency our first Annual Report of the condition of the Northern Indiana Prison, for the current year ending December 15, 1873.

We may congratulate your Excellency and the State upon the present condition of the prison financially and otherwise.

Entering upon the discharge of our duties as Directors on the 11th of March, 1873, we are enabled to state, that during the time elapsing since, we have sustained no losses which were not at once repaired with little expense. We have met as yet no depressing circumstances affecting in any manner the good order, discipline or economical management of the Institution; but have every reason to be gratified at the faithful, efficient, prompt and humane manner in which the several officers of the prison have discharged their duties.

We believe we may refer with satisfaction, if not with pride, to the fact that there has been but a single death from natural causes in the prison during this year; and this was from disease contracted prior to the admission of the prisoner. This we attribute to the constant care and attention bestowed on the convicts by the prison physician, Dr. Charles C. Hamrick, and to the sanitary measures adopted and strictly enforced by the officers; not the least of which is the superior quality of the provisions furnished for the convicts, of which we have made personal and satisfactory inspection. We have a further cause for congratulation, in the fact that during the year there has been but little sickness of any character in the prison.

One death from violence was and is cause of much regret, although, under the circumstances, unavoidable. Joseph Simpson, a convict whose term of imprisonment would have expired in November, 1873, became, from some cause unknown, incensed at the Deputy Warden, Mr. Charles A. Manning; procuring a cooper's broad ax from one of the shops, he passed rapidly across the yard, entered the guard room, where Mr. Manning and one of the directors were alone. Not heeding the order to retire, he at once made a most murderous attack upon the Deputy Warden, who to preserve his own life, was compelled to take that of the prisoner, which he did. A Coroner's inquest fully exonerated Mr. Manning from all blame in the premises.

We have every reason to be gratified at the financial condition of the prison, while we are satisfied it has not been attained by a parsimonious or niggardly management, but by a careful, judicious and economical expenditure of money. The prisoners are comfortably clothed, well fed, and in general as well contented as from their circumstances could reasonably be expected.

We desire in this connection to acknowledge to Mr. Charles Mayne, Warden, the obligations of this Board and of the State for his honest and economical management of the financial affairs of the prison, and for the efficient manner in which he has discharged the various and onerous duties devolving upon him; also to Mr. Charles A. Manning, Deputy Warden, to whom for the present admirable discipline, and thorough yet cheerful subordination of the convicts, we are largely indebted; a discipline and subordination brought about by means as mild and humane as the necessities of the institution would admit of.

We wish further to express our approbation of the faithful and efficient administration by Captain Taylor, of the steward's department, and of the office of Clerk, by J. H. Bowes, Esq., two important interests of the prison.

The moral deportment of the prisoners has been and is as good perhaps as can be found in most institutions of similar character. We may in justice say that much of this is due to the kindly influences exerted by Rev. G. C. Beeks, moral instructor, whose teachings and example we trust will continue to influence the lives and characters of these unfortunate men who have had the benefit of his instructions, long after they shall have left the prison and again taken up the burden of life with better hopes and purer motives.

The only official changes which have occurred during the year are those of physician and steward. Dr. J. P. Sinclair resigned the office of physician, and Dr. Charles C. Hamrick was chosen. George McDonell resigned the office of steward, and Captain Joseph Taylor was appointed and confirmed.

A most important branch of the prison government is that committed to the assistant keepers, who come continually in contact with the prisoners. In this respect we have been fortunate in securing in most instances men in whom the officers may repose confidence; men of good moral standing, gentlemanly yet firm in their intercourse with the men, requiring a ready obedience to the rules and regulations of the prison.

The following is a summary of the financial transactions of the prison for the year as appears from the clerk's report, to which reference is made for details of the same :

Amount received from income of prison.....	$57,465	23
Amount disbursed for current and ordinary expenses.....	49,743	86
Leaving an excess of receipts over expenditures.....	$ 7,721	37

A result especially gratifying in view of the fact that no pains have been spared to furnish the convicts with an abundant supply of wholesome food, and to make such improvement in their clothing as seemed necessary.

The total receipts from all sources, including

Appropriations for water, clothing and library, are.....	$62,965	23
Total expenditures.....	53,127	90
	$9,837	33
Balance on hand at last report.....	1,580	49
Showing balance on hand December 15, 1873.....	$11,417	82

The appropriation made by the last Legislature of $10,000 a year for current expenses of the prison has not been drawn, and as there is no probability of its being required for that purpose it seems very desirable that the appropriation be so changed as to permit the fund to be used for such permanent improvements and buildings as are urgently needed.

Two contracts only have expired during the year, one of J. H. Winterbotham, Sons & Co., of fifty men at fifty cents per day, and one of Ford & Johnson of one hundred men at same price. Both of these contracts were extended for five years at an advance of ten cents a day.

For accounts more in detail relating to these several departments, we beg to refer to the reports of the officers in charge.

One of the most important matters which claimed our attention, was the means of furnishing a supply of water for protection against fire, and for sanitary purposes. Investigations were at once instituted to ascertain the best and cheapest means of obtaining the necessary supply and the probable cost of the same. After careful examination it was determined to sink an artesian well. A contract was accordingly entered into with Messrs. Beach & Miller, of Chicago, and work commenced in July last. The estimated cost of the well, taking the wells at Chicago as a basis, was about $6,000, but fortunately at a depth of five hundred and forty-one feet a vein of water was reached which furnishes an ample supply for all present or probable future needs of the prison. Arrangements were at once made to utilize the supply of water, which rises twenty-four feet above the surface of the ground and flows about three hundred gallons per minute.

A steam force pump was purchased of Messrs. Dean Brothers, of Indianapolis, and the work of laying down mains and hydrants is now in progress. The entire cost of the water works, including the necessary hose, etc., will reach about $5,000. The appropriation of $2,000, made by the last Legislature for this purpose has been used; the balance of three thousand we shall be able to pay from the current receipts of the Prison, which, we believe, will be ample to defray all current expenses as well as to meet the demands for permanent improvements which are being made and contemplated.

We desire earnestly to call your Excellency's attention to the absence of all facilities for the proper care and treatment of insane convicts. There is no apartment in the Prison where such persons can be confined, except in the cell-house, where their presence can not but be injurious and demoralizing to the prisoners generally and detrimental to the welfare of the insane.

We would recommend that a suitable building be erected within the prison walls where such unfortunates may be confined and receive at the same time such treatment as will induce improvement and cure if possible. Instances have already occurred in which the patients had to be removed from their cells, on account of their noisy demonstrations, and confined in the hospital or the wash-room, requiring the constant attention of a guard, at additional expense and to the detriment to the good order of the institution. Economy and humanity alike demand that this improvement be made, and as speedily as circumstances will admit of.

In making his Report, the Warden has considered it better to omit the names of the convicts, for various reasons, which we indorse, one of the strongest perhaps being the fact that it answers no profitable purpose, (the same facts and statistics being found in the tabular exhibits,) and serves as an advertisement to the public that those whose names appear, have served in the penitentiary; weakening the incentives to honest industry, which we believe many carry with them when discharged. From our limited intercourse with the men confined in this prison, we do not believe that its discipline and teachings, as some assert, are calculated to deepen their moral degradation. There are those whose characters will not be reformed by any term of service here. There are yet others, whose crimes have been more their misfortune than a willingness voluntarily to violate the laws. To such, the publication of their names in a prison report will doubtless prove an injury, which policy as well as humanity dictates we should avoid.

For further information regarding details of financial condition, I would respectfully refer you to the report of the clerk, Mr. John H. Bowes.

It is a subject of congratulation that I am thus enabled to report so favorable a condition of the financial status of the prison, showing that the receipts for the past year over and above the disbursements for current and ordinary expenses were $7,721.37, besides having on hand a large amount of supplies, including about one thousand and six hundred yards of cloth valued at one thousand and six hundred dollars, more than we had the same time last year. The amount of outstanding indebtedness will not exceed one hundred dollars.

In the foregoing financial statement I have not included as a matter of revenue the labor of a large number of prisoners that are employed for the State in the hospital, kitchen, dining room, tailor and shoe shops, cell house, and yard, who, with invalids and cripples, number about fifty men. If, however, the value of such labor should be fairly estimated it would not fall much short of five thousand dollars.

The increased amount paid the guards arises from an additional compensation to each of five dollars per month. Through the extension of two of the contracts, which has recently taken effect, at an increased rate of ten cents per day, the receipts for the coming year will be greatly increased.

The sanitary condition of the prison for the past year has been unusually good, and for a full statement of which I would refer you to the report of Dr. Charles C. Hamrick. Only two deaths have occurred within the walls of the prison during the year: Timothy Foley, who died from inanition after a long and protracted illness, and Joseph Simpson, who made a murderous attempt upon the life of the Deputy Warden with a cooper's broad ax. Although Simpson was repeatedly warned by the Deputy to desist, and still persistently with murderous and fearful intent, endeavored to kill him, the latter, to save his own life, shot him, from the effects of which he died. A coroner's jury was immediately impaneled, which, after fully examining the case, rendered a verdict justifying the Deputy Warden in his act.

In accordance with the order of your honorable Board, Hon. A. B. Capron, Director, Dr. G. C. Beeks, Moral Instructor, and myself, after careful selection, purchased an addition to our almost depleted library of about three hundred volumes of books, at a cost of $411 80, leaving a balance of $88 20 still on hand of the amount appropriated therefor, applicable for the further increase thereof.

The last Legislature made an appropriation of ten thousand dollars for the current expenses of this prison. As no additional funds have been required therefor, more than that received from the labor of the prison for that purpose, of course it was not necessary to draw upon that appropriation. In fact, when it is considered that the institution has, for the last three years, made a surplus, and that during that time no appropriation has been asked for, for that object, it seems quite unnecessary that the appropriation should have been made.

The contract made by you with Messrs. Beach & Miller, for sinking an artesian well within the prison walls, was fully carried out, and after going to a depth of 541½ feet, there was obtained a flow of water, of mineral composition, of an average quantity of about 300 gallons a minute, at a cost of $2,565.07. I have also contracted for pipe, mains, hydrants, and one of Dean & Bro.'s No. 9 steam pumps, which, including hose, will cost altogether about $2,500 additional. When the work in connection therewith, is entirely completed, which will be by the 10th of January next, we will have a sufficient and reliable means at hand at all times for the extinguishment of fires, and also for sanitary purposes in cleaning out all the sewers of the prison. These advantages have long been needed and are of inestimable benefit.

The long list of the names and descriptions of the prisoners has been omitted for the reason that I do not think it right to publish it. It is an injustice to the prisoners to publish to the world their shame, and degrading their relatives and posterity. For any matters relating to them, our books are open to any one who takes an interest in them. A full and concise statement of the prisoners, nativity, crimes, terms, etc., will be found in the statistical tables appended to the clerk's report.

It is a matter of congratulation that I am able to report favorably in regard to the discipline of the prison. With but few exceptions the conduct of the prisoners has been good and the rules of the prison have been generally closely regarded. All of the prisoners seem, as a general thing, as cheerful and contented as possible under the circumstances.

It is very necessary that a suitable building should be erected for the confinement of prisoners who are more or less insane, or who pretend to be so. As there is almost always one or more such cases among the number of those sent to the prison, it frequently occurs whilst in the cell house, where, only, they can be safely confined, that they greatly disturb the other prisoners and thereby have a very bad effect upon the discipline of the prison.

To the officers of the institution, Charles A. Manning, Deputy Warden; John H. Bowes, Clerk; Dr. Charles C. Hamrick, Physician; Rev. G. C. Beeks, Moral Instructor; Joseph F. Taylor, Steward, and the Guards, I return my sincere thanks for the very efficient manner in which they have all faithfully performed the various duties entrusted to them, and by whose assistance I have been enabled to successfully manage the prison.

In concluding this report, I wish to express to you, gentlemen, my sincere thanks for the very cordial support you have extended to me, and I attribute to your co-operation much of the success of the institution.

I remain your obedient servant,

CHAS. MAYNE,

Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
NORTHERN INDIANA STATE PRISON,
MICHIGAN CITY, IND., December 15th, 1873.

To the Honorable Board of Control:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith transmit for your consideration, the usual annual Sanitary Report. Having each month during the year presented to you, a written report of the affairs of my department, as provided for by law, a lengthy statement at this time will not be necessary.

The health of the prisoners, compared with former years has been good. We have had the usual run of endemic and epidemic diseases, incident to this climate and locality. We have had but two deaths during the year. Timothy Foley, life prisoner, died of inanition, May 2d, 1873. He was a man, old beyond his years, and extremely infirm. He had been slowly dying to use his own language, for a year. Joseph Simpson was instantly killed, by a pistol shot, August 15th, 1873. The ball entered his body in the epigastric region, touching the heart in its passage. As his death was the result of his own murderous action a post mortem examination was not considered necessary. This I think is the smallest mortuary list ever known at this prison. The number of deaths for the two preceding years, were six for each year.

In looking over the reports of other prisons I am satisfied that the percentage of deaths, at this prison, is less than at almost any other prison in the United States. This is due perhaps in a great measure to our healthy location. Imperfect ventilation and crowd poison are crying evils in many public institutions. Our system of ventilation is good, more perfect in fact than that of most dwellings.

Our sewerage is also excellent. Scrupulous cleanliness has been enforced among the prisoners. Every department of the prison has been daily, thoroughly policed and cleaned, and at no time has any noisome or disagreeable odor been observable. Every condition conducive to health has been observed. Disinfectants were freely used about all the premises during the hot weather, when we feared a visitation of cholera.

The prisoners have been better fed this year, than at any time previous, since my first connection with the institution. A greater variety of plain, common food has been furnished. Our Warden, Mr. Charles Mayne, deserves great credit for supplying the prisoners with an abundance of fresh, healthy vegetables in their season. To this fact is due in a great measure the universal healthy condition of the men. We have lost less time than usual, this year, on account of sickness.

I earnestly hope your honorable Board will not delay longer in providing some better means for heating our hospital. I would also recommend that some arrangement be effected, whereby the men can have better facilities for bathing. I have before recommended that they be given more time for that purpose.

I am under obligations to all the prison officials, for the hearty and kindly manner in which they have supported me in the discharge of my duties. I thank them all. I have only to hope that my association with them, and with you, gentlemen, will be as pleasant in the future as in the past.

CHARLES C. HAMRICK,
Resident Physician.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

MICHIGAN CITY, December 15, 1873.

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN—In submitting to you my report for the year now closing, I am glad to have it in my power to say that I have nothing of a discouraging nature to write.

The moral status of the prison is certainly no less encouraging than at the commencement of the year, and I think I may in truth say it is improving rather than deteriorating.

A number have professed conversion during the year, whose subsequent conduct evinces a change of heart, which I sincerely hope may be permanent, and afford them protection both from the repetition of crime and from suffering further shame.

The Sabbath School was never in a more hopeful condition than at present. Many, who at the beginning of the year, were unable to spell words of two letters, are now reading and some of them writing.

While I would not make invidious comparisons, without flattery to myself or unmerited praise to the officers and guards, I may be permitted to say that the order of the prison was never better than at present and will compare favorably with the best regulated prisons of the country.

The Prison Library has been replenished during the year, and though not to the extent that was desired, it is much better than ever before, both in the number of books, and in the variety and quality of the reading matter.

In conclusion, gentlemen, allow me to say that I am under many obligations, both to yourselves and to the officers and guards of the prison, for the very many acts of kindness shown me during our present relations to each other.

Very respectfully your obedient servant,

G. C. BEEKS,

Moral Instructor.

MANAGERS' REPORT.

INDIANAPOLIS, January 1, 1874.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

SIR:—In pursuance of the provisions of section eleven of the act establishing a Female Prison and Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, the undersigned, Managers of said Institution, have the honor to make and submit to you the following detailed report of their doings as such Managers, and of the receipts and expenditures of said Institution, and of the results so far attained and other information relative thereto.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The first and only previous report of this Board was made to His Excellency, Governor Baker, January 18, 1871, and was by him communicated to the General Assembly, January 25, 1871. It reported the progress made up to December 31, 1870, inclusive. From it a full and detailed description of the buildings then in process of erection may be gained. Since that time an unexpected delay has occurred in completing the work, on account of a want of appropriations. After the close of the legislative session, in 1871, when it was found that the means were not in their hands to proceed with the building, the Board, with the assistance of the supervising architect, estimated the existing indebtedness to contractors and issued certificates therefor, as follows :

To Messrs. Boedeker & Nieman, on account of carpenter work done and materials furnished, the sum of $1,522.27; to the Indianapolis Gas Light and Coke Company, for gas mains furnished and laid from the National Road, near the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, to the Reformatory building, cast pipe, wrought pipe, etc., the sum of $1,518.10; to Messrs. Tutewiler & Sutton, for work done and materials furnished on account of their contract for the plastering of the Institution, the sum of $1,520.02; to Messrs. Boller & Knierim, for work done and materials furnished on account of their contract for painting and glazing, the sum of $750.32; to John G. Hanning, on account of steam heating and gas fitting, the sum of $8,746.46; to Isaac Hodgson, architect, for professional services, $1,127.96, and to Messrs. Foster & Wiggins, for cement furnished, the sum of $222.08. These allowances were made April 28, 1871. At the same time, the Board took account of and sold the brick remaining unused and not needed in the construction of the building, amounting in all to the sum of $832 50. It was ordered that this amount be used in payment of the bills for hauling, the wages of the engineer and watchman, and the bill for fitting up the rooms in the residence of the engineer. The account of the disbursement of this money, which was not returned to the Treasury, is given elsewhere. On the 28th of June, 1871, a further allowance was made to Messrs. Tutewiler & Sutton, on account of plastering, and the amount thereof, namely, $690.56, was certified to them as before, making the entire indebtedness then found in their favor, $2,210.58. At the same time a like certificate of indebtedness was executed to Messrs. Bramhall, Deane & Co., for the sum of $630, on account of two cooking ranges furnished the Institution. Thenceforward until the meeting of the last General Assembly, the labors of the Board were limited to the supervision and protection of the valuable property acquired by the State.

In his message to the Special Session, November 14, 1872, Governor Baker used the following language:

“The Indiana Reformatory Institute for Women and Girls. The building for this much needed institution has remained in an unfinished condition for the last two years, no appropriation having been made to complete it. It is highly important that the building should be speedily completed and furnished, to the end that the female prisoners now in the State Prison at Jeffersonville should be removed thereto, pursuant to the requirements of the act for the establishment of the institution. It is also highly important that the reformatory department of the institution should be open for the reception of girls at the earliest practicable period.

“There is an existing indebtedness of about $20,000, contracted in the erection of the building, and I trust that an appropriation will be made to pay this, and also to complete and furnish the building, fence the grounds, and put the institution in operation.”

In his message to the Regular Session, January 10, 1873, he said:

“I beg leave to again call your attention to the unfinished condition of the Indiana Reformatory for Women and Girls, and to urge the passage of the bill which passed the House at the late session and is now pending in the Senate in relation thereto. A bill, of which this is a copy, received the sanction of the proper committees two years ago, and the passage of the pending bill was recommended by the Senate committee at the late special session. The debt due on account of the construction of the building ought to be paid without further delay, and the building should be completed and the female prisoners now in the State Prison at Jeffersonville ought to be removed to the Reformatory at the earliest practicable time.”

The supplemental act, which became a law February 3, 1873, fully met the foregoing recommendations of your predecessor and received your approval. By its first section was “appropriated the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of completing and finishing the building already erected for said institution, and for fencing and putting in order the grounds appurtenant to said building.” Doubts having arisen as to whether that appropriation could be applied to the payment of existing indebtedness, it was declared by a joint resolution subsequently passed and approved February 6, 1873, “that said appropriation was intended to be applied, so far as necessary, to the payment of all just debts contracted in the erection of the building of said institution,” and that such is “the true intent and meaning of said first section.”

By the use of this liberal appropriation the buildings and ground have, since that time, been placed in such condition as to admit of their use for the purposes contemplated by the original act. A more particular report is respectfully submitted:

On the third day of February, 1873, the Board estimated the amount of principal and interest due each of the contracting parties on the certificates of indebtedness before issued to them and fixed the several sums in their favor as follows:

To Messrs. Boedeker & Nieman, $1,763.28; to the Indianapolis Gas Light and Coke Company, $1,758.46; to Messrs. Tutewiler & Sutton, $2,560.57; to Messrs. Boller & Knierim, $869.11; to John G. Hanning, $10,131.30; to Isaac Hodgson, $1,306.53; to Messrs. Foster & Wiggins, $257.23; and to Messrs. Bramhall, Deane & Co., $729.75; making an aggregate indebtedness of $19,376.23.

These several amounts were immediately certified to the Executive Department for your Excellency's approval and payment in the manner prescribed by the act.

At a meeting of the Board held February 25, 1873, the architect was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the remainder of the work necessary to complete the Institution, and the President of the Board was authorized and directed to advertise for sealed proposals for the work and materials necessary to be done and furnished to prepare the building for occupancy. The notice to contractors and builders having been given by the President, as ordered, the Board, on the eighth day of April, 1873, opened and considered the bids made in response thereto and awarded contracts as follows:

To D. Coulter, for the plumbing, at $3,500; to Tutewiler & Sutton, for plastering, calsimining, whitewashing and repairing of deafening, $1,917; to Henry Nieman, for carpenter work, including materials, hardware, etc., $5,850; to Boller & Knierim, for painting, varnishing, etc., $938.

The President was authorized to and did contract with John Stumph & Co., for rubble masonry, etc.; with Haugh & Co., for iron work and materials; with Johnson Brothers, for galvanized iron work and slating; and with other bidders for several jobs of less important work.

On the 10th day of June, 1873, the President presented a contract with John Martin for brick work, amounting to $325, which was approved by the Board, and Messrs. Cleveland & French were allowed $141 for professional services, including a landscape design for the grounds, letter of instructions, etc., and traveling expenses.

A more comprehensive view of the work accomplished may be gained from the account of disbursements accompanying this report and forming a part of it.

The description of the building already published in the first report, is so full and minute that it is unnecessary to occupy further space by a repetition of it. The original plan has not been materially changed. Those parts which had not then been reached have since been completed. Except in a few small particulars the entire structure, as designed, has been finished. It remains for the people of the State and their representatives to determine how faithfully, economically, and well it has been done. We anticipate a favorable opinion of this most recent undertaking of the State in architecture.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS.

The Board on the 12th day of June, 1873, appointed Mrs. Sarah J. Smith, of Indianapolis, to be Superintendent of the Institution and the appointment was approved by your Excellency on the twenty-seventh day of the same month. Before entering upon the discharge of her duties, she gave a bond to the State of Indiana in the sum of ten thousand dollars, executed by her husband James Smith, and ample security approved by the Board, conditioned for the faithful performance of her duties as such Superintendent and that she would faithfully account for all moneys, property and effects entrusted to her as such. The bond, as approved, has been filed in the office of the Secretary of State. She has also taken and subscribed an affirmation to discharge the duties of her said office with fidelity. The affirmation has also been filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

On the twenty-ninth day of July, 1873, the Board appointed subordinate officers of the Institution, and fixed the salaries of the Superintendent and other persons employed, as follows: James Smith, the husband of Mrs. Sarah J. Smith, to be Steward, at a salary of four hundred dollars per annum from the date of his appointment, with the consent of the Board that he may reside in the Institution; Mrs. Elmira Johnson to be Matron, at a salary of five hundred dollars per annum from the date of her appointment; Miss Martha Pray to be a teacher, at a salary of four hundred dollars per annum, to commence when ordered by the Board; Robert Gray, to be Engineer at a salary of seven hundred and twenty dollars per annum from July 13, 1873. The salary of the Superintendent, Sarah J. Smith, was fixed at the sum of eight hundred dollars per annum, to begin at the date of her appointment, namely, June 10, 1873. On the eighth day of October, 1873, the Board appointed Dr. Theophilus Parvin, of Indianapolis, to be Physician of the Institution, at a compensation of four hundred dollars per annum; William Gray to be Assistant Engineer, at a salary of fifty-five dollars per month; W. W. Moore to be a watchman at a salary of six hundred dollars per annum; Annie Mather, to be an assistant teacher, at a salary of fifteen dollars per month; and a domestic servant at twelve dollars per month. These several appointments and orders of the Board have met with the approval of your Excellency.

APPOINTMENT OF VISITORS.

In accordance with the requirements of section thirty-nine of the act establishing the Institution, Hon. Conrad Baker, Mrs. Addison L. Roache and Mrs. Rhoda M. Coffin, were, by your Excellency, on the seventeenth day of July last, appointed a Board of Vistors to visit and inspect the Institution and examine as to its treatment, the employment and condition of its inmates and the management of its affairs, including the expenditures. To enable the Board to properly discharge its delicate and respónsible duties, the members thereof have been afforded all needful facilities. The result of their visitations will doubtless be submitted to your Excellency in the report required of them by law.

OPENING OF THE INSTITUTION.

On the sixth day of September last, the Board had the honor to lay before you a communication informing you that the Institution was then so far completed as to admit of the reception of inmates. Thereupon your Excellency issued the proclamation contemplated by the statute announcing that the Institution was open for the reception of innmates. Thereupon, your Excellency is-ued the proclamation contemplated by the statute, announcing that the Institution was open for the reception of inmates from and after the ninth of that month. Your Excellency afterwards, namely, on the fourth day of October, instructed the Warden of the State Prison South to transfer all the female convicts in his custody and deliver them to the Superintendent of the Reformatory Institution. This was accomplished on the eighth day of the same month. The report of the Superintendent will show the inner management of the Institution from that date.

APPROPRIATIONS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

By the thirty-fourth section of the act approved May 13, 1869, the sum of fifty thousand dollars was appropriated to carry out the provisions of that act. The first report exhibits the disbursements made by the Board up to and including December 31, 1870, as follows:

Excavation.....	$721 20
Rubble stone work.....	3,892 25
Cut stone work.....	1,751 66

Brick making.....	$9,188 55

	—————$49,788 41

The expenditures on account of the Institution, at the close of the calendar year 1872, as appears from the several annual reports and the monthly statements of the Auditor and Treasurer of State, amount to $51,686.91. This sum includes the disbursements above set forth and also, four hundred dollars paid on account of galvanized iron work, etc., salaries of Managers and Secretary and pay of watchmen employed to protect the buildings, and shows an overdraft of $1,686.91. During the year ending December 31, 1873, disbursements from the building fund appropriation were made as follows:

ESTIMATES FOR FURNITURE.

On the twenty-ninth day of July, 1873, in pursuance of the requirements of the second section of the supplemental act, the Board submitted to the Auditor of State a communication showing that a part of the Institution was then ready to be furnished and setting out an itemized estimate of the articles needed for that purpose, with the estimated cost of each item or article, which estimate was verified by the oath of the President of the Board and required the sum of five thousand six hundred and seventy-four dollars and seventeen cents. Upon the submission of this estimate, the Board constituted by the act, composed of your Excellency, the Secretary of State and the Treasurer of State, authorized the Auditor so to do, and he caused a warrant to be issued to the President of the Board for the amount asked and the same was paid.

On the eleventh day of December, 1873, a second estimate was in like manner made, approved and paid, amounting to two thousand and ninety-one dollars and ninety cents. These several amounts have been applied to the purposes for which they were asked. A detailed account of the proceedings under said section two may be gained from the full record thereof which the act requires to be kept and preserved by the Auditor of State. The aggregate of drafts so made upon the Treasury is as follows:

December 11. Second estimate.....	2,091 90
	<hr/>
Total.....	$7,766 07

ESTIMATES OF CURRENT EXPENSES.

As required by the third section of the supplemental act, the Superintendent, at the commencement of each month, has prepared and verified by her affirmation, an estimated itemized statement, in writing, of the amounts required to meet the current expenses of the Institution during the month, setting forth in each the number of inmates in each of the departments of the Institution, and, also, the number of officers and persons employed therein on the first day of the month. These several estimates were presented to the Auditor of State and by him submitted to the Board, consisting of your Excellency, the Secretary of State and Treasurer of State, and were by it approved and allowed, the Auditor of State, being directed in writing so to do, drawing his warrant for the amount thereof and the Treasurer of State paying the same to the Superintendent. An account of these proceedings, which is required to be kept and preserved by the Auditor of State, will afford more complete information. The "account of current expenses" kept by the Steward and reported to the Board of Managers, a copy of which is submitted herewith, will afford a clear view of the management of the financial affairs of the Institution.

As required by section four of the supplemental act, the Board of Managers and Superintendent, at the close of the six months ending December 31, 1873, made their itemized report to the Auditor of State of the expenditures of money drawn from the treasury under the provisions of sections two and three of the act. It is substantially the same as that contained herein. The record of proceedings required to be kept by him will more fully show the particulars thereof.

ESTIMATE OF EXPENSES OF INMATES.

As required by section thirty-one of the original act, the Board, with your approval, has estimated and determined "the actual expense per annum of clothing and subsisting an infant committed to the reformatory department of the Institution" and has fixed the amount thereof at two hundred dollars.

CONSTITUTION OF THE BOARD.

At the making of the last report, the Board of Managers was composed of James M. Ray, who served as President, F. G. Armstrong and Joseph I. Irwin, with John M. Commons, Governor's Private Secretary, acting ex officio and by special appointment, as its Secretary. Mr. Ray having resigned, Stoughton A. Fletcher, jr., was appointed and, after qualifying, assumed the duties of a manager February 3, 1873. On the twenty-fifth day of the same month he was chosen President and has continued to act as such. Captain Commons faithfully served as Secretary until October 31, 1873, when his resignation deprived the Board of his valuable experience and practical business management of its records and accounts.

CONCLUSION.

For details, statistics, accounts current, and other matters more immediately within the province of the Superintendent, Steward and Physician, we refer to the reports of those officers, copies of which are submitted herewith. The report of the Board of Visitors will afford some suggestions of improvements that should be well considered and, if possible, carried out. The next report will more properly contain any recommendations to be laid before the General Assembly. The means necessary to put the grounds in proper condition should be placed at the disposal of the Board, when the more important work of completing the buildings shall have been disposed of. It is the ardent wish of the Board that the Institution may be so successful as to commend it alike to the generous support of the Legislature and the good will and confidence of the people of the State.

Respectfully,

S. A. FLETCHER, JR.,

JOSEPH I. IRWIN,

F. G. ARMSTRONG,

Board of Managers.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Managers of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls:

On receiving the appointment, tenth of seventh month, I visited the penitentiary at Detroit, the better to understand the workings of a model prison. Many similar institutions had been visited in England; yet the American character, life and habits differ so widely, I thought best to have a precedent near our field of operation. On the eighteenth, we occupied the unfinished building, the better to superintend some necessary changes and prepare for the inmates.

The twelfth of ninth month, the Reformatory department was opened to take two girls out of jail, as they could be more profitably employed clearing the rubbish from the new building. The Prison Department opened on the eighth of tenth month, with seventeen prisoners received from Jeffersonville penitentiary, accompanied by the Warden, Chaplain and Matron, all of whom feared we should have trouble, as the moral character of some was below hope, and two were dangerous. Our first great trial was the suppressing of tobacco. When told they could not use it in any form, gloom and sadness settled like a pall upon them which taxed all our ingenuity to dispel. Our superior accommodations sank in utter insignificance, and with little exception, they wished themselves back to "old Jeff!" We soon got to work, having reserved washing, sewing and house-cleaning for them, and though our rules seemed hard, they have complied more willingly and cheerfully than we anticipated. There have been four added to the number, and am glad to state after the completion of the laundry we were able to procure washing to keep those able employed. Sewing and knitting have been furnished others. Several have been on the sick list since their arrival.

There are twenty-one girls in the Reformatory, taught half the day in a well organized school, the other half devoted to cane-seating chairs and household duties in rotation. Some of the girls are committed for larceny, or incorrigible conduct, and the change in some of the worst is striking, convincing us that many of these little waifs go to ruin from surrounding circumstances. We regret to find the age—fifteen—is preventing a large number from entering the Reformatory, having received letters from several counties making the inquiry what steps to take to commit over fifteen, stating they must go to ruin if not admitted. The only answer that can be given is: "The law forbids," and the girl on the brink of ruin is robbed of the care, restraint, education and proper training the State has so wisely provided for her rescue, and our expenses are necessarily much larger in proportion, to care for a small family.

Our daily religious exercises have been greatly blessed; Sabbath school enjoyed; and regular services on the Sabbath conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association; who express themselves highly gratified at the apparent change from week to week in the family; and we feel that it is a problem no longer unsolved "that the power of kindness" with the religion of Jesus is sufficient to subdue the most hardened. A library is much needed. As the reading prisoners have been supplied with the "New York Weekly," interesting and profitable reading is wanted to supply its place.

I can thankfully record that in both Departments I am assisted by earnest Christian workers, who labor faithfully for the temporal and spritual improvement of those under their charge.

With gratitude for the kindness with which my many wishes have been responded to,

Respectfully,

SARAH J. SMITH,
Superintendent.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., January 1, 1874.

To the Managers of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls:

GENTLEMEN: On the eighth of last October, appointed by you Physician to the Institution under your charge, it affords me pleasure to state that there has not been, thus far in the period of my service, a death; not, indeed, an immediately dangerous case of illness, among the inmates of the Reformatory. A few of the prisoners when brought from the Southern Penitentiary were convalescing from dysentery, a disease which has been quite prevalent there and this convalescence soon ended in complete recovery. In regard to other forms of disease occurring in the Institution, they have generally been malarial in character and yielded readily to treatment. The general physical condition of those in the prison department and in the other, is excellent. I can not terminate this brief report without expressing my opinion as to the great value of the Reformatory and of the admirable manner in which its affairs are conducted.

Yours respectfully,

THEOPHILUS PARVIN, M. D.

Physician to the Indiana Reformatory.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana:

The undersigned, one of the members of the Board of Visitors of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, by direction, and on behalf of said Board, begs leave respectfully to report that the Board recently visited the Reformatory and inspected the building and examined into the affairs of the Institution in the Reformatory as well as the Penal Department thereof. There are twenty prisoners in the penal department, nearly all of whom were on the opening of the Institution, on the 8th day of October last, transferred from the southern prison at Jeffersonville.

It was very gratifying to those members of the Board of Visitors who had seen some of these same women in the prison at Jeffersonville to observe how greatly their condition and surroundings have been improved by the transfer.

In the short time of less than three months they seem, judging from their appearance and deportment, to have made considerable progress towards the regaining of their own self-respect, which is the first step in the reformation of their lives and characters.

The unwomanly vice of tobacco smoking to which they were all addicted to excess, was at once prohibited on their admission to the Reformatory, and although much murmuring was for a time the result, the prisoners now seem to be reconciled to this measure of compulsory reform, and we believe it will be the forerunner of other voluntary reforms that will in not a few instances lead to a restoration of an effaced or lost womanhood. The cells and work rooms of the prisoners are comfortable and well ventilated and the women themselves are constantly under the influence of pure womanly examples, and the best moral and religious training and influence.

There is every reason to hope and believe that not a few of the prisoners will, with such surroundings and under such influences as are now afforded them, be thoroughly reformed and fitted for usefulness in the world when they shall have regained their liberty.

It is already demonstrated that woman is competent to govern the depraved and desperate of her own sex by womanly measures and appliances without a resort to the rigorous means which are generally supposed to be necessary in prisons governed by men, and intended wholly or chiefly for male convicts.

There are, in the reformatory department, twenty-one girls whose ages range from ten to fourteen years. It is believed at least four-fifths of these can be completely reformed and become worthy members of society when they are discharged. A part of the time of each girl is employed in the school room of the Institution and a part devoted to industrial pursuits, the object being to impart the rudiments of a good elementary education, as well as industrious habits to every inmate.

The Institution has been too recently opened to say much about practical results; but thus far we have discovered nothing in its management to provoke or justify censure.

As long as there are so few inmates the expenses of the Institution must unavoidably be comparatively high, and it is to be hoped that the different counties will, in view of this, avail themselves of the advantages of the Institution by committing to its guardianship some at least, of the girls which are to be found in every community who need and are entitled to such guardianship.

It is believed that the people as yet, do not generally understand that a girl need not be an offender against the penal laws of the State to justify her committal to the guardianship of the Reformatory Department of this Institution. If the fact could be generally made known that vagrancy, or incorrigible, or vicious conduct on the part of a girl coupled with the fact that from moral depravity or otherwise her parent or guardian, is incapable or unwilling to exercise the proper care over her; or that she is destitute of a suitable home and adequate means of obtaining an honest living, or that she is in danger of being brought up to lead an idle or vicious life, will justify her committal to the guardianship of the Institution, it cannot be doubted that many girls, some of them mere children, that are now on the sure road to ruin would be placed under the saving influence of the reformatory department of this Institution.

There is one defect, as the Board of Visitors believe, in the law governing the reformatory department of the Institution which ought to be remedied by amendatory legislation. We allude to that portion of the act which requires a girl to be under the age of fifteen years to justify her committal to the Reformatory Department of the Institution and which compels her discharge when she attains the age of eighteen years, whether she is reformed or not. In the judgment of the Board of Visitors, the law should be so amended as to allow the committal of girls up to the age of eighteen years, and so as to justify their detention until twenty-one years of age, if not sooner reformed. In this regard a reformatory for girls is very different from a reformatory for boys. At the age of eighteen many boys cannot be governed in a reform school without converting it into a prison and thereby destroying its reformatory character; but with girls the case is far different. We therefore submit for the consideration of your Excellency, the propriety of an amendment of the law governing the Institution such as we have suggested, to the end that the attention of the General Assembly may be directed thereto, if the suggestion should receive your approval.

Respectfully submitted,

CONRAD BAKER,

By direction and on behalf of the Board of Visitors.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To his Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

The Commissioners of the House of Refuge for the correction and reformation of Juvenile Offenders, respectfully submit their seventh Annual Report.

The liberal appropriation of our late Legislature has enabled us to carry forward the Institution to its full capacity, and also to make extensive repairs about the main building, (which was in very bad condition owing to the imperfect character of the work, and defective materials used in its construction,) and upon the family and other buildings. The total amount expended in these repairs and improvements has been $10,497.31.

INMATES.

Good health has prevailed, discipline has been well maintained and we believe the work has progressed satisfactorily and the Institution has been effecting, in good degree, the object of its erection.

OFFICERS.

The officers are as follows, viz: Superintendent, Matron, Assistant Superintendent, three "House Fathers," and three "Elder Brothers."

We have arranged to have a well qualified man and wife at the head of each family, so as to preserve in this respect, as near a natural state of things as possible, the wife being employed a part of the day as teacher. These are assisted by an Elder Brother.

The Superintendent has assigned each House Father to the oversight of some special portion of the outdoor work, in addition to his care of the family, so as to lessen as much as possible, the expense, and at the same time to bring about efficiency in the conduct of the Institution. One has been assigned to the care of the farm, another to the Garden, another to the fruit, and flowers, while the Assistant Superintendent and Clerk in the office, both have charge of families.

EXPENSE.

The total amount expended the past year is $56,244.76, from which deduct repairs and improvements $10,497.21, leaving the expense of the Institution, $45,747.55, the items of which are fully shown in the Superintendent's report annexed. We have carefully examined the accounts and vouchers and books of the Institution, and find them correct and carefully kept, accurately showing the various items of expenditure.

We estimate the expense per annum, of keeping and taking care of each infant in the Institution at $200 per annum, as required by section 20 of the act establishing the House of Refuge.

BOYS' LABOR.

The boys have been employed on the farm, in the garden, at cane seating chairs, in tailor shop and in the different parts of domestic and farm labor, as will be more fully shown in the Superintendent's report.

In regard to mechanical employment we have found it impossible to carry on a very great variety of labor, the difficulty of procuring suitable persons to oversee, and the great expense of carrying on mechanical business with unskilled labor, being unsurmountable obstacles, hence we rely more upon the formation of good habits and teaching the boys self-reliance and energy of character, as well as accustoming them to manual labor, so that they may, after discharge, find suitable places for a permanent trade or business. A part of each day is employed in school, under careful, well qualified teachers, and the progress of the boys in their studies has been quite commendable. In addition, every effort is made to give them a careful moral and religious training.

Scientific lectures are delivered every week during the winter by suitable persons. One hour each evening is spent in each family in moral and religious reading and instruction.

The Sabbath is thoroughly occupied by an efficient Sabbath school in the morning, conducted by the Superintendent, in which the Bible is so thoroughly taught that we doubt whether an equal number of boys outside the Institution, promiscuously selected, can be found as well versed in it.

Meeting for worship is also held in the afternoon, and conducted by a regular minister, when one can be had, and when not by the Superintendent himself.

We have kept steadily in view the three great means of reformation: Industrial habits and steady application to some useful employment, education and mental training, and the Bible and religious instruction. The success of Reformatory Schools in England is said, in a recent official report, to depend on "firm discipline, honest and hard work, coupled with moral and religious training, so arranged as to bring out the better natures of the pupils, which cannot at so tender an age be always dead."

The results, thus far, have quite equaled our expectations, and most of the boys who have been discharged are doing well. The greatest difficulty we have to encounter is in finding suitable places for those discharged, most of them have been sent to the Institution from very bad homes and evil surroundings; after reformation and discharge they are subject, from natural love, to work their way back to those nearest connected with them, and thus are thrown under influences unfavorable to their continuance in the path of virtue. We do believe, however, that in any event, the instruction received in the Institution is not lost, but like bread cast upon the waters, will be found after many days.

CHARLES F. COFFIN,
A. S. EVANS,
JOHN W. RAY,
Commissioners.

House of Refuge, Jan. 1, 1874.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners of the House of Refuge:

GENTLEMEN:—In conformity to the custom of the House of Refuge and the law organizing said Institution, I beg leave to present the report of the superintendency thereof, for the year 1873, together with the subjoined reports of the subordinate officers:

NUMBER OF INMATES.

Number present January 1, 1873.....	191
Number admitted during the year.....	78
Number discharged during the year.....	2
Number ticketed during the year.....	53
Number escaped during the year.....	4
Number remaining January 1, 1874.....	216

During the early part of the year, the number admitted was less than the number released, which reduced the attendance to 172. From the 23d of May, the number began to increase and there are now present two hundred and sixteen inmates.

The boys received during the year are mostly small and young. The large and more unpromising offenders heretofore so numerous, being excluded in the revision of the organic act. The maximum age is reduced to sixteen years, instead of eighteen as heretofore. It will be seen by reference to the tables in the appendix, that forty-one boys received were twelve years old and under, who are too young to do much toward earning their own support.

Receiving so largely of this class has materially increased the expense of support as we could not rely upon such boys to do the heavy work of the establishment, and were therefore compelled to employ men for that purpose.

The admissions of the year have been more of the class of delinquents that ought properly to be placed under the guardianship of the Institution, than the admissions of previous years. They are younger, less vicious, more ductile, and plastic, and in every moral respect better adapted to the methods and appliances employed here for the correction and rearing of children than many previously received.

There is more hope of effecting permanent improvement in this class, for being younger they take impressions better and retain them longer.

Many are ready to suggest that the Institution, even with this class of boys, ought to be self-supporting. It might not be impertinent to say that any suggestion that would lead the officers of this Institution to so conduct it as to attain such desirable results would be thankfully received both by the management of the Institution and the State at large. We would esteem it a very desirable acquisition to our experience to know just what employment these boys, nine-tenths of whom are under sixteen years of age, could be placed at where they will do all of their own house work, room work, washing, ironing, mending, cooking, dining room work, make their own clothing and attend school two and a half hours daily, and in addition to earn money enough to defray all expenses. It is our aim to utilize the labor of the boys in the best methods possible, and to employ them at such industries as produce the best financial results, consistent with their reformation and improvement. The condition our boys are in, when admitted, prevents them from being of any utilitarian value to the Institution. They are restive, unused to work and unfamiliar with the methods of doing it; in a word, they are useless, unreliable, and untrustworthy.

They require the closest supervision and watchfulness of the officers until they reach a period when they become settled in their feelings and fixed in their purposes. This period varies with boys from three months to twelve, and in isolated cases during the greater portion of their stay here. While this continues their labor is not worth so much as the official oversight costs, and when this period of official vigilance ceases and the boys become trustworthy and useful the time left, after performing the work detailed above, is too brief in which to earn enough to defray expenses of support.

Their physical and intellectual as well as their moral condition tends to increase their inability to make the institution self-supporting.

They do not come to us in the full possession of all their physical powers.

Their minds too are weak and distracted, and both must be toned up and developed. This, however, is slow work, as the intellect expands slowly until its main characteristics are manifested, then it goes out in search of its favorite objects. And then an ambition to do something and be somebody worthy of admiration is often kindled and gives its possessor a thirst for knowledge, energy, and clear purpose.

We feel much gratified in being able to report the Institution in a thriving and prosperous condition in all of its various departments.

With feelings of gratitude to our good Father in Heaven we desire to acknowledge the general healthfulness of the inmates of the Institution, the few cases of prevailing sickness and the almost absolute freedom from casualties. The visits of the practicing physicians have necessarily been few, the matron having brought relief to all simple cases of sickness and minor accidents.

CHAIR SHOP.

This department furnishes employment for all the boys not needed in carrying forward the necessary work of the Institution. The number of boys herein employed varies from eighty to one hundred and twenty, according to the work there is to be done in the other departments of the Institution. In this department the smallest class of boys capable of working are employed together with a portion of those who are larger. The proceeds of this department were not as large this year as last on account of doing more outside work, thereby reducing the number of shop boys. Besides the average number in attendance for the first five months of the year was much smaller than the average attendance for the same period last year. This department is well managed, and we think will ultimately become our leading industry and principal source of revenue.

SHOE SHOP.

This branch of industry we concluded was too expensive and troublesome to continue longer, or at least until the number of inmates should be largely increased.

Our experience discloses the fact that it was nearly impossible, at a reasonable expense, to employ a man with suitable character and capabilities to take the charge of the shop, and also that we could furnish the boys with shoes for a year for what it cost for official supervision for the same period.

Therefore we discontinued manufacturing, bought our shoes, and detailed a boy to do the mending, paying him small wages for his services.

This course we think is best for the Institution for the present, but in view of the fact of teaching boys trades in the future we may conclude to resume manufacturing. We think it best, however, not to do so until we can furnish employment to a full shop of boys who are anxious to learn this business.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

This department is divided into the following divisions, each of which is presided over by a suitable woman, and employs boys as follows, viz.: Tailor shop employs six boys; bake house and milk house, three; boys' dining room and pantry, five; officers' dining room, two; kitchen, six; family buildings, eight. And boys are employed on other jobs as follows, viz.: Office, one; lamps, one; main building, three; teams, six; live stock, five; garden, four; fruit department, two.

LIVE STOCK.

The number (20) of milch cows is the same as at last annual report, which is not too large to meet the demands of the Institution, though half of that number of a better breed of milkers might serve us as well, and had we not taken the precaution to rent an adjoining pasture early in the spring and planted about sixteen acres in corn for late pasture, this number would have been too great for the dry season.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Many improvements have been made that have added greatly to the convenience and usefulness of the Institution. We will only mention such as are of the most value and importance.

Preparatory to construct some necessary out buildings during the fall, when our attention would be withdrawn from the farm and other industries carried on in the spring and summer, we put a force at work on the north side of the farm and manufactured about three hundred thousand brick. This being completed, we commenced at once to construct the buildings and to make other needed improvements. The milk house not being in the right place, and not being well adapted to our wants, we demolished it and used the material in the construction of a new house with a double aspect at the head of the south ravine, in which there is a fine spring, the overflow of which is to pass through troughs to be prepared for keeping the pans of milk. The principal part of this building is eighteen by thirty-two, and one story and a half above the basement. The basement, not yet completed, will contain the troughs mentioned above and will be used exclusively for milk and butter. The rooms on the floor above are a pantry, flour room, wood room, and the mixing-room for the bake house, which is an L fifteen by seventeen feet and joins the milk house on the south side. The bake house contains two ovens, one large and one small. This structure is a great convenience, as both departments can be managed by the same person.

A very convenient ice house, twenty-four by thirty-two feet, has been constructed upon the most improved plan, with ventilators and a central room for fresh meats, fruits, vegetables, and other perishable articles.

A two story hog pen, thirty by forty feet, and an adjoining room for cooking feed has been erected and now furnishes shelter for about one hundred and twenty head of hogs.

A set of scales three tons draught, of the Fairbank's pattern, have been set up and enclosed with a plank building sixteen by eighteen feet. This will be a great convenience in the future purchases for the Institution as stock, hay, and other heavy commodities can be weighed. Two privies, seven by twelve feet, have been erected adjacent to one of the coal houses and other similar improvements made. The barn has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The floor in the cow stable, extending the length of the entire barn, one hundred feet, was taken up and new underpinning and new sills put in, the old joists removed, a new floor of gravel put in, and stanchions and feed boxes erected for the cows. This affords ample room for our entire herd of cattle.

The main building has just been supplied with nine inch number twenty-six galvanized iron guttering, and from four to eight inch galvanized iron conducting pipes. These conducting pipes are to connect with tiling at the base of the building and empty into two one thousand barrel cisterns, which are not, at this time, completed.

The tin guttering and spouting to the family houses and the shop have been thoroughly repaired and are now in good working order.

The interior of the main building, which had more of the appearance of an antiquated castle, caused by the imperfect material used in its construction, than a recently constructed edifice, has been most completely renovated. New smoke flues have been constructed, the walls and ceilings to the rooms and halls either painted, pannelled or calcimined, and all the wood work grained. The building is now much improved in appearance and we think is more creditable than formerly. The floor in the main office, which was no longer servicable, was taken up and a substantial quality of variegated tiling, laid in cement, substituted.

The interior of the family houses has also been overhauled. The ceilings and walls of each building whitewashed and the wood work painted, thus making them more desirable homes, both for boys and officers.

New open board fences have been made as follows, viz: Along the line of the National road; east of the orchard and west of the vegetable garden, and along the line of the creek running north and south, amounting in all to eighteen hundred and seventy-two feet.

During the fall with our own force we have widened and recoated with gravel one hundred and three rods of road, giving an average width of twenty feet, and an average thickness of eighteen inches of fresh gravel.

FARM PRODUCTS.

The farm has been ordinarily productive, and the crops were all carefully secured and disposed of, or garnered for future use. The following statement shows the arable ground tilled during the year:

Corn pasture, sixteen (16) acres.

Corn, thirteen (13) acres.

Oats, seventeen (17) acres. Orchard.

Beans, ten (10) acres.

Wheat, eighteen (18) acres.

Vegetable, garden and berry-patch, twelve (12) acres.

Vegetable patch, three (3) acres.

Potatoes, twelve (12) acres.

The exact amount of the products of these different fields we can not give, but we feel assured of a fair yield.

THE FUTURE OF THE BOYS.

The greater portion of the boys when released are immeasurably better than the circumstances into which they pass, and as they do not long continue happy without being in harmony with their surroundings, they seek to adapt themselves to the various relations of their condition.

As to whether the discharged boys maintain the integrity of the training they received while here, depends much upon circumstances.

Good Christian homes are difficult to find for the boys, and but few can really lay claims to such a possession of their own, and when by reason of meritorious conduct they are ready for dismissal, unpleasant disappointment ensues if a home is not provided for them.

If they return to their own homes and there find the same habits of intemperance, profanity and criminality they had left, there can be but little hope of their maintaining the integrity of their character, and from the day they cross the threshold of that home, there is a gradual breaking away from moral and religious principles, until they finally relapse into their former dilapidated moral condition.

Under such unfavorable auspices many failures may be expected. We hope for all the boys to do well after being discharged, and we do our utmost to give them a favorable start in life. Some give more flattering promise of success at first than others. Some fail at first and succeed afterwards, and the contrary is the case.

We think it may be laid down as a general rule that where the parental or home influences are bad, the boys will ultimately become bad.

It seems almost impossible for a boy to keep himself above the moral level of his home influences.

The conditions under which our boys succeed best are when placed in homes where the moral and religious sentiments largely predominate and where all wrong doing and misconduct are discountenanced and frowned down.

Boys have gone out with good characters, intending to lead lives of respectability and usefulness, and perhaps before they have been absent a week some former associate has made overtures of evil to them, or some parent while in a state of debauch has so conducted as to materially lessen their standard of demeanor or discourage them entirely in right doing.

With such boys an upright life begins to be a matter of doubtful propriety, and the continued pressure of evil influences the absence of friends to properly advise, the torture of the pangs of a troubled heart, the stinging reproaches of his associates, all combine soon to undermine the moral tendencies and prepare the unfortunate child for an early and certain career of debauchery and dissipation.

Idleness and the want of industrial enterprise often produce an insane desire for mischief, and thus frequently boys are driven back to vicious habits that industry would save from such a course.

So far as practicable, the guardian care of the Institution is extended over the boys after they have gone out; but we cannot, in all cases, make such oversight as complete as we would desire.

We do not expect that all our boys will fill positions of public trust or become eminent; but we hope to at least prepare them to be plain, simple and industrious craftsmen. Several have married, have families, are well located, and are surrounded by scores of friends. For these happy relations in life, they look back and attribute them all as springing directly or remotely from the blessed influences of the Reform School. Many visits have been received during the year from discharged boys whose gentlemanly deportment and kind social bearing clearly illustrate the usefulness of the training they received while here, and lends encouragement to the desire to extend the same wholesome treatment to others as they may come to us.

MORALE.

As has been stated before, nearly all the admissions of the year were small boys, and it would seem that many are too young to need the reformatory influences of such an institution. Frequent admissions and releases have occurred, and, notwithstanding this, I feel free to say that the morale and discipline of the establishment have been generally well maintained.

Our punishments are more curative than punitive, and, in the main, have been awarded with discretion.

Severe and unauthorized punishments have been closely guarded against; and all the officers have been given to understand that any infringement or violation of these instructions would not be tolerated.

In a few instances officers have been hasty and rough in the treatment of those under their charge; but when a case of this kind has come to the knowledge of the Superintendent, a reprimand or an absolute discharge, as the case seemed to demand, was given the offender.

It is our aim, as far as possible, to maintain a parental government, but the completeness of such a government can only be had where the subjects are filial and comparatively innocent. In an institution of the magnitude of this, where the inmates are unfilial and vicious, parental government is difficult to administer, and we think, can only be done by the employment of the best class of men for executive officers.

The position of a reform school laborer is by no means an enviable one, in all respects. To be successful in the work he must commence at the lowest round in the official ladder, on small pay and without distinction.

The hope of obtaining something better, stimulates and encourages him to prepare for a higher salary and broader fields of usefulness, and if he has perseverance and application his efforts will ultimately be crowned with success, and his merits suitably rewarded, but if he has not these qualities the ranks of efficient reform school officers are not likely to be materially augmented.

Occasionally a man without such training and experience can be found who possesses the power to command—and such magnetic force as to control by his personal presence, but few of such have ever made application for official positions in this Institution. We can not hope to turn the delinquent youth from the indulgence of his vicious propensities by attempts at deterrent, coercion, repression, or the removal of temptation. These appliances are superficial in their effect, merely producing an outward compliance with wholesome rules adopted as bounds to restrain their conduct, but do not remove or extinguish the tendency.

The tendency should be the objective point, and if this source of evil be not reached there can be no positive reclamation. To discover this requires skillful and ingenious operators—in fact practical physiognomists, able, when a subject is placed under their care, to at once point out and individualize each of his prevailing weaknesses, become acquainted with his elementary powers, peculiarities and inclinations, and their reciprocal play, powers and influences.

The importance of this knowledge is patent to every observer of human character, and we feel safe in saying that without it no one can succeed as an officer in reclaiming delinquent youth.

A clear diagnosis of each case must be made, and he who is thus able to act intelligently with the moral elements and mental faculties, and knows the full power and extent of their reciprocal influences is master of his calling, and able to construct out of this demoralized material, a perfectly balanced man.

A stereotyped course of treatment will not meet the wants of a reformatory. The methods and appliances must be as varied as the classes themselves.

The distinctive lessons taught are self-direction and self-government, and when evidence is shown of a purpose to be benefitted the boys are placed in positions to exercise the principles these teachings are calculated to develop. The first positive evidence of the workings of reformation is discovered in the secret workings of the heart, as shown by repentance, and the increased activity of the conscience in discriminating between right and wrong, the gradual development of the principles of true manhood, the strengthening of the moral principles and the formation of good resolutions, and the alienation from former habits of vice and immorality.

There are many elements in our treatment that combine to draw forth, develop and elevate the boys' better nature. Their moral reviews, sociables and family lectures, their training in secular school and the Sabbath school, their excellent system of industry, combined with their rational and sportive amusements, all combine to instruct, dignify, enoble and develop their manhood. These are privileges which most of the boys appreciate and strive to realize benefit from.

This Institution is a colony brought together for a common object, the correction of erroneous habits, the acquisition of useful knowledge, the cultivation of courteous manners and a general preparation for all the duties relating to good citizenship.

The laws of the establishment are the consciences, reason and sense of propriety of the boys themselves, and the ingenuity to invent suitable appeals to develop these is nice and delicate.

The boys are recognized as constituent parts of the establishment and understand that its good order, cleanliness and prosperity are things for which they will be held responsible.

Each is thus involved in a responsibility that secures his interest and when a new boy enters he soon discovers that he has not only the officers, but the boys themselves to deal with, and the impressions thus early received prepare him to bear his part of the burden. Each day thus draws him unconsciously into habits that improve him and fits him for usefulness.

RESUME.

The successful workings of the Institution for six years have fully attested the excellency of the methods and the efficiency of the appliances employed in the curative treatment of these otherwise hapless children. Of this no one who will give the subject a patient examination will doubt.

We feel that the past year has been one of rare success in every department of the Institution.

The farm in all its departments—except the fruit department, which suffered much from the effects of the extreme cold weather last winter—has been unusually productive; the finances are in a sound and healthy condition, and the current expenses of the Institution have been kept within the limits of the appropriation and $10,497.31 saved for improvements and buildings, which was expended as hereinbefore set forth. The moral and religious tone of the Institution has been well maintained and we think perceptibly improved.

The introduction of suitable female teachers in all the departments of school has proved a veritable blessing. We think that there is nothing that so strengthens and invigorates the moral tone of our institution as the presence of good women, thoroughly imbued with a desire to devote themselves to promoting the happiness of the boys and to rendering all cheerful and pleasant

We close the year with the Institution in excellent condition, and we think the incoming year presents an unusually favorable outlook, and with the prestige of six years' experience, we think by prudences economy and application, much more may be done during the coming year to develop and improve the entire establishment than has been accomplished in any previous year.

The permanent improvements that have been made have materially added to the convenience and efficiency of the Institution, and will aid much in reducing the current expenses in the future.

Next in importance to the improvement and proper development of our important charge, we have held before our view the necessity of exercising economy.

In all of our improvements, and in carrying forward the ordinary work of the establishment, we have utilized the labor of the boys as far as practicable. In the construction of the outbuildings heretofore mentioned, the rough work has been performed by the boys, under the supervision of our own officers, which was a great pecuniary saving to the institution.

We have laid out for the employment of our forces for the winter a vast amount of necessary work, and improving which we hope to carry forward to completion, and which, if done, will render the Home still more attractive and beautiful.

We trust that the same kind Providence which has hitherto been above us and round about us, and has so closely guarded and protected us, will, in the future, extend the same guardian care and direction that even greater success may be attained and more precious souls saved.

Thanking you, gentlemen of the Board, for your indulgence, counsel and earnest co-operation, and profoundly acknowledging my obligations to all associated with me in this work so vast, so stupendous, and even sublime, for the hearty support and timely assistance in every purpose,

I am, respectfully,

FRANK B. AINSWORTH,

Superintendent.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of Indiana House of Refuge:

SIR—The Assistant Superintendent respectfully submits the following as his annual report for the year ending, December 31st, 1873:

On taking a retrospective view of the Indiana House of Refuge and its workings for the past year, we find much to commend and great cause for encouragement. It has been a year of constant toil and anxiety to the real worker for the benefit of the fallen and wayward youth—it has also been a year of general prosperity in our work of ameliorating suffering and crime—and it has also been a year of almost continued good health in the Institution, for all of which I trust we are all truly thankful to the Giver of every good and perfect gift. While there has been considerable sickness in the community around about us, our large and interesting household has been, comparatively speaking, free from epidemics and diseases of any kind.

The angel of Death, although visiting this neighborhood often, has not entered our family circle and claimed his victim, except in the case of a boy who was visiting his friends and former school fellows at the Institution, last July, when he was accidentally killed while in swimming in the creek near the buildings on the farm. The progress of the House of Refuge has been steady and sure.

CHANGES

There have been among the officers and teachers, but no serious results followed such changes. We now have quite an efficient corps of officers and instructors, men and women who realize the importance attached to their situations, and feel something of the responsibility resting upon them as teachers in a reformatory, and have entered upon the discharge of the duties pertaining to their positions with a determination that the efforts put forth in behalf of the bad boys shall be crowned with success. There has been a vast amount of work done on the farm, in the garden and in the different shops, by the boys, under the supervision and direction of competent persons, whose duty it has been to instruct and aid them. Large crops of wheat, potatoes, corn, and garden vegetables have been raised and harvested, for all of which there is always a ready market at the House of Refuge. Fences, hog pens, and out-houses have been built, adding very much to the convenience of the place.

THE LIVE STOCK,

Consisting of farm and driving horses, cows and hogs have had good care. Our horses are in good health and fine spirits, the hogs compare favorably with the best swine in the neighborhood. The cows, as usual, have kept the school supplied with good, rich milk all of the time. After having slaughtered fifty head of fattened hogs, we have over one hundred store hogs that will be ready for use in the spring.

The inmates have been very well provided with suitable clothing, two suits of summer and winter clothing for each boy, with shoes and socks for most of them, while those working in the forces, and with the teams have had boots. Every thing has been done that could be done to improve the condition of the boys entrusted to our care and keeping. Lectures have been delivered quite frequently. All of the boys are regularly exercised in the rudiments of music and have made commendable progress in singing. There are charms in music for the boys that have left their homes to reform their evil ways.

THE BAND,

composed of boys, is an interesting feature of the school. It is pleasant, indeed, to notice the deep interest taken in the band by every boy on the farm. Mr. Thomas P. Westendorf has been untiring in his efforts to instruct the members of his musical organization, and now he can take a just pride in listening to an excellent class of performers, as they make music for the officers and boys on the pleasant summer evenings and holiday occasions. The band enjoyed a rich treat last June; by special invitation to accompany the Indiana editors on their excursion to Wyandotte Cave, in the southern part of the State; free passes being furnished for the occasion by the officers of the Vandalia, and L. N. A. & C. roads, and by the Packet company from Louisville, Ky. They fully appreciated the kindnesses shown them while on the trip, and quite frequently refer to it with pleasant remembrances. The whole school was taken to Indianapolis and visited the Exposition on the 6th of October last. That was indeed a gala day for the boys; a ride on the cars; a walk through the city, and a visit to the Exposition, with dinner on the ground. Fears were entertained by some of the more incredulous and skeptical ones, unacquainted with reform school boys, that the confidence reposed in them would be betrayed, and the escapes from our numbers would be numerous. The sights were seen and the boys all returned to the Institution, without the loss of one, or even an attempt at escape, highly pleased with the efforts of their friends to gratify them. The influence of the teacher is very great, greater, we suppose, than many think it could be, and greater, we fear, than some teachers think it is. The person undertaking to instruct youth, should be a type of good morals and a worthy example in manners. In the school-room the teacher's influence is the moving power, as it were, to the school, he is carefully scrutinized and weighed accordingly, by each and every pupil. The system in adopted some three years ago, with a few modifications, is thought to be very good. The boys evince an active interest in anything that tends to improve their minds or better their conditions, and hence the teachers are encouraged to labor on. It is quite surprising to know that boys admitted to the Institution a year since, with vague and indifferent ideas of education, can read and spell very well, cipher some, and write a legible and fairly composed letter. These boys, as a general thing, possess fertile minds, and when enlisted and interested in the cause of education and reformation, make a decided improvement. The religious and moral agencies brought to bear upon the hearts and minds of the boys, are of untold value to them. The ministry of the surrounding country come often to discourse to them on the great interests of religion and the priceless gift of redemption. They are impressed with the idea that actions, looks, words and steps form the alphabet by which

May be spelled. They are taught that truth is the bond of union and the basis of human happiness, and that without this virtue there is no reliance on language, no confidence in friendship, no security in promises or oaths. They are also taught that truth is more valuable than gold; that it is easy, clear, and requires no study. It does not have to be watched like falsehood, which has no real and permanent power. Truth triumphs at last. The simplest soul can conquer life to himself by truth, but it is not in the wit and power of man to bring beauty and good up out of a reeking corruption of lies. And just here I am reminded of a few earnest words that may be useful for us all to remember :

“ Guard well the lips, for none can know,
 What evils from the tongue may flow ;
 What guilt, what grief may be incurred
 By one incautious, hasty word.”

The well conducted Sunday school is a valuable and indispensable auxiliary in the work of reform, and I am sure that our boys esteem it a great privilege to attend the Sabbath school and participate in the exercises. Verses are committed and recited; answers to questions previously given out are found; songs of praise are sung by the school; expositions of the lessons are given by the Superintendent, and all are happy in doing what they can to honor and worship God aright, and keep his day holy. In addition to my other duties it has been pleasure unfeigned for me to be continued in charge of

FAMILY EIGHT,

Composed in the main of trusty or “job boys.” This family contains fifty-five bright, intelligent, healthy boys, ranging from seven to eighteen years of age. It has been my aim to do them good, and to this end no pains have been spared to make the Family home-like, realizing that some of them have never known what it was to have a pleasant home. What a misfortune! How sad the thought! There are thousands of children who know nothing of the blessed influence of comfortable homes, merely because of a want of thrift from dissipated habits. No home to fly to when wearied with the struggles incident to their youthful days, spent in frivolous amusement and demoralizing associations; no virtuous household to give zest to the joys of life. All is blank to such an unfortunate child, and there is no hope or succor except that which is given out by the hands of public and private charities. It affords me much gratification to notice every effort on the part of the boys to advance in morals and education. Nothing is of more importance in dealing with a difficult child than prompt praise of his earliest endeavors to overcome a fault. The commendation should not be measured by the success attained in the effort to do better, but by the endeavor. Not unfrequently weeks are spent in persuading a child to make one step toward a purer and a higher life. But is not the victory worth the battle? Is not the patient endeavor to cure a moral defect rewarded by any success, however small? No doubt but we sometimes feel discouraged and are almost ready to give up, as we cannot see the fruit of our labors, for it seems like an oft repeated story to talk, labor and pray with the subjects of our care so much—and we are forcibly reminded of the truthfulness of the following words, found in the hymn of “The old, old story:”

“Tell me the story often,
For I forget so soon;
The early dew of morning
Has passed away at noon.”

But we know not the future of any of these boys, that they are educated and reformed is the work of the laborers in the harvest. The soil must be tilled, the seed sown, but we must wait God’s time for the increase. And a family is not made perfect without those in charge of it entering into the confidence and sympathy of all its members. The inmates of a family should have unbounded confidence in the management, and the head of the household should have great sympathy for every object of his care. Sympathy is one of the most imposing and sacred emotions of an intelligent mind, and is equally consonant with the genius of refined humanity and the spirit of true religion. To the soul it is what the lucid beams of the moon are to the pleasing features of nature, which are not essential to their existence, but which add brilliancy to their beauty and sublimity to their grandeur. The boys occasionally feel that they are forsaken and forgotten, and that no one careth for them. At such times they need words of encouragement, and to be told how to live in order to deserve friends. The world is teeming with kind-hearted people, and one has only to carry a kind, sympathetic heart in his bosom to call out goodness and friendliness from others. When playing games they have been urged to cultivate consideration for the feelings of others, that their own might not be injured. The evenings in the Family are devoted to a variety of exercises, such as singing, spelling, historical recitations, arithmetical reviews, and a

MORAL REVIEW

Every evening, when every boy's number is called, and he is expected to give a synopsis of his conduct during the day—reporting the bad as well as the good, that all may be benefitted by the advice given, and punishments administered. They are not encouraged in tattling—but are required to report the misconduct of their play-fellows for the good of offenders. The Family is divided into two grades for school, according to their advancement—being taught in an acceptable manner by Mrs. C. W. Ainsworth. In the management of the family during the past year, I have been quite ably assisted by George Sauers, a former inmate—to whom I am indebted for much of the success attending my efforts to lead the boys into the smoother and pleasanter walks of life. To Mr. J. C. Smith, who has taken so much pains to instruct the boys of No. 8, in singing, are they placed under obligations, and I take this method of expressing their grateful appreciation of the services so cheerfully rendered.

Trusting and praying, that the Indiana House of Refuge has a bright future, and that much, very much good, may be done by the means here used, for the rising generation in need of wholesome restraint,

I am, respectfully,

C. W. AINSWORTH,

Asst. Supt. Indiana House of Refuge.

PLAINFIELD, IND., December 31, 1873.

REPORT OF
HOUSE FATHER, FAMILY ONE.

To the Superintendent of the House of Refuge :

The following is the report of Family one, for the year ending December 31st, 1873.

There are now in this Family fifty-three boys, whose ages range from six to fourteen years. They are smart, active, little fellows, giving but little trouble, and conforming to the rules of the Family, and Institution, as well as any class of boys of their age and understanding.

The morning and afternoon grade has been regular, and the educational interest of the family well maintained. There has been a marked advancement in the different branches taught them, and the boys seem more ambitious to learn and more eager to obtain knowledge, as they steadily progress in their studies.

The Sabbath school lesson has been regularly committed, and close attention given to its teachings. No doubt can exist, but what this lesson regularly committed and recited, as it is, works much good amongst this class of boys, they are made familiar with its truths and precepts, and we trust that many of them, will in after life, use them for guide and counsel.

The sanitary condition of the Family has been excellent. The weekly bathing, together with warm and sufficient clothing, and outdoor exercise have contributed to that result. These combined go far towards making better dispositions, and are valuable aids in the work of reform. As the majority of this Family work in the chair shop, of which I am foreman, I feel competent to testify of their ability and willingness to perform their allotted tasks, they work cheerfully, and take pride in doing what is required of them in a masterly manner.

Moral review has been held every alternate evening, the results of which have had a salutary effect upon the boys' morals and characters. All cases of misconduct have been carefully investigated before awarding punishment, that no injustice be done. The reprimands and punishments are administered in such a manner that much good is hoped for, and better discipline encouraged. With comparatively good ground before us, wherein to sow good seed, with the promptings of an honest conscience to guide and direct, with the Bible to read for wisdom and strength, failure in this work seems impossible. So we enter upon the duties of another year trusting that the end may bring happiness to all.

Respectfully submitted,

E. H. SHUMWAY,
House Father, Family One.

REPORT OF

HOUSE FATHER, FAMILY TWO.

To the Superintendent of the House of Refuge :

SIR :—I respectfully submit the following report of Family Two for the year ending December 31, 1873 :

Many changes have taken place in this family during the year. A large number of the boys have been transferred to Family One and Family Eight. The boys that were transferred to those families were those whose demeanor merited promotion. Five boys whose conduct did not merit the privilege of remaining in this family were transferred to Family Three. Thirty-two of the boys received during the past year were classed in Family Two. The ages range between eight and fifteen years. The Family at the present time consists of fifty-two boys ; the lowest number in the family any time during the year, forty-eight.

The boys when first received often show a spirit of discontent, and frequently talk about leaving in a clandestine manner ; but by watchfulness and the assistance of the boys who have been with us a few months, it takes but a short time to dispel such intention. Many of the boys received here have not been accustomed to labor ; neither have they been in the habit of attending school, Sabbath school and church ; hence it should not be expected that boys who have been spending their time in the streets of towns and cities would be satisfied when first brought under the restraints of the Reform School, where they have to work, attend school and religious exercises. Such regularity is too much like business for them ; but I am happy to say that in most cases it does not take many weeks before they become interested in their school, labor, etc., and in a short time are contented and happy in their new home. It has been my purpose to impress upon their minds the importance of being polite, truthful, honest and industrious, showing them the probable results that are in store for those who live an upright and honorable life.

I have had no trouble in the discipline of the Family ; the boys cheerfully conform to the rules governing the school.

Hoping our efforts to reclaim the unfortunate and wayward to the paths of peace and holiness will receive God's blessing,

I am respectfully,

B. F. HOWE.

REPORT OF
HOUSE FATHER, FAMILY THREE.

PLAINFIELD, IND., December 31, 1873.

To the Superintendent of the House of Refuge:

SIR:—Permit me to present to you the following report for the year ending December 31, 1873.

Having but recently entered upon the duties connected with this Family, I feel it almost impossible to make a report commensurate with the work accomplished the past year. We have now fifty-four boys under our care, varying in age from ten to twenty years. It is, indeed, surprising to notice the salutary effects of your principles of reformation. A few years ago, it was my province to watch over the conduct, and care for some of the boys now constituting a part of this Family. With these the work has been slow but progressive, and while they yet remain fixed monuments of their own weakness, others, more recently admitted, have attained while here, a wholesome standing and have returned to society to put in practice the lessons so well and wisely taught them.

The most interesting features of our daily routine are school, music, recreation, religious exercises, and work, all of which take an important part in the reformation of our erring boys. To enter into the minutia of these several auxiliaries would occupy too much space. We have had no school for the past few weeks, but our school grade for the ensuing year will be made as attractive and profitable as possible. Music has become to us an almost indispensable luxury. We devote one or two evenings each week to sacred music, while many little intervals are profitably employed teaching pieces both comic and sentimental. The boys devote their spare evenings to studying Sabbath school lessons, declamations, dialogues, etc., and exhibit a strong desire to excel in these branches of study and improvement. During work hours all are industriously employed, and it is wonderful to see how earnestly most of them apply themselves. This truly is commendable, whether in boys of this class or those more highly favored. Honest labor is a strong barrier against crime, and when a boy exchanges idleness for industry, he has certainly made progress in the way of true reformation.

The hours of recreation are eagerly looked forward to, and are enjoyed as boys can only enjoy them. The games in which they engage are diversified, and while they amuse and contribute their quota of fun and frolic, they do not fail to make good impressions. At morning and evening we have devotional exercises in which the boys participate and evince a deep interest, and it is our constant prayer that while they find their faculties brightened by education, their sensibilities enlivened by music, their muscles developed by industry, and their means of usefulness enlarged, they will not forget that good Father in Heaven, who has drawn all these influences around them, in order that they may be fitted for careers of usefulness in this life and to enjoy His presence in the life to come.

Most respectfully submitted,

W. C. KILVINGTON,

House Father, Family Three.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge :

SIR—The Physician would respectfully submit the following as his sixth annual report of the sanitary condition of the Indiana House of Refuge, for the year ending December 31, 1873.

The health of the Institution during the past year has been comparatively good, being free from epidemic or contagious influence; and while there has been a large number of cases of typhoid fever and several deaths therefrom in the town and neighborhood, there has been no cases in the Institution.

The following is a tabular list of the diseases and the number of cases in each :

Ascites.....	1
Billious Fever.....	6
Dysentery, Acute.....	3
Erysipelas.....	1
Cerebro Spinal Meningetis.....	1
Hamoptysis	1
Jaundice	2
Pneumonitis.....	4
Phthisis Pulmonalis.....	1
Typho-Malarial Fever.....	2
Ulcerative Stomatitis.....	2
Wounds	2
Fracture Ulma and Radius.....	1
Fracture Humurus.....	1

This list does not include a number of cases which were prescribed for at my office, not being of sufficient gravity to demand my presence at the Institution. The case of Cerebro-spinal-meningetis was Sporadic, and run a severe course for two weeks. The boy was discharged from hospital and the Institution, physically and morally convalescent.

The case of Phthisis Pulmonalis was in the person of a mulatto boy who probably inherited it, and brought it with him into the Institution. He was discharged from the Institution in a hopeful condition.

The fractures were simple oblique of the bones named, and were caused while playing. The recoveries were good, and the usefulness of the limbs not impaired. The wounds were simple incised, produced while the boys were laboring with edged tools.

No deaths have occurred in the ranks of the Institution this year. Yet the fell destroyer has in two instances layed his blighting hand on the Institution and chose for his victims Robert McRea and Sargent.

The first, Robert, who departed on February 8, was a promising youth in appearance, sent from the jail at Columbus, with the hope of entering him as an inmate, which his over age prevented. While waiting some other legal turn he was suddenly attacked with a violent congestion of the lungs, a result of cold contracted in jail, which caused his death in four days. During his affliction he frequently spoke to me of the kindness of the Matron and officers, who faithfully ministered to him in his last days, and compared his comfortable surroundings to the cold jail.

Sargent was formerly an inmate, who returned on a visit to celebrate the Fourth of July in the home of his reformation. While bathing in the creek near by, he struck his head against a stone, injuring his spine, paralyzing his extremities and causing death in five days. Thus, on the day and the very hour in which he was to partake of the luxuries and joys of the day, a few friends were at his bedside weeping over the departure of his spirit.

It has been the fate of the institution to be imposed upon by consumptives and epileptics in several instances, being passed through carelessness or misrepresentations made to the examining physicians. These cases burthen the institution with extra expense and care, while little benefit may be expected either morally, mentally or physically.

With the farm and shop work to develop habits of industry and physical endurance; the school and library to expand and fertilize the mind; and the Sunday school and religious services to form a moral and religious character and prepare them for a future life, these boys may be truly brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. And if after these boys leave the Institution, the friends of them, and the world, would manifest half the kindness, fervency, and zeal, they receive here, the reformation would be permanent and quite universal; and it might be truly said of them the world is the better of their having lived.

Hoping, sir, that the Great Reformer of all men may prosper your good work,

I am, very respectfully,

J. T. STRONG, M. D.

GARDENER'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent of the House of Refuge :

SIR:—In compliance with your request, I submit a statement of the products of the vegetable garden for the year 1873.

We commenced operations with our hot beds late in February (on account of the severe weather). We had a fair supply for the tables of vegetables usually raised in hot beds, besides an abundant supply of plants to remove to the open ground, consisting of cabbage, cauliflower, egg plants, tomato, lettuce, celery, peppers, cucumbers, sweet potatoes, etc.

The amount of vegetables used was as follows, (exclusive of those raised in hot beds) :

Asparagus.....	a good supply (considering the age of bed.)
Beets, rhubarb, early onion, lettuce, spinach, etc.....
Cabbages (heads).....		2,780
Corn (dozens of ears).....		225
Beans (bunch) bushels.....		36
Beans (Lima) bushels.....		18
Peas, bushels.....		16
Tomatoes, bushels.....		64
Sweet potatoes, bushels.....		80
Turnips, bushels.....		25
Onions, bushels.....		11
Early potatoes, bushels.....		30
Parsnips, bushels.....		9
Melons, (musk) in number.....		1,800
Melons, (water) in number		160

Vegetables on hand January 1, 1874 :

Cabbages (heads).....		5,790
Celery (bunches).....		800
Cucumbers (pickles) bbls.....		9
Musk Melons (pickles) bbls.....		1

Squashes and Pumpkins.....	125
Sweet Potatoes (for sprouting) bushels	10
Red Beets, bushels	60
Mangold Wurtzel Beets, bushels.....	100
Parsnips, bushels	20
Turnips, bushels.....	100
Vegetable Oysters, bushels	15
Early Potatoes, bushels	30
Carrots, bushels.....	20
Onions, bushels.....	36
Onions, (sold) bushels	35
Lima Beans, bushels.....	4
Onion Setts, Vegetable Seeds, &c., &c.

I have planted for early use about twenty bushels of Onions, enlarged the Asparagus bed by adding fifteen hundred plants ; also planted four hundred Rhubarb roots.

Respectfully submitted,

ADAM JONES.

BOYS' LETTERS.

COLUMBUS, IND., Feb. 12, 1873.

BROTHER AINSWORTH—I trust you will excuse me for not writing before this time. I am well and hard at work most of the time. Once in a while I meet with one of the Reform School boys—and I always esteem it a great privilege to do any thing in my power for them if they have the necessary “ticket of leave.” We have had a very severe and long winter. It has, indeed, been a hard time for poor folks to get along. I know of several families that have actually suffered for the necessaries and comforts of life, although there has been a good deal done for them by our good citizens. I hope all at the “School Farm” are well and prosperous. I like to read the news from my old home in the Record every month. Please write me a letter soon, and give me all the information you can about the boys, etc.

With many thanks for your kindness to me while an inmate of the Reform School, and your fatherly and watchful care since, I am,

One of your large family of boys,

HENRY —.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Feb. 18, 1873.

BROTHER AINSWORTH—Dear Sir: Believe me, it is with pleasure that I write you at this time. I arrived safe at home the night after leaving the Reform School, and found all well and sound asleep, for it was about twelve o'clock at night. They were very much surprised at first to see me, but when told that I had come home to stay, they were pleased, and right glad, even if they did lose an hour's sleep by my sudden appearance. I am working for my uncle in his store, and am getting along well. I did not go to work for the man I expected to when I left the School. I go to church and attend Sunday school regularly. You will please remember me kindly to all the boys, but more especially to the boys of Family 36, as that seems a good deal like home to me.

Would like to receive a letter from you soon. No more at present.

I am still your boy,

[Box 448.]

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 29, 1873.

BROTHER F. B. AINSWORTH—Talma is doing finely and is now attending the Normal pay school in this city. He is a regular attendant at church and Sunday school. He recently placed three dollars of his own earnings in the Savings bank, and soon expects to be a banker himself. I hope your institution may continue to flourish and be the means of doing much good. Talma sends kind regards to all, and would be pleased to receive a letter from you.

Yours truly,

M. W. S.——.

MOORESVILLE, IND., Feb. 6, 1873.

DEAR FRIEND—It is sometime since I had the pleasure of receiving a letter from you, but I have been pretty well posted through the columns of the Record, that is a regular monthly visitor at our house. I am attending a good school this winter, and am trying to learn all I can. Expect to work pretty hard next spring and summer, as I am going to try and do a man's work, with the hope of getting good pay and doing all I can for my employer. Expect to make you a short visit before long. Suppose that a good many of the boys that were at the school when I was have been sent home as reformed, to do good. How I would like to see all the boys again. But, in all probability I never shall, as we are so apt to get scattered so much in such a short time. Have nothing new to write at this time. Give my kindest regards to all the boys and officers. Hope to get a letter from you soon. Please send me a report and oblige,

Your boy,

BRUER ——.

CADIZ, Oct. 15, 1873.

MR. AINSWORTH—It has come about time for me to report the condition of my boy again. You said in your last letter that if Nelson continued to be a good boy and improve, every sixty days would be often enough to report for a new ticket. He is doing first rate. He has not been very well for some time past, although not ill enough to need a physician; he had chills and fever. Our winter term of school began last Monday, and Nelson is a regular attendant at school. He likes to go to school, and takes a great interest in his studies. I do not think you would know him now, he has changed so much. He is now quite a large boy, almost as large as his father. He often speaks of the State Farm and his friends there, and would be delighted to visit you all. We are all very thankful to the State of Indiana for establishing the Reform School, where our boys that fall by the wayside can be sent and reformed. Enclosed you will find a ticket for renewal. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am your friend,

ELENORA G.

MICHIGAN CITY, Oct. 19, 1873.

F. B. AINSWORTH, ESQ.—Dear Friend:—Your good letter of the 27th of September was duly received, and found me well and glad to hear from you, and to learn of the good health and prosperity of all connected with the Reform School—boys and officers alike. I hope that you may continue to prosper and do lots of good. Tell the boys for me to make good use of the time they have for amusement, so that when they leave the Reform School, positions of honor, trust and usefulness will await them, as well as being a benefit to society and a credit to the institution that rescued them from the evil of their ways. I notice in the last number of the Record a good letter from H. C. I am really glad that Harry is doing so well. He is a smart young fellow, and owes it to himself, his friends and the Reform School to make a smart and useful man, and not turn out like I did. But I am not going to repine over the past now, but try and do better in the future. How does Lewis S. get along? I heard he had married Miss Dell M.—Is it so? Would like to get another letter from you, giving me all of the news from the Farm. How many boys have you now? Please remember me kindly to all, and oblige—an unfortunate boy. Yours truly,

HENRY H.

[The writer of the foregoing letter is now an inmate of the penitentiary at Michigan City, in this State. He was for some time a Reform School boy and got along very well. He was not of a positive nature; more like a negative quantity. He never aspired like many boys, to be a leader; he was content to be led. He did not do as well as he knew how or could have done when leaving this Institution, and now he sees wherein he made mistakes; but it is too late to do away with the present trouble; it is just in time to fit and prepare him for future usefulness. We hope the lessons which are daily being taught him will have the desired effect and cause him to lead quite a different life. In answer to the questions asked, we can only say that Lewis is married as reported, and living on his father's farm at Valley Mills, in Marion county. There are 212 boys in the Reform School now. Write us again, Henry, when convenient for you to do so.]

LOGANSPOUT, Oct., 21, 1873.

BRO. AINSWORTH—Dear Sir:—It is with much pleasure that I seat myself to write you a short letter. I am very well and hope all at the schools are as highly favored. I am working for Mr. E. M., in his shoe shop; I intend to work here till spring. I have a good chance to finish my trade. I am still boarding with my uncle, J. H. V. My mother is expecting to move into the city before long, when I will go home to board, and perhaps attend school some. My face has been quite sore some of the time, but is almost well now. I have nothing new to write you at present; would like to see all, but it is not very long since I was a boy among the 200 boys of the Reform School. I hope the boys will all behave themselves and make good and respectable men. Please send me another ticket in place of the old one that is herein enclosed. Kind regards to all. The last Record was gladly received and found to contain much valuable and interesting information. Hope you will let me hear from you soon and often.

With many thanks for kindness received, I am your boy,

T. J. K.

TERRE HAUTE, INDIANA, Oct 7.

MR. F. B. AINSWORTH—Dear Friend: You will please excuse my neglect in not writing to you before this late date. When at the Reform School on a visit, I was somewhat hurried for time, and hence my short stay with you. I left Indianapolis more to get away from my former associates and old cronies than anything else, but I am quite lonely at times. I have an excellent place to work, and am getting very good wages, too. Charley H. is working in the same shop with me, and doing first rate. He says he is going to do what is right, and become a good and useful man. I am still owing you a small sum of money which will be paid soon. Would send into you in a letter, but I expect to pay you all a visit before long, and then I will hand the amount to you. I am very much obliged for the use of the money, and I hope to be able sometime to benefit others, if I never do you, as you have me. I have no disposition, Mr. Ainsworth, to brag, but I feel conscious that I am, after a long and severe course of training, in which I took or acted quite a prominent part, a reformed boy. I have no desire to steal now, and I humbly ask God to guide and protect me in all my ways. I have been a very bad boy, and have seen a good deal of crime and prison life, but I believe the morning of a better day is dawning on my life. Changed as it is, and I have no one else to thank for it only the means in the hands of a loving and forgiving Savior employed at the Indiana House of Refuge. True, I did not do right for some time after leaving your Institution, but the seed sown in my heart while there has sprung up, and, I trust, is bringing forth fruit that is acceptable to the Father who careth for us all. Please write me soon and tell me all about how the boys are getting along. Remember me with kindness to all. My letter is already too long, so I will close.

As ever, your friend,

WESLEY J——.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 12, 1873.

BROTHER AINSWORTH—It is with pleasure that I seat myself to write you r short letter to inform you of my good health and prosperity. I am still working in the office, but think of making a change, going to work on the train running from this place to Indianapolis. I am trying to do what is right, save my money and make a good man of myself. Was very sorry to learn of the accidental death of David S. It was a sudden death, without warning. Poor fellow! I hope he was prepared to die. He was never regarded as a very bad boy, so far as I know. It must have caused you all to feel very sad indeed to have a death in the School, especially on the Fourth of July, when all were in the midst of a good and pleasant time. But he has gone, and we can only hope that all is well with him, and take warning and be ready to go when called for. Am going to make you a visit before long. Enclosed please find fifty cents for which send me the Record one year. Saw W. the other day; he is well and seems to be getting along nicely. My father and family send kind regards to all at the Reform School. Please say to the boys that I often think of them and hope they will all do the best they can to become good boys and make men that will be of some benefit for the world.

Your friend

CHARLES C——.

BRIDGEPORT, ILL., July 6, 1873.

DEAR FRIEND—Trusting that you will pardon my long delay in writing to you, I embrace the opportunity of dropping a few lines. I am at work, and have been all summer. This is a great country for hard work. Wages are good, work plenty, and help very scarce, which makes it rather good for those who have to work out for a living. Have not heard a word from the Reform School for some time. You must not put off writing because I did. How do you all get along? Have you had much sickness this year? Have you had any deaths? How many boys have you now? Do you get as large boys as you use to? Please write me a letter and tell me all about the School, as I desire to keep posted as to what is going on in my "old home."

We have had a good deal of warm weather this summer. There have been several cases of sunstroke in this vicinity within a few days. Guess my long letter will answer for this time. Answer all of my questions and oblige one of your boys,

JOHN G.

(We are all getting along very nicely. But little sickness, not a case in the school at this time. No deaths among the boys this year, except that of David S., a former inmate, by accident. We have about two hundred boys—always full. The law has been changed, and boys are not admitted now that are over sixteen years of age; formerly eighteen was the limit; hence, we get smaller boys than during the first years of the Institution. We have quite a number of large boys now, but they have been with us for some time, and have grown a good deal since gaining admission to the Reform School. Write us again, John. Be industrious, honest, obedient, and you will come out all right.)

INDIANAPOLIS, July, 13, 1873.

MR. AINSWORTH—I was very glad to hear from you and learn of the good health of all connected with the Institution. Had hoped to visit you before this time, but I am kept quite busy nearly all of the time. Suppose you all had lots of fun on the Fourth at the Farm. There was no general celebration in the city, but almost everybody and his friends went to the country and neighboring villages to celebrate the grand old Fourth in the good old style of their fathers, of course. I see some of the boys quite frequently, and am always pleased to meet them. Was glad to learn that George S. is getting along so nicely. Hope he will continue to do well. He is capable of making a good man. Every day I see a score or more of boys that ought to be sent to the Reform School. How much better it would be for them to be out on the School Farm where they would have to attend school and learn something useful. Here they are going to the bad entirely, with no prospect of their ever doing any better unless they are removed from the scenes of vice that have been so familiar with them for years. Please write me again.

YOUR BOY.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Oct. 3, 1873.

DEAR BROTHER AINSWORTH—Your kind letter was duly received, and found me in good health, and right glad to hear from you once more. Your favor was directed wrong, or rather it was not addressed to the No., 419 Cherry street, which caused it to be delayed for a short time. Was pleased to learn that you was all so well, and getting on so finely at the school. I attended the fair here, and had a good and pleasant time. Last year I went to Mooresville to the fair, and rode a horse. We are having fine weather now. It must be a splendid time for doing fall work. Enclosed please find a little pictured handkerchief for a present for Charley. Tell him who it is from. Have nothing more to write about at present. Hope to hear from you soon. I wonder who has my place in your dining room? Give my best love to Mrs. Ainsworth and dear little Charley. Does he remember Johnny? My mother and the rest of the folks send kind regards.

Your boy,

JOHNNY H——.

P. S.—Enclosed find my ticket for renewal. Please send me one right away, and oblige,
J. H.

OFFICE OF THE BRYAN DEMOCRAT,

BRYAN, O., Oct. 5, 1873.

MY DEAR FRIEND—I received your welcome and interesting letter a few days ago. As usual, I was delighted to hear from the Reform School of Indiana, that was my home for so long a time. I am still working with my uncle, and am trying to learn the printer's trade. I am satisfied, contented, and like the work very much. I received a letter from my mother in Terre Haute, informing me of the sickness of all four of my sisters. They are much better now, and the doctor who is attending them says they have passed the critical point, and will soon regain their former good health. This is quite a pleasant place to live. We get a large amount of job work to do, which affords me a good opportunity for learning that particular part of the business. I send you with this letter samples of our fancy work. My expired ticket is also enclosed. Please send me a new one, and confer another favor upon one of your boys, that used to be pretty crooked, but hopes he is much improved and better now. Am about of news for this time, so I will have to bring my letter to a close. Would be pleased to hear from you at any time. I send best wishes to all of the boys and officers.

Yours, with much respect,

HARRY H.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11, 1873.

MR. AINSWORTH—Kind Friend: I am going to write you a few lines for the purpose of letting you know where I am, what I am doing, and how I am getting along. You will see by referring to the top of this page, that I am in the Capital city of Indiana, at work for the Indianapolis Chair Company, and, as I think, am doing very well. I was pleased to see the boys—the whole school—at the Exposition the other day. They looked nicely, and created quite a sensation in the city. The band performed as well as some older organizations. Everybody seemed very much pleased with the appearance of the Reform School boys, and I am sure the boys enjoyed the treat. I am intending to make you a visit before long. Compliments to all.

Yours truly,

D. W.

LOGANSPORT, Oct. 20, 1873.

MR. AINSWORTH—This morning at the breakfast table, our boy, Jefferson, reminded me of the fact that it was time to report to you, and I will do it in as few words as possible. The boy is very well and seems to be doing first rate. He is working for Mr. M. in a shoeshop, who speaks highly of him. He boards with us. He will write you in a day or two. Please accept our thanks for favors received, and for the interest of yourself and officers manifested in behalf of our boy. Jefferson sends his love to all of the officers and boys.

Yours, truly,

J. V. HEDDENS.

PAW PAW, MIAMI CO., Oct. 24, 1873.

To the Superintendent:

DEAR FRIEND—After considerable delay on the part of some one unknown to me, your kind letter came to hand. I am in very good health, have plenty of hard work to do, and am trying to earn an honest living. Thus far I have succeeded finely and hope for a successful future. Am out of news just now, so my letter will be quite short. Enclosed is my ticket; please send me another. Want to make you a visit about Thanksgiving, if I do not come then, I will try and be with you on Christmas day, to enjoy an old time meeting with you all, at the School that was my home for a good long while. Where is Thomas L. now? Hope he is a good boy and doing well. The weather has been quite pleasant this fall so far, but we may soon expect plenty of cold and unpleasant weather. Will close my letter now, hoping to receive another favor from you soon. Don't forget to give my respects to all at the Reform School.

Ever your friend,

GEORGE D.

HAMER, Ohio, Oct. 30, 1873.

DEAR BRO. A.—The letter you wrote me some time since was duly received, and found me about the same as for some time past. I was much pleased to get your letter and was greatly interested in its contents. It always affords me great pleasure to hear from those that were my companions and teachers for so long a time. Is brother R. W. Cramer with you yet? Where is Asa A. now? The RECORD for October has not come yet, and I am beginning to think that it is lost, miscarried, or else some one too stingy to subscribe for it himself, has taken mine. My old ticket is enclosed, for which you will please send me another, and oblige one of your former pupils. Would like to have one of your last reports. This letter must be short, as I am entirely out of news. Regards to everybody.

Your friend,

GEORGE W. WOLE.

NORTH LIBERTY, IND., Oct. 27, 1873.

BRO. F. B. AINSWORTH—I am almost ashamed to write you a letter after so long a silence, but I trust you will pardon me if I promise to be more prompt in the future, which I cheerfully do. I am still working for the same man, learning the blacksmith's trade. I get seventy-five cents for every day I work, and I do not lose much time, for we are told by somebody, I have quite forgotten who, that time is money, and I am desirous of making the best possible use of both. When at Liberty a few weeks ago, I saw Mr. B.; you know he used to be a teacher at the Reform School when I was there. He is a lawyer now, and I suppose making lots of money and a world-wide reputation. Would like to see you all the best kind, and think perhaps I may find it convenient to call on you sometime during the coming winter. I notice by the papers that all of the boys of the School went to Indianapolis one day to attend the Exposition. And I also noticed that all of the boys returned to the Institution in good order. That must have been a pleasant day for the boys, to be placed on their honor, and so many privileges given them. But I must close. Write soon.

Your friend,

ALLIE G.

FLORENCE, IND., Oct. 18, 1873.

Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth, Plainfield, Indiana:

DEAR SIR—I received your kind and interesting letter some time ago. Negligence, and a poor opportunity for writing, are the only excuses I have to offer for not answering your welcome epistle before this time. I am running on the river yet, and doing very well. My father is mate on the same boat. “General Buell” is the name of the boat. We run from Cincinnati to Louisville. I get good wages, and am saving my money. At present I am off on a furlough, visiting at home. Will go back to the boat in a few days, and stay until navigation closes out the work of those who earn their money on the waters. I occasionally meet with a Reform School boy at Madison, or some of the other river towns. As a general thing, they seem to be doing very well. I hope they may all continue well doing and become good and respectable citizens. This they can do; they all know how to act, and I trust you, as well as the rest of their friends, will not be disappointed in the course they will pursue through life. My last ticket was good for sixty days, which is quite an extension—am very much obliged for your kindness—and am sure the confidence you thus repose in me will not be betrayed. Please write soon.

With great respect,

Alonzo N.

CLARKSBURG, IND., Sept. 30, 1873.

DEAR BROTHER AINSWORTH.—It gives me great pleasure to receive a letter from you. I am well, and hope that all connected with the Reform School are the same. Did intend to visit you during State Fair time, but now I think it will be quite doubtful, as I can not make it convenient to go to the fair at Indianapolis. My father has been in Cincinnati some of late. He brought me a nice pen and holder for a birth-day present. I am hard at work cutting corn this fine weather. Expect to start for school next week. Was glad to get so good a report from the boys as your letter gave. I understand that George S. is an Elder Brother now. Hope he will make a success of it. Please write me a letter soon giving me all the news. Believe me to be your boy.

Yours, &c.,

JOHN TARPLEE.

BRAZIL, IND., Sept. 26, 1873.

BROTHER AINSWORTH—No doubt you are thinking that I am not going to answer your last communication, which was received some time since. I am still working in the Miner office, learning the art divine—to be a printer. I am getting along very well. On examination I find that my ticket is out, and I would like to have another. I want to make you a visit ere long and see all of my old friends. Suppose there have been changes at the Institution since I left—old boys going home and new ones gaining admission to the Reform School, as well as some changes in officers and teachers. We had a good fair here; it was well attended, and proved to be quite a success for the originators. Would be pleased to be remembered to the boys and officers of the school. Hoping to get another good letter from you soon. I am truly,

WILLIAM W.

WEST LYNNE, MANITOBA, Sept. 30, 1873.

MR. FRANK B. AINSWORTH—Kind Friend:—It is a long time since I had a letter from you and a letter from home, or from a kind friend, would be very highly prized in this new and sparsely settled country. This is a hard country; we are under the English Government, and are able to compare, in a slight degree, the rulings of a Queen's government, to a country governed as our own, the United States. I am working at the carpenter's trade, building a store, and a large building for a hotel and boarding house. It is now nearly four years since I left the Indiana Reform School, and I have traveled nearly all the time since then. I have been a soldier in the army of "Uncle Sam" for three long and tedious years, and now for almost a year a traveler in the Queen's Domains, till finally, I brought up in the Province of Manitoba, where I am at this time. I am very well and can but hope that all with you are enjoying the same blessing. You would not know me now, for I have changed a great deal since leaving Hoosierdom; four years makes a great difference when one is just budding into manhood. Suppose that there has been great and numerous changes at the Reform School within the time spoken of, and so it is everywhere. Think some of finding my way back to the States in the course of another year or two, but cannot tell how long I may remain. Please write me a letter, telling me all about the old boys of the Reform School, where they are, and what they are doing, &c. If there are any boys at the School with whom I am acquainted, please give them my compliments, and tell them I am always glad to hear from my friends, and that I always take special pains to answer all letters received. Yes, it would give me great pleasure to get letters from those boys that were inmates of the School at the time I was there, but I suppose it would be a difficult matter to find out the whereabouts of so many boys that are apt to drift all over the world. Perhaps you are in correspondence with most or all of them; if so, remember me kindly to them when you write again. Yours, with great respect,

ISAAC H. FISHER.

BLOOMINGTON, Nov. 7.

F. B. AINSWORTH—Kind Friend:—I have been thinking of writing to you for some time, but have put it off from time to time till now it seems like neglect. I knew all the time it was my duty to keep you informed as to the whereabouts and conduct of my son, George. He worked well in the shop for about six weeks after coming home, when his employer persuaded him to engage in cane-seating chair seats and backs. Then it was the intention to keep him employed at the caning business all winter. He was paid fifteen cents for each common seat he caned, and made very fair wages; but in the course of a few weeks the supply of cane was exhausted and the money panic put a sudden stop to almost all kinds of manufacturing interests in Bloomington. After remaining idle for some three weeks, waiting for the company for which he was working to resume—with no prospect of employment very soon—he thought it best to visit his uncle in Kentucky and work for him on the farm, if his services were needed. He is there yet, and seems to be getting along very well. Since he has succeeded in finding a place to labor, the chair shop man is quite desirous that he return to B. and again work at the trade learned at the Reform School. Hard times still keep many a poor boy out of work who would be glad to earn an honest living; and not a few persons would be driven into crime on account of the panic, dull times for work and the want of confidence the people should have in money matters. God help and care for the poor should be the sincere prayer of everybody. I hope that you are all in good health and that the boys are doing right in every particular, making men of themselves, who will be honored and respected wherever their lots may be cast. Enclosed please find George's ticket, for which we respectfully ask another. Would be pleased to have you write my son a letter. His postoffice address is Bradfordsville, Kentucky. I am sure he will be delighted to hear from you at any time. Yours, etc.,

MRS. S. A. O.

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 2.

BR. AINSWORTH:—I now send you my first report since leaving the Institution. I have been sick about half of the time, not able to do anything at all; but my father and all the folks have been very kind to me. When sick, I was at home, and had the best of care. Shortly after getting home I began to work for one of the manufacturing companies here, and would have remained there all winter, but for the panic, which caused the folks I was working for, as well as some others, to close operations for awhile. Expect to have another situation in a few days. I am well satisfied and think I am getting along very nicely, considering all of the circumstances. Please send me another ticket of leave, and much oblige. My love to you and Mrs. Ainsworth; also, Brother C. W. Ainsworth and his wife; and Brother Jones, too, not forgetting any of the boys and officers with whom I am acquainted. Tell the boys to do right and get home, so they can help their folks and be of some use in the world. When you write please address your letters to father. I hope to find a suitable place by spring, where I can begin to learn a good trade. I know you will have a good time on Thanksgiving and Christmas. Wonder if I will have so much fun here this year as I had at the school last year? Will know in a short time. Having nothing more to write at this time I will close my letter after thanking all at the Reform School for their kindness to me, while one of their number.

Your friend,

CHARLES HAYS.

COLUMBUS, IND., Nov. 4.

MR. AINSWORTH—Dear Sir: I write to tell you how Eddie is getting along. He is well and pays strict attention to his work and books. He says he is going to make a good and useful man, and I try to second all of his endeavors to do right. I do not think we will have any more trouble with him. He often speaks of the officers and boys at the Reform School, and would be delighted to visit them all again at no very distant day. Enclosed you will find his ticket, which expires in a short time. Please send him another and confer a favor upon one of your boys who is daily putting into practice the good lessons learned while a member of your large and interesting family. I will keep you posted as to his conduct each month.

Yours respectfully, S. A. M.

OTTUMWA, IOWA, March 23, 1873.

DEAR SIR:—Your good favor of a recent date was received in due time and found me quite well and hard at work. We are having very fine weather here, and the farmers do not come to town very often, as it is a good time to do their spring's work. We had a large fire here a short time ago that caused quite a number of business men to suspend operations for a while at least. A good deal of valuable property was destroyed by the "fire fiend" and some was uninsured, thus rendering the owners in some cases bankrupt. This is a live place, and it is growing quite rapidly—is destined to be quite a railroad centre, perhaps not so large a one as Indianapolis. The country round about Ottumwa is rich, fertile and thickly settled by progressive people. Enclosed please find my ticket for "repairs" and renewal. Hope you will continue to write me often, as I am always delighted to hear from my old home and true friends, as of old.

WM. F. LAMBKIN.

LAFAYETTE, Aug. 24, 1873.

BRO. AINSWORTH—Dear Sir:—I am happy to inform you that I arrived at home safe, and found my folks well and very glad to see me. I have nothing of importance to write at this time. I do not notice much change in this city since I was at home awhile ago. School will open about the tenth of next month, when I am going to renew my studies if all goes well, and try to do right and obtain a good education. You will confer a favor on your boy by writing him a letter soon, and telling him all about how you are getting along. Hope you are all well and prospering finely. My parents are very thankful to you and the officers of the Institution for the many acts of kindness shown their wayward boy while he was under the tuition of the Reform School. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am, Respectfully, GEORGE S.—.

PLEASANT, IND., Sept. 2, 1873.

MR. F. B. AINSWORTH—Dear Friend: It is with pleasure that I seat myself to write you a short letter for the purpose of informing you of my good health and how I am prospering. I trust you will pardon me for not writing sooner. We have been quite busy most of the time, and I do not feel very much like writing letters after working all day. We had a good deal of hot weather during the past month. I hope the boys are all well and doing first rate. The Record is regularly received. It affords us all great pleasure to read it. Was pleased to notice the compliments paid to the band boys by the editors of the State, for their excellent music and good behavior while on the excursion; and then, the "Old Settlers" paid them a handsome tribute in the resolution they adopted at their meeting. Am intending to spend a couple of days at the exposition, and will try to visit the Reform School. Please write soon and remember me kindly to all the boys with whom I am acquainted—also to the officers. With great respect I am, one of your boys,

JAMES B. FRYE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 21, 1873.

DEAR BROTHER AINSWORTH—I am very glad to write you a letter at this time. I am well, and trying to do my best to put into practice what I learned while an inmate of the Reform School. This is a large and beautiful city, and I am very much pleased with my home at the capital of Indiana. Thomas B. is living with Mr. H. He has a good place and seems to be doing well. I am at work and get four dollars a week. You know I am not very large and cannot yet earn very large wages. I attend church every Sabbath and enjoy it very much. Tell Eddie B. to write me a letter from home. I would like to see all of the boys—will come and see them for a short time after awhile. My father and mother unite with me in sending kind regards to all at the school-farm. Please send me one of the last reports, and oblige,

Yours truly,

HARRY C—.

FORT WALLA WALLA, W. T., Aug. 18, 1873.

DEAR FRIEND—Bro. A.: I wrote you in reply to a letter I received last December. Have never heard from that letter, but we have been on the march so much during the past six or eight months that it is next to an impossibility for letters to reach us. For the present we are stationed at Fort Walla Walla. I like this country very much. The city bearing the name of the Fort is about four miles distant. It contains about six thousand inhabitants, and is quite a lively place at this season of the year—especially as the miners make it their head quarters during the time the snow lasts. There is, however, a great deal of fighting and drinking among these men, who live mostly by themselves. There are a good many Indians in this section of the country, but they are all civilized, having untold numbers of horses, and some as fine farms as a person would wish to see. There are at this post six companies of cavalry and four companies of infantry, fresh from the lava beds, where we were sent to assist in exterminating Capt. Jack and his Modoc followers, but we were too late to take part in the exercise. It is uncertain how long we shall remain here. Do you know where James is? if so, tell him to write to me. How does Mrs. Mosher get along? I would like to hear from her. Where does John Tobin reside? Hoping that Mrs. A. and yourself are well, and that you are meeting with good success with the noble work in which you are engaged, I remain your humble servant and friend,

P. S.—Please send me some reports and papers occasionally, and oblige

JOHNNIE.

NORTH LIBERTY, Aug. 14, 1873.

Mr. B. F. Ainsworth, Superintendent House of Refuge, Plainfield, Ind.:

DEAR SIR.—Your kind letter was received in due time. I am always glad to hear from my friends, and especially so from those at the House of Refuge, where my home was for so long a time, and where I got a good start in educational and reformatory matters. Enclosed you will find my ticket, for which please send me another. I am at work and doing as well as could be expected. You must accept this short note for a letter, as I am not in a writing mood this evening. Hoping to get another letter from you soon, I am, as ever,

Your friend,

ALLIE G.

MICHIGAN CITY, Aug. 13, 1873.

MR. AINSWORTH—Kind Friend: I owe you a letter, and I always like to keep out of debt. Was very much pleased to hear from you, and interested in reading your good and welcome favor. I am in good health, and have been at work most of the time. My work is loading and unloading vessels. I make considerable money, and am trying to save it. This is quite a fine city. Please write soon. Would like to see you all very much.

Yours, &c., DANIEL COLEMAN.

MILLVILLE, Nov. 6.

MY FRIEND—It affords me great pleasure to be able to make a good report of myself. I am at work, get a man's wages, which is one dollar and fifty cents a day. Bad company does not possess any charms for me. My health is good. Hope all are well and prosperous with you. Desire to be very kindly remembered to the boys and officers alike. How does Mr. Greenway get along now? Suppose he is hard at work among the pretty flowers in the green house this fall weather? Please send me another ticket. May I hope for a letter from you soon?

Yours truly,

JOHN SHEHAN.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, T. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana.

We have the honor to submit to your Excellency the twenty-fifth annual report of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, with the accompanying papers thereto belonging, for the year ending October 31st, 1873.

The past year has been one of unusual satisfaction in the entire management of the institution, and we have abundant reason for congratulation in that neither pestilence nor discord has marred its usefulness.

We are largely indebted to the present Superintendent, Dr. Orpheus Everts for the admirable management and success of the hospital. He has now completed his fifth year of this charge, and his systematic endeavor to advance it to its highest state of usefulness is alike creditable to his head and heart.

One hundred and fifty-eight of the unfortunate people committed to the care of the hospital have been restored to reason within the last year and gone home to their families, eloquent reminders that our work has not been in vain.

The constant cry that comes up from every quarter of the State for "more room," admonishes us that our means for caring for this class of our population are totally inadequate to its wants; yet we look forward to the not distant day when these unfortunates shall have a home large enough for all, and so perfect in its appointments as to meet the broadest views of our philanthropists, as well as the wants of the suffering class.

For a detailed statement of the financial management and general statistics of the hospital, we beg leave to refer your Excellency to the accompanying carefully prepared report of the Superintendent.

A quarter of a century has now elapsed since the organization of the Hospital, and we point with pride to its beneficence during this long period, and trust its future usefulness may be commensurate with the growing wants of our beloved State.

Very respectfully,

P. H. JAMESON,

J. M. CALDWELL,

GEO. F. CHITTENDEN,

Commissioners.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners

For the Indiana Hospital for the Insane:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor as Superintendent of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, to submit the following report for the year ending October 31, 1873.

MOVEMENT OF POPULATION.

There were four hundred and sixty-eight patients remaining in hospital at the end of last year, October 31st, 1872.

Three hundred and twenty patients have been admitted within the year just closed.

Three hundred and fourteen patients have been discharged within the year, under the following circumstances:

Recovered, one hundred and fifty-eight.

Improved, forty-two.

Not improved, fifty.

Died, sixty-four.

From the above it will be seen that four hundred and seventy-four patients remain in hospital at the date of this report.

The daily average has been nearly the same as that of last year. I have been compelled to discharge a large number of chronic cases to make room for those received, as well as to resist the constant tendency to crowd the wards beyond the sanitary point, and to accommodate some of the exigencies growing out of the progress of remodeling and repair of the building.

HYGIENIC.

The general health of the house has been usually good. The presence of small-pox in the south wing, to which I referred in my report for 1872, continued to discomfort us with an occasional outbreak until late in the winter, adding materially to our aggregate and ratio of deaths for this year. An epidemic of serous diarrhœa of a mild type affected the population of the hospital in May and for some weeks after, but claimed but one victim for sacrifice. Aside from which no general morbid manifestations out of the ordinary lines have been perceptible, and the statistics of the year show results ordinarily satisfactory.

MAINTENANCE.

The maintenance of the hospital has been ample. The whole population has been well fed, clothed and protected. Yet there has been no margin for waste, extravagance or negligence of economy in purchasing or administration. My constant thought and purpose has been "improvement" in every direction, adding from time to time, to the full extent of means furnished, to the comfort, convenience and general appearance of the house and its inmates.

EXPENDITURES.

The expenditure for maintenance proper for the year closed, was increased beyond that of previous years, and the estimate relied upon, to the amount of $3,563 05, by the failure of contractors to supply coal, forcing us into the open market in midwinter, on the heels of a strike in the mines, for our heaviest requirements for fuel. Extraordinary expenses have increased also to the amount of $500 for a span of mules, and $500 for milch cows.

I have, also, added to the working force of the hospital a competent floral and landscape gardener, and several additional laborers, with a view to laying out and properly cultivating the hospital grounds, a work long contemplated, but deferred for want of money.

The repair fund has been drawn upon rapidly, because of the accumulation of wants in that line waiting for an appropriation adequate to the demand so long delayed.

It is, perhaps, worthy of remark also, that the recent "money panic" drove in for payment all indebtedness, and a certain amount of delayed bills, usually "carried over," from six to ten thousand dollars, is made to appear in the expenditures of this year, thus swelling the aggregate beyond its legitimate proportions.

BUILDING AND REPAIRS.

Enabled by the appreciative liberality toward the benevolent institutions of the State, of the Legislature last assembled, making such appropriations as were asked for and urgently recommended in my report for 1872, and for which you so assiduously labored, early in the season I began a general system of repair, and the construction of such new building as was contemplated and set forth in that report.

The requirements seem to expand as we approach them, and the work proves to be of greater magnitude and importance than even I had estimated. Necessities not before seen have been uncovered by the process of renovation; and the wonderful transformation effected by remodeling and repairing one portion of the old building, throws other portions, before barely tolerable, into such disparagement that it would seem to be almost a necessity to extend our labor in this direction beyond the limits prescribed.

I have, however, so far refrained from undertaking work of the least doubtful propriety, however tempted by my appreciation of apparent defects, and my ambition to make this hospital in all respects a "first class" institution.

In my report for 1872, I referred to the doubtful integrity of the walls of the rear center building. Something had then been done by way of strengthening the most defective or east wall, but developments made in the course of the winter, confirmed my expressed apprehension, and measures had to be taken early to prevent ruin of the entire structure.

On consultation with a master mason in whom I have great confidence, we proceeded to underpin with stone the southeast corner of the building, and then raised four heavy walls between the east front and the center kitchen building, separated from the rear building by a space of ten feet, thus consolidating the two structures and lending to the weaker wall the support of a stronger.

This work was somewhat expensive, costing nearly or quite one thousand dollars, not estimated for, but forced upon us. We gain several excellent and much needed rooms by the enclosure thus made, which is some compensation for the expenditure aside from the sense of security afforded by the work.

The failure of our old oven created another necessity not counted upon and involved the building of a new oven, having a baking capacity equal to the wants of the hospital when completed. I adopted Bailey's patent oven as promising economy of time and fuel, and have built an oven at an expense of twelve hundred dollars, including patent right, in the basement of the center kitchen building. Changing the location of the oven will enable me to still further utilize the basement room of the center kitchen building, which will be done as the work of remodeling progresses.

A new boiler house has been built from the foundation, fifty-two feet long by forty-eight feet wide, and sixteen feet high, covered by a slate roof. The six boilers have all been moved and reset in the most substantial and approved manner by Mr. John Martin, the breeching of the boilers communicating with the old "stack" from the west. This improvement will contribute to the comfort and safety of the hospital service beyond calculation, and leaves the old boiler room to be converted into a laundry, now in process of construction. The cost of the new boiler house and resetting the boilers, including change of breeching, steam pipes and steam fitting, has been about seven thousand dollars.

The "old basement" of the north wing, somewhat celebrated in the annals of this hospital, has been thoroughly remodeled, and is now occupied by men, the brightest and most cheerful ward of the house.

Three ventilating shafts have been constructed through all the wards of the old section of the north wing, beginning at the ground and terminating above the roof, the influence of which was felt immediately in the better condition of the atmosphere of the old wards thus penetrated. These shafts or flues were carefully constructed, so that either could be used as a chimney should an emergency ever again require the temporary use of stoves.

Ward "I," of the north wing, has also been thoroughly renovated, refloored, replastered and repainted, thus transforming one of the most disagreeable features of the north wing, giving to it a pleasing and cheerful expression.

The bed rooms of "F" ward have been refloored, and complete repair of the ward will soon be effected.

The original improvement of the south wing is well advanced but not finished. The proposed elevation of the attics has been accomplished so far as to be under roof, and now ready for the plasterer. This work, however difficult, has been well done, and the improved appearance of the building, to say nothing of the gain in room and convenience, will amply compensate the labor and expense implied. New heating apparatus has been introduced into the first section of the north wing, and the entire south wing. A brick tunnel, for the introduction of steam pipes, connecting the heating apparatus with the boilers, had to be constructed under the entire extension supplied, and the old and defective coils, which have so many years occupied an entire story of the old hospital, have been removed preparatory to utilization of this room for ward purposes.

The method now adopted for heating that portion of the building alluded to, (direct radiation, with natural ventilation,) promises to be more reliable and efficient than the old method, and will certainly prove economical.

The main sewer has been extended as contemplated in my last report, and now debouches a short distance above the National Road Bridge over Little Eagle Creek, but below all those obstructions in the stream which prevented a free flow from the old mouth of the sewer, and I think the nuisance complained of will be avoided in future. It is possible, however, that the sewer will have to be further extended in the same direction to satisfy the demands of the neighborhood annoyed by the emanations, which will affect to a certain degree the atmosphere wherever the sewer may empty its contents.

Lumber for fencing the entire farm has been purchased, and is now on the ground.

The posts are set for several lines, and the work of planking is in progress. This work has been delayed by the impracticability of procuring suitable posts at an earlier date.

A large amount of work has been done on the grounds, which, by another season, will show the great improvement contemplated, but which at present only exhibits the disorder incident to improvement while in progress. Substantial hot beds have been constructed, a propagating and pot house, with furnace, and the rear section of a conservatory for plants and flowers have been built, all of which, although pertaining to the ornamental, were indispensable to our purpose of putting on new garments with the coming spring in keeping with the true dignity of the uses which such an institution is designed to subserve.

The mason work in front of the centre building is in a forward state, but incomplete, yet I trust the new front, which will add incalculably to the presence of the building and remain a monument to the taste and skill of the architect, Mr. Edwin May, will be completed before the winter forbids further progress. When finished, this approach, constructed of stone and iron, will be superior to that of any other public building in the State, and will compensate in a measure our long waiting.

When I add that two painters have been kept constantly employed for the year, and that a multitude of minor repairs have been effected, too tedious to mention in detail, but all important and involving expense, I may close this branch of my report with the financial statement pertaining thereto:

RESOURCES.

Appropriation.....	$86,600 00
Balance in Treasury.....	$22,486 76

Estimating by the work already accomplished in relation to the whole work contemplated, for which appropriations were made by the late General Assembly, I believe the provision made will be sufficient to carry out the design, and certainly no citizen of the State in any degree familiar with the Hospital as it has been, can fail to look upon the regenerate condition which it will soon present, without feelings of gratification and pride.

THE FARM.

The farm has been well cultivated and usually productive. Were it not for the ravages of the potato bug our supply of vegetables would have been ample for the year, without purchases of any kind.

ROOM.

The old cry for more room is daily, if not hourly, repeated. The necessity for more ample provision for the Insane in the State is no longer a subject for discussion. The purpose of the people was clearly manifested by their representatives in the last General Assembly, which evidently intended in good faith to provide room for the care of all the Insane of the State, for whom such provision might properly be sought.

The Senate passed a bill which, in all of its provisions, had the approbation of the officers of the Hospital and such persons as are supposed to be more fully qualified to determine the true interests of all parties concerned in locating and building such institutions, and the House of Representatives passed another bill differing from that passed by the Senate only in detail and not in purpose. But unfortunately the matter upon which all were agreed was permitted to pass without final action until the last hour of the session, and then by some slight inadvertence failed to become a law, and the Insane of the State, increasing in numbers, have two more years to wait before the beginning of relief can be realized. Meantime, as a result of a little carelessness, a certain number of insane citizens who might have been restored, will have become chronic and incurable for want of early treatment, a disaster not to be estimated by dollars, reflecting a responsibility which it is presumable but few if any of our law-makers will care to estimate, in a moral sense, as attaching to themselves. It is "devoutly to be hoped for" that the next General Assembly will make this subject one of early consideration and prompt action, as the people expect it and contribute their money more freely for such purposes than for any other object of taxation.

GENERAL CONDUCT.

Nothing new worthy of comment has been introduced within the year affecting the general conduct of the Hospital. The duties of officers and employes have been usually well performed—as well, perhaps, as is possible under the circumstances and conditions which pertain to the care of the Insane in hospital life. Theoretically, the careful observer might suggest many improvements, and practically there is and must be much fault found with ordinary hospital service. But when we consider, intelligently, what that service is, and the wages paid for the same, the surprise should be that it is so well performed with so few and so trivial abuses as are known to be practiced.

CHANGES.

Dr. Charles L. Armington, after nearly three years' service, tendered his resignation and left the Hospital on the 13th of October. He quits the specialty for the more congenial field of general practice, where we wish him the full mede of success which his qualifications merit.

Instead of third assistant physician to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Armington, I have secured the services of a competent Pharmacist, Mr. James Athon, which enables me to make a disposition of professional force advantageous to the service in many ways.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

The Hospital is indebted for and gratefully acknowledges the gratuitous receipt of the following periodicals:

Journal, (daily), Sentinel, (daily), Madison Courier, Lafayette Courier, Logansport Dem. Pharos, Logansport Sun, Kokomo Tribune, Kokomo Republican, Northern Indianian, Wabash Plain Dealer, Brookville American, Laporte Herald, South Bend Tribune, Mishawaka Enterprise, Litchfield (Minn.) Republican, Presbyter, Advocate, Sepidbote, (German,) Ladies' Repository, North Western Farmer, Indiana Medical Journal, Cincinnati Lancet.

Also, to Mr. Joseph Pierson, of New York City, for books and pictures, a generous donation, ever acceptable.

Also for cash donations amounting in the aggregate to seven hundred and twenty dollars ($720.00.)

For further particulars I beg leave to refer you to the appendix, and the records, books and vouchers of the hospital, which are open for inspection to any interested party at all times.

THANKS.

Sensible of the obligation which we are all under to the Divine love and wisdom which sustains all worthy endeavor, my recognition of the services of those upon whom I have depended for assistance is none the less appreciative, or my thanks to you less cordial or sincere.

Respectfully submitted,

ORPHEUS EVERTS,

Superintendent.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

The Trustees of the Indiana Institution for Educating the Deaf and Dumb, present their Thirtieth Annual Report.

No marked event has occurred in the history of the Institution during the past year to report to your Excellency. The Trustees, however, regard it as an appropriate and just tribute to refer to the death of Hon. W. H. Talbott, since the last annual report, who was President of the Board of Trustees for one term, and whose zealous and efficient discharge of the trust committed to him, did much to promote the prosperity and usefulness of the Institution; and also to the retirement of John M. Kitchen, M. D., from the Board, who for fourteen years occupied the position of Trustee, and to whose intelligent and earnest work in the cause of deaf-mute education and unremitting aid in the management of the Institution, its present high character and efficiency in all its departments, is, to a large extent, due.

The report of the Superintendent will show in detail the receipts and disbursements, its present financial condition and the workings of the Institution during the past year.

In this connection the Trustees direct your attention to the fact that the additions, improvements and repairs, that have been made during the past two years—and they have added much to the capacity and convenience of the Institution—have been made out of the savings in the regular appropriations, and by the practice of strict economy in its management—a high compliment to the officers who have immediate supervision of its affairs. Since the last annual report, and mostly during the recent vacation, repairs and improvements have been made and some additions to the out-buildings, but at no great cost, when the accruing benefits are considered.

The outside of the buildings have been thoroughly painted, which not only beautifies their external appearance, but protects the wood work and walls from damage and decay. An addition to the boiler house has been built, with a large room connected for the lathe, saw and tenon machines, run by steam power, for the benefit of the cabinet shop. The building used as the shoe shop has been enlarged and improved, and made more spacious and comfortable. Chair making has been added to the industries of the Institution, with every promise of success.

No feature in the discipline and economy of the Institution is more important than devoting a small portion of each day to the instruction of the pupils in useful mechanical and domestic employment. Such knowledge and skill will be a never failing resource for them when they enter upon the battle of life. The boys are taught trades, the girls needle-work and other branches of household economy. The employments of the former are the making of common furniture and the manufacture and mending of boots and shoes. The shoe shop does all the work that is needed by the county pupils, and all the common furniture needed by the establishment is made in the cabinet shop. In addition to supplying the Institution with the articles manufactured in its shops, there is an outside demand for all the surplus which helps to make the shops more than self-sustaining. The needle-work of the girls supplies the clothing required for the pupils, besides much that is needed in the domestic arrangements of the Institution. Two objects are accomplished in the establishment of the manual labor department; first, it gives the pupils a useful trade which they can make, if necessary, a means of livelihood, and second, this labor, to a considerable extent, economizes the expense of the Institution. There is no more valuable feature in its discipline than that which gives to the pupils habits of industry and a knowledge of useful arts that will inspire self-reliance and a sense of independence. With proficiency in some useful trade, the pupils who have neither relatives nor friends, to whom they can look for assistance when their education is completed and when they must leave the Institution, can go out into the world with confidence in their ability to earn their own support. The present capacity of the Institution is two hundred and eighty pupils. As it is, there is no State in the Union whose care for this unfortunate class is more liberal and complete than that of our own, or whose provisions for their education is surpassed in proportion to the population and age of the State.

From a small beginning twenty-nine years ago, it has grown to its present imposing and extensive proportion, and gratifying must it be to those living who helped to inaugurate it, to know the great good it has accomplished and to witness the fruit of their faith and works.

The health of the pupils during the past year has compared favorably with previous seasons. On their return from the recent summer vacation some of them brought back chills and fever, but this disease has been common through the State and more general than for many years. There has been no disease from local causes. The excellent heating and ventilating arrangements of the institution and its sanitary discipline, have been promotive of the general health and physical development of the pupils.

There has been no material change in the officers or employes of the Institution in either of its departments. Its usefulness and efficiency depend in a great degree, upon its executive management. No matter how profuse the appropriations of money, or how magnificent and well adapted the buildings, or how spacious and elegant the grounds, without competent and zealous officers, teachers and attendants, the internal administration of the Institution cannot be successful. But in these regards it has been highly favored. It gives the Trustees pleasure to state that from the Superintendent down to the humblest employe, and there is not one so humble whose unfaithfulness, will not disturb its harmonious workings, all deserve commendation. The neatness and order that prevails through the buildings, the successful internal economy and discipline best demonstrate that all is governed by high intelligence, skill, industry, with a happy adaptation of means to the end.

The Trustees have no very material suggestions to make to your Excellency. The Institution is in a good condition. It has unlocked the deaf ear and given speech to the dumb tongue. The once blanks in the social economy are now as well educated as a majority of those who have all their senses perfect, with equal or greater educational facilities and in addition they are fitted for occupations that will make them contributors to the common welfare instead of a burden upon industry. No scene is more impressive than an assembly of two hundred and eighty mutes with countenances bright, joyous, and beaming with intelligence, devoutly and understandingly worshiping the true and living God, a class once left in moral and intellectual darkness, without the means or hope of enlightenment, lifted from that darkness to a high sphere of intelligence and fields of usefulness by deaf-mute education provided by the liberality of the people. Of the noble charities of the State, not one has brought forth more beneficent results.

May the same kind Providence that has watched over and cared for the Institution from its inception continue to smile upon and increase its usefulness.

Respectfully submitted.

P. H. JAMESON,
W. R. HOGSHIRE,
JESSE R. BROWN.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN :—The following summary statements of the progress of the Institution the past year, its present condition and future prospects, I respectfully submit to your honorable body as my annual report.

The objects of the Institution have been steadily and successfully pursued. No very unusual or striking events have taken place. Indeed, the occurrences of the past year have been in the main repetitions of events of previous years. Few obstacles have intervened to retard or mar the general prosperity; and not many changes in the government and policy heretofore pursued have been introduced. In all essential particulars the course of study, the system of instruction, discipline and general management have remained about the same as formerly. Some improvements have been made but not of such a nature as to require special mention.

The number of pupils received under instruction during the year has been three hundred and thirty-one; one hundred and ninety-two boys and one hundred and thirty-nine girls. This is a number twenty-two greater than was ever in attendance in any one year before. Of these fifty-nine, thirty-five boys and twenty-three girls are new pupils received since the opening of the present session; and fifty-three, twenty-nine boys and twenty-four girls, were discharged at the close of the last session, which leaves under instruction at this date one hundred and fifty-seven boys and one hundred and sixteen girls, or two hundred and seventy-eight pupils.

It will thus be seen that the increase of pupils keeps pace with the rapid growth of the population of the State, and that our calculations heretofore made as to the number of beneficiaries to be provided for has been fully verified.

The following table will exhibit the whole number of pupils received the past year, the number discharged, and the number remaining from each county:

During the year every county in the State, except Ohio, Stark, Wells and Martin, has been represented in the Institution. Marion has had the largest number of beneficiaries.

The pupils are classified according to their attainments. There are fourteen classes, taught by as many different teachers. From eighteen to twenty-two constitute a class. The classes this term average within a fraction of twenty each. From fifteen to eighteen is deemed enough to engage the whole energies of one teacher.

A catalogue of the names and residences of the pupils accompanies this report.

The liberal appropriations made by the Legislature for support have proved sufficient to defray all the expenses of instruction, boarding, clothing, lodging and care of this large number, and to keep the buildings throughout in a good state of repair. The strictest economy consistent with the best interest and welfare of the Institution has been exercised in every expenditure.

The following synopsis of the accounts will exhibit the resources of the institution for the fiscal year, and the payments on account of current expenses, clothing and the support of the shops, under each separate head.

Balance November 1, 1873.....	$55 90

The above balance in the Treasury, of $25,542.98, will be sufficient to defray all the ordinary expenses for current support from this date to the 31st of March next, when the annual appropriation for the next year will accrue under the law.

The law makes it the duty of the Superintendent to supply with suitable clothing any of the pupils who are needy or who are not otherwise furnished by their friends. The amount allowed in no case can exceed $40 per annum. This is a wise provision, for many of the pupils are destitute of the means to clothe themselves, and could not remain at school if it were not for this assistance. Fully one-fourth of our number needed and received aid in this respect last year.

The account in each case is kept with the county from which the pupil comes, and goes before the County Commissioners, who decide whether the parents or guardian is able to supply his child or ward with the necessary clothing. If he is, and has neglected it, he is made to refund the amount to the county, with ten per cent. damages. This penalty secures the State against any unworthy advantage being taken of her liberality.

The support of the shops is derived from the profits on the sale of work manufactured by the pupils. The revenue from this source the past year has been, as will be seen from the foregoing account, a little more than the current expenses.

The health of the pupils the past year has, upon the whole, been about as good as usual, except that during the fore part of the session something like that strange disease so prevalent among horses last fall, called epizooty, invaded the Institution and fell upon a large number of the pupils. In many cases the attacks were mild, but in others they were violent and protracted, and in several the disease developed into or became complicated with catarrh, cerebro-spinal meningitis, or typhoid fever, and was especially severe upon those affected with scrofula or weakness of the lungs.

The disease first made its appearance about the middle of November, and continued to prevail throughout the winter, before it was entirely eradicated from our midst.

In many cases there seemed to be nothing more than a severe influenza, with loss of appetite, debility and a slight fever. Such cases generally yielded to treatment, and the patients soon recovered. But in several instances the disease ran into typhoid fever, which lingered for weeks and brought those thus afflicted almost to the verge of the grave, but all these finally recovered. In three other cases the disease after about a week or ten days' continuance, developed into well marked cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis. One died suddenly, and the two others, after a protracted struggle, with the malady.

The first death occasioned by the epidemic, occurred the 14th of January, and was that of a bright and promising boy twelve years old, named Thomas H. Carson, from Tipton county. He had for several days been indisposed and was under medical treatment, but his case was not considered serious. What appeared as a mild attack of the prevalent influenza suddenly developed into a violent case of cerebro-spinal meningitis, and he died in a few hours.

The next death took place the following day, January 15th, and was that of James Conduit, from Booneville, in Warrick county. He had been under instruction but little more than a year. The circumstances of his sickness and death were similar to those of the one mentioned above.

Five days later we were again summoned to the death-bed of another of our number, Henrietta Kidder, also a new pupil, from Lawrence county. She was an interesting child of good mind and amiable disposition, but feeble constitution.

Besides the mortality mentioned above resulting from the epidemic, we suffered the loss by death of two other pupils, last term, produced by other and independent causes.

The first of these was that of Flavilla Wiekkel, a young lady, eighteen years of age, from Elkhart county, who had nearly completed her course of study. In the early part of the term she began to exhibit symptoms of pulmonary disease. She was treated for this by our family physician for several months, but without any permanent relief; she gradually grew worse until it was thought advisable by her friends to remove her to her home, with the hope that the change might prove beneficial. In this hope they were disappointed, for she grew rapidly worse and died in a few weeks after she reached home.

The last case was that of Albert Isaiah Nieman who had entered school three years before, having at the time organic disease of the heart. His friends hoped he might outgrow this infirmity. He was a good student and made rapid progress in his studies. In the winter he was taken with inflammatory rheumatism in his lower extremities, from which he suffered exceedingly for several months, but which finally extending to his heart soon terminated his sufferings.

While we sincerely sympathize with the parents and friends who have been thus made to mourn the loss of their dear ones we feel and can assure them that all was done in each case which medical skill and assiduous and kind nursing could effect. They have been taken, we trust, by an all-wise and merciful God from this vale of tears to the paradise above where there is no more sorrow nor suffering.

The corps of officers remains the same as last year. There have been some changes, however, among the teachers. Miss Sarah C. Williams, one of our best and most successful deaf-mute teachers, on account of failing health, resigned about the middle of the session. Miss H. N. Mac Intire, also an experienced and efficient teacher, resigned at the close of the term. Mr. Joseph C. Gordon, having been elected to the professorship of natural science in the National Deaf-Mute College at Washington, tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the Board, and he left us to enter upon his duties in that Institution at the opening of the present term.

The vacancies thus created have all been satisfactorily filled by the appointment of persons of intelligence and of high moral character and of known ability and skill in teaching.

Mr. Ezra G. Valentine comes to us highly recommended from the Wisconsin Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. He brings here an experience of several years in the profession and a reputation for zeal and interest in the work, which promises an eminent degree of usefulness and success.

Mr. Henry C. Hammond and Miss Frances E. Goode had both, for several years, been engaged as instructors in the Illinois Institution under the able superintendence of Dr. Philip G. Gillette. That Institution being under a temporary suspension on account of the erection of new buildings we availed ourselves of the opportunity to secure their services. They entered upon the discharge of their duties at the opening of this session and have already given good evidence of their ability in this field of usefulness.

The increase of pupils this year, made it necessary to employ an additional teacher. Mr. Volentine Holloway, a semi-mute, and one of our former pupils, was appointed by the Board to this position, and commenced his duties at the opening of the term. Mr. H. in addition to the course of study pursued in this Institution, has taken a full course in the National Deaf-Mute College, and is an honored graduate of that institution. He has chosen teaching as his profession and has been called to this position. His adaptation to this peculiar calling can only be determined by actual trial. His education, talents and character give us grounds to hope for the most favorable results.

The industrial department of the Institution has received that full share of attention which its importance demands. The same system of management heretofore pursued has been continued and with very gratifying results. Some improvements in the shops have been made and some additional facilities for the acquisition of trades have been supplied.

The sewing room of the girls has been thoroughly overhauled, a new floor laid, the walls replastered, and the wood-work painted, and the whole very much improved. This department is under the efficient management of Miss Emma Perkins, who gives her entire time to it, cutting and preparing work while the girls are in school, and giving instruction to the different classes in needle work during the time set apart for this purpose.

The shoe-shop for some time has needed repairing very much; it was very low in the ceiling, without any proper ventilation, very shabby in appearance, and very uncomfortable, if not unhealthy, when crowded as it has been of late, with apprentices. These defects we found we could remedy at a comparatively small expense. We have therefore had the walls raised, a new roof put on, ventilators supplied, a new floor laid, the walls replastered, and the building repainted inside and out, and thus improving its appearance and making the whole much more convenient and comfortable.

This shop continues under the immediate management of Mr. James Weaver, who has served the Institution in this capacity acceptably and efficiently for several years. He has under his instruction ordinarily from twenty-five to thirty boys, about as many as we have accommodations for, and as many perhaps, as it will at any time be desirable to put at this trade. Some prefer this to any other occupation. None are put at it, however, who do not choose to follow it. Many of our former pupils, we know are making a respectable living by following this trade, which they learned while they were pupils.

Cabinet-making is still carried on successfully. This department is under the efficient management of Mr. Herman Richter. There are thirty boys engaged in learning this trade. No difficulty is found in disposing of all the work they manufacture and at fair prices.

Besides the boys engaged in the shoe and cabinet shops, we have now nearly one hundred others, ranging from ten to fourteen years of age. They are too young to be set at anything but some light work. Such boys cannot be put into either of the other shops properly, until their fourteenth or fifteenth year. If the habit of industry is not acquired before that period of their school life, it is not likely they will form such, and learn a trade in that part of their course that remains. It has long been a serious question with us how to furnish this needed training to this large class of our male pupils. The girls of like age are provided with regular systematic employment, but many of the little boys have heretofore had no regular occupation in which they could engage during the hours set apart for work. In some of the Eastern institutions such boys are set to sewing, knitting and the lighter parts of household work. But this is not the kind of training they need.

To meet this growing want we have fitted up a large room for a shop, furnished it with the necessary conveniences and commenced the business of caning chairs.

The shop was opened the first of last month. Sixty boys have begun work. A man trained to the business has been employed to instruct them. The work is light and easily performed, requiring only tact and nimbleness of fingers. Although they have been at it only a few weeks many of them perform it with ease and facility. Messrs. Helwig & Co. promise to supply all the chairs we can cane at a price that will justify us in carrying on the business. It is too soon to form any certain conclusions, but we are very much inclined to believe that this enterprise will be a success and of great benefit to the pupils.

The following statistics from the records of the Institution, are given as matters of interest to the friends of the Deaf and Dumb:

There have been admitted into the Institution since its foundation, nine hundred and forty-three pupils, five hundred and thirty-eight males and four hundred and five females. Of these six hundred and sixty-five have been discharged and two hundred and seventy-eight remain.

The number of families represented in the Institution has been seven hundred and twenty-one.

Families in which there is one deaf mute.....	547
Families in which there are two deaf mutes.....	142
Families in which there are three deaf mutes.....	23
Families in which there are four deaf mutes.....	3
Families in which there are five deaf mutes.....	5
Families in which there are six deaf mutes.....	1

One pupil is the offspring of parents both of whom are deaf mutes, and five of parents, one of whom, in each case, is deaf and dumb, while the other can both hear and speak. This would seem to indicate that persons marrying, one of whom is deaf and dumb, while the other can hear and speak, are more liable to have deaf-mute children than in cases in which both parents are deaf and dumb.

Of the whole number of pupils four hundred and twenty-one were born deaf, four hundred and seventy-three became deaf from disease or accident, and forty-nine are recorded as uncertain or unknown. Formerly the congenitally deaf were much more numerous than those made so by disease, but of late years the latter class largely predominates. This is doubtless owing to the increased prevalence of cerebro-spinal meningitis, and, therefore, there seems to be from this cause a manifest increase of this misfortune in the community.

The increase of deafness from this cause is manifest in the admissions since the opening of the session. Of the fifty-nine new pupils received, only fifteen are reported as congenitally deaf and two as unknown, while forty-two are given as caused by sickness, and eighteen of these by cerebro-spinal meningitis. The causes assigned by their friends in these cases are as follows:

Congenital cases of deafness.....	15
Caused by cerebro spinal meningitis.....	18
By scarlet fever.....	4
By brain fever.....	5
By typhoid fever.....	3

By catarrhal fever.....	2
By congestive fever.....	2
By inflammation.....	2
By pneumonia.....	2
By measles	2
By convulsions.....	1
By scrofula.....	1
Unknown.....	2
Total.....	59

Thus it is seen, in recent cases, the relative proportion of congenitally deaf is much less than the number resulting from disease. The proportion of this last class has been on the increase in this Institution for the last ten years. Sixty per cent. of the first six hundred pupils admitted were reported as born deaf, while of the three hundred and forty-three last received, not above thirty-seven per cent. were given whose deafness was congenital. But taking the whole number, from the beginning, the two classes are not very far from equal, as is exhibited from the following table, taken from the records of the Institution:

Table of the origin of cause of deafness assigned by friends in nine hundred and forty-three cases received into the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

Number born deaf.....	421
Caused by scarlet fever.....	112
By cerebro-spinal meningitis.....	111
By brain fever.....	25
By catarrhal fever.....	7
By typhoid fever.....	25
By erysipelas.....	3
By inflammation.....	67
By convulsions	13
By chills and fever.....	2
By measles.....	19
By scrofula.....	5
By dropsy	7
By teething.....	2
By wounds or injuries.....	15
By croup	2
By whooping cough.....	7

By mumps.....	6
By diptheria.....	3
By pneumonia.....	16
By small pox.....	1
By salivation.....	1
By sickness, disease not designated.....	34
Unknown.....	39
Total.....	943

The above facts are gathered from the written answers of parents or guardians of pupils and not from medical examinations, and of course there is not a very accurate discrimination as to the meaning of the terms used or whether the cause given was immediate or remote. For example a large number of cases are put down as caused by inflammation without distinguishing whether the affection arose from an injury, cold, catarrh, or other disease. But this will not, it is hoped, mislead any one.

We hereby express our most grateful acknowledgments to the officers of the several railroads in the State who have, the past year, granted half-fare tickets to the pupils going home in vacation and in returning to school at the opening of the session, and also for free passes to the teachers having charge of them on the way to their homes. We also, in behalf of the pupils, tender our sincere thanks to the editors and proprietors of the periodicals and newspapers gratuitously contributed to the Institution the past year. They are hereby assured their gifts are gratefully received and highly prized by the pupils.

In conclusion we commend the Institution to the generous support of the citizens of the State, to the favor of the Executive, and to the fostering care of the Board, committing it in faith and hope to the divine protection and blessing.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOMAS MAC INTIRE,
Superintendent.

Institution for the Deaf and Dumb,

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE

ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

I. The Institution is open to all the Deaf and Dumb of the State, between the ages of ten and twenty-one years, for admission as pupils free of charge for boarding and tuition, upon compliance with the rules. Applicants from other States will be received as pupils on the payment, in advance, of two hundred and thirty dollars a year for boarding and tuition.

II. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions: 1st, The pupil, well provided with clothes, is to be brought to the Institution punctually at the commencement of each session, unless detained at home by his or her sickness. 2d. The pupil is to remain in the school until the last Wednesday in June of each year. 3d. No parent or guardian shall be allowed to take a pupil out of the school in session time, without assigning satisfactory reasons.

III. The annual sessions of the school commence on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and close on the last Wednesday of June. Every pupil is to come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and is to remain until the last day of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness.

IV. The Institution will provide for each State pupil regularly admitted, boarding, lodging, washing, superintendence of conduct, manners and morals, medical attendance, instruction, school books, slates, and all other incidental expenses of the school room without charge ; but will not pay the traveling expenses of pupils in coming to or returning from the Institution, nor supply them with clothing, except in extreme cases of destitution.

V. Those who are unable to pay for the necessary clothing, or whose parents neglect to supply them, it is made the duty of the Superintendent to furnish in accordance with the following legislative enactment :

“That when the pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb are not otherwise supplied with clothing, they shall be furnished by the Superintendent, who shall make out an account therefor, in each case, against the respective counties from which said pupils were sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which account will be signed by the Superintendent, and attested by the seal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Treasurer of State shall charge the account thus certified, to the county from which the pupil was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the Indiana Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

“SEC. 3. When such account shall be received by the Treasurer of the proper county, to whom it shall be immediately sent upon its reception by the Treasurer of State from the Superintendent, such County Treasurer shall cause the same to be paid out of the County Treasury to the Treasurer of the State. And such County Treasurer shall collect the amount of such account from the estate of such pupil, if he have any, by suits, if necessary, in the name of the county.”

VI. Each applicant for admission should come well supplied with clothing ; and on all articles on which it is possible to mark the name of the pupil, it should be written with indellible ink. In all cases, except those clothed by the county, besides the ordinary supply of clothing, the applicant should deposit with the Superintendent a sum not less than five dollars, to defray incidental expenses, repairs of shoes, etc., any part of which remaining unexpended at the close of the session will be returned. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk.

VII. The Institution is not an asylum, but a school of learning ; hence no one can be admitted or retained as a pupil who, from sickness, or from other cause, is unable to pursue his or her studies successfully.

VIII. The course of study in the primary department embraces Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, and Grammar, and ordinarily requires seven years to complete it. All the pupils who wish it, and will avail themselves of it, are allowed the full benefit of this course of study.

IX. For the benefit of those who wish to qualify themselves for teaching, or for other intellectual pursuits, the Trustees have established a High Class, and adopted a course of three years' study in the sciences. From among those who complete the primary course of study, the Superintendent may select each year the most promising pupils, and admit them as members of this class; provided that not more than seven shall be admitted to the class in any one year, and not more than twenty-one in all.

X. It is the intention of the Trustees to render the pupils self-supporting, so far as practicable, and that every pupil, on leaving the Institution, shall be proficient in some useful occupation or trade, so as to be able to procure a livelihood without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day, the girls performing the lighter kinds of housework, and various kinds of needle work, as plain sewing, or ornamental work, dress making and millinery; and the boys at various trades, the necessary work about the Institution, and in the cultivation of the farm and garden.

XI. All business letters, or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the Institution, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to THOMAS MAC INTIRE, Superintendent, Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis.

XII. Those persons bringing pupils to, or taking them away, can not be furnished with board and lodging at the Institution.

XIII. Applicants for admission should be between ten and twenty-one years of age.

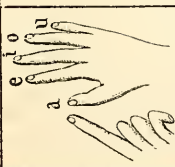

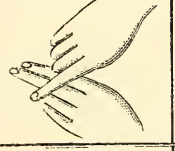

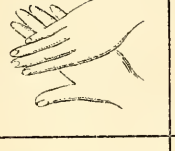

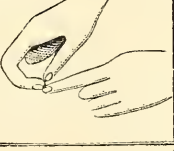

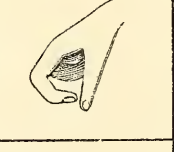

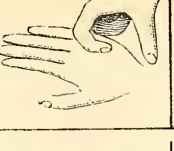

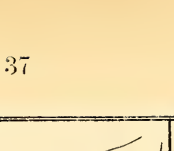

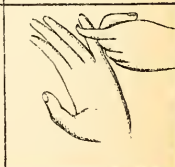

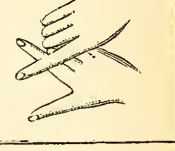

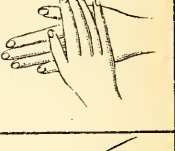

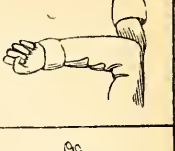

XIV. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any other time than at the commencement of the session.

XV. The pupils are desired and expected to spend the vacation at home.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, THOS. A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of the State of Indiana.

The Trustees of the Institution for the education of the Blind, have the pleasure of submitting to you the twenty seventh annual Report of the condition of the Institute for the year ending October 31, 1873.

There were admitted during the year one hundred and five pupils; and one hundred and six are at present receiving instruction in the Institute.

The resources of the Institute during the year amounted to the sum of $42,174.89.

The amount of expenditures for operating the Institute, including repairs to buildings and grounds was $39,793.66.

The management has not been materially different from that of previous years.

The officers and teachers employed by us who have the immediate charge and management of the Institute, have performed their duties with marked fidelity as is fully shown in the advancement and improvement of the pupils under their charge.

In order that your Excellency, and through you the people of the State, may know the present status of the Institute, as well as the work done for the past year, we herewith submit the annual reports of the Superintendent and Secretary, which fully exhibit its condition.

Respectfully submitted,

P. H. JAMESON, President.
JOHN BEARD, } Trustees.
CAS. BYFIELD, }

Indianapolis, November 1, 1873.

APPENDIX B.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—Through the continued mercy of Divine Providence, the undersigned is permitted to report, that the year just closed, like most of those preceding it, was one of gratifying prosperity, in the career of the interesting trust confided to you by the people of the State, through their representatives in the Legislature.

So uniform, however, are the wonted operations of the several departments of the institution, year by year, and so fully are the details of these laid before you from time to time, at the monthly meetings of your Board, that, were it not for the requirements of the by-laws, there would seem to be little call for presenting a formal report at this time. You will therefore pardon, it is hoped, the brevity of the following resume of our past year's history.

ASSISTANT OFFICERS.

In our corps of instructors, as reported last year, some few changes were made during the annual vacation, as follows:

1. A vacancy occurring in the Music Department, it was filled by the transfer of Miss M. Maloney, from the Literary Department, and her place in the latter, supplied by the appointment of Miss H.

A. Daggett, who had been for some years an acceptable teacher in the Wisconsin Institute for the Education of the Blind.

2. Miss S. Florence Briggs, a former pupil of this Institution, was added to the teaching force of the Music Department for the current session, as a monitorial assistant.

With the changes just mentioned, the corps for the present school year is constituted as follows:

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

Teachers—Albert Stewart, Miss S. A. Scofield, Mrs. C. C. Wynn, Miss H. A. Daggett and Miss E. Green.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

Teachers—R. A. Newland, Miss M. Maloney, and Miss S. F. Briggs.

HANDICRAFT DEPARTMENT.

Instructors—J. M. Richard, W. L. Thornburgh, and Mrs. S. J. Ballard.

HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT.

Steward—H. W. Ballard.

Matron—Mrs. A. C. Landis.

Girls Governess—Mrs. S. J. Ballard.

Attending Physician—J. M. Kitchen, M. D.

Justice requires me to say in behalf of the several persons above named, that they have not only proved themselves fully qualified for a proper discharge of the duties of their respective positions, but that they continue likewise to show a thorough, heartfelt interest in their work.

PUPILS.

The number of pupils enrolled during the school year ending on June 25th, was one hundred and five; males, fifty; females, fifty-five. See accompanying catalogue, Appendix D.

The following abstract from the school register exhibits the number of pupils received from each of the several counties of the State.

Of the pupils above mentioned, Charles H. Burk, a promising young man from Boone county, was removed by death on the 4th of April last, after a tedious illness of several years duration, caused by pulmonary consumption. Possessed of an intellect of high order, and a disposition of remarkable sweetness, he was in all respects, a most exemplary pupil, and had, therefore, so endeared himself to the entire household, that his loss was deeply mourned by all. Having no other home than the institution, his remains were deposited in our beautiful lot in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Seven others, for various reasons, terminated their connection with the institution at or before the close of the school year, and six of the remaining have thus far failed to resume their places with us during the present session. This leaves ninety-one of last year's pupils upon our current roll; which number being increased by fifteen new pupils, makes the number in attendance at this date, one hundred and six: of whom, forty-seven are males; and fifty-nine, females.

In view of the number of blind children in the State, our school should, and would be much larger, were it not for the lamentable deficiency of room, to which the attention of your board has been so often directed in previous reports.

The table below exhibits the total number of pupils received since the first opening of the institute in 1847, together with some general statistics of interest concerning them. A classified statement of the special diseases to which their blindness is attributable, would have been added, could the information derived from their friends, upon this subject, be relied upon as sufficiently accurate to be of scientific interest.

HEALTH.

Except the chronic case of consumption heretofore alluded to, our household has enjoyed remarkable immunity from sickness of any kind since the date of the last report, as well as for several years precedent thereto. In view of the abnormal physical condition that usually prevails among the inmates of such institutions as ours, this circumstance not only calls for devout thankfulness to the Dispenser of all our blessings, but it likewise affords abundant evidence of the salubrity of the location of the institution, as well as the excellence of its sanitary, and general domestic regimen.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION.

In the several departments of Literature, Music, and Handicraft, as well as in general deportment, the pupils, with remarkably few exceptions, continue to manifest, from year to year, a degree of progress that is truly encouraging to their teachers and home friends.

In accordance with views that have been indicated from time to time, in previous reports, we are conforming our standard of school instruction, more and more every year, to the requirements of the mind, in the condition of sensuous isolation into which it is brought by the closing of the main inlet to objective knowledge—that is, instead of devoting the wonted amount of attention to abstract studies, whose effect upon blind children, is to enhance their manifest proneness towards a premature, not to say preternatural developement of the reflection faculties, whereby they lose the natural characteristics of childhood, and become, as it were, little old men and women, we call to our aid, every available means of bringing the mind in actual contact with objects, natural and artificial, and where our resources fail us in this regard, as they inevitably must, to a greater or less extent, we endeavor to offset the deficiency by so cultivating the conceptive faculty as to enable it through proper description of inaccessible objects, to take the place, so far as may be, of the missing perceptive faculty. Each additional year's experience serves more and more, to confirm our convictions as to the correctness of the course we are pursuing in this regard.

Besides which, still further encouragement is derived from an obvious tendency in the same direction, on the part of the most advanced educators of youth in this and other countries. Everywhere, from the "Kindergarten" up to the University, we see the more abstract studies giving place to object lessons and the natural sciences.

Both branches of the handicraft Department, male and female, continue to be successfully conducted by the same parties, and upon the same plans as heretofore reported.

The Institution being without pecuniary interest in the conduct of the shops in which the male pupils are trained to mechanical labor, we have, of course, no statement to make concerning their operations, financial or otherwise, except the general one, that the apprentices are being carefully and thoroughly instructed in the trades assigned them, the principal of which, at this time, is broom-making.

Below, will be found the usual exhibit of the work executed by the female pupils, together with an abstract of receipts and expenditures on account of this branch of the department.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

Our failure to procure from the last Legislature, an appropriation for the much needed enlargement of our principal building, which, we are glad to believe, was contrary to the wishes of a very large majority of the members of that body, was a source of serious disappointment to us, on account of our present and, for some years to come, prospective inability to extend the privileges of education to more than a limited number of the blind youth of the State.

According to the last United States census, which undoubtedly falls considerably short of the correct figures, in its returns, our State contains nine hundred and ninety-one blind persons of all ages and nationalities; and it is safe to estimate, that at least one-fourth of these, or about two hundred and fifty, are of suitable age and capacity for instruction. Indeed, if there is any parallelism between the blind and the deaf and dumb in this regard, and we know of no reason why there should not be, this estimate is far too low; for out of a deaf mute population of only eight hundred and seventy-two, as reported in the same census, our State Institution for the deaf and dumb contains at this date, no less than two hundred and seventy-eight or about thirty-two per cent. of the whole number reported. Upon this basis, then, it would not be unreasonable, to estimate the present number of unfortunates in the State, who are proper subjects for admission into our institution, at no less than three hundred and seventeen. Yet, with our present building space, we are unprepared to properly accommodate one-third of that number. True, we have managed to do this for a number of years past, earnestly appealing, the while, for more room; but, as our building, erected some twenty years since, when the population of the State was comparatively sparse, was originally designed for only eighty pupils, it has been done at a great sacrifice of convenience, and not without detriment to some of the departments of instruction.

But, while there is no question as to the reasonableness of the latter estimate, I would not be understood as urging the expediency of making immediate provision for so large a number as that given by it. For it is patent to those familiar with this subject, that, although the census returns generally, if not always, show a predominance of blind persons over deaf mutes in any given State, institutions for the former class seldom or never contain as many pupils as those for the latter, because of the greater reluctance of their friends to entrust them to the care of strangers. Yet in view of the present and prospective population of the State, justice would seem to demand that ample accommodations be furnished as soon as may be, for the number first mentioned above, i. e. two hundred and fifty. With appropriate effort on our part, to bring a knowledge of the Institution and its benefits to the immediate homes of the unfortunate class for whose educational training it was founded, we could, in a comparatively short time, more than double our present number of pupils. We come far short of fulfilling our whole duty to these unfortunates, when we merely keep open a school for such of them as chance to hear of its existence, and possess ambition enough to take the necessary steps to procure admission into it; and yet this is, virtually, all that we have been doing for some years past. Need you ask why? What justice or propriety would there be in employing the necessary agencies to canvass the by-ways of the State, and induce a flood of applications to which we must inevitably make a negative response, as at present circumstanced. If those upon whom devolves the responsibility of withholding the means for rendering our building accommodations adequate to the needs of the blind children of the State, were obliged to perform the painful duty of answering their pleadings for admission to the benefits of the Institution with the discouraging information, that there is no room for them, I am sure it would not be long before our building would be large enough to accommodate every possible applicant.

The minor improvements for which provision was made by the Legislature, to-wit: the extension of the steam-heating apparatus into the shop building, the introduction of the necessary pipes, etc., for supplying the premises with water from the city works, the construction of a drain from our buildings to the city sewer under Illinois street, the renewal of the wooden fencing upon the southern half of the grounds, and the recoloring of the exterior of our several buildings, together with some additional work of like nature, have all been executed in a satisfactory manner; and our entire premises are greatly improved thereby, both as to convenience and appearance.

FINANCES.

The resources of the Institute for the past year, ending October 31, were as follows :

Unexpended balance in hands of Treasurer, November 1, 1872.....	$1,883 54
Monthly allowances by State officers, from Nov. 1, 1872, to March 31, 1873, under general law for support of the State Institutions, in absence of appropriations by the Legislature.....	13,541 67
Seven-twelfths of Legislative appropriation for current support from April 1, 1873, to March 31, 1874.....	18,958 33
Legislative appropriation for minor improvements referred to above.....	6,000 00
Legislative appropriation for embossed books and school apparatus.....	500 00
Amount reimbursed by counties on account of advances for clothing and traveling expenses of pupils.....	1,291 35
Total.....	$42,174 89

The disbursements for the same period as per detailed statement of allowances set forth in the report of your Secretary, herewith submitted were,—

On account of salaries and milage of Trustees, Treasurer and their Secretary.....	$1,568 40
On account of salaries of Superintendent and subordinate officers	6,600 00
On account of wages of employes.....	3,971 87
On account of groceries and provisions	9,523 64

	<hr/>
Total.....	$39,793 66

Deducting from the total amount of resources as shown above.....	$42,174 89
The total amount of disbursements for all purposes during the year.....	39,793 66

Shows an unexpended balance in hands of the Treasurer at this date of..... $2,381 23
 Which added to the Legislative appropriation for current support..... $32,500 00
 Will, doubtless, be found ample for the ordinary needs of the Institution during the year commencing at this date, and ending on Oct. 31, 1874.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. CHURCHMAN, Superintendent.

APPENDIX E.

TO THE PUBLIC.

INDIANA INSTITUTE FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

This Institution is located at Indianapolis, the capital of the State occupying a healthful and beautiful site in the northern part of the city.

It is strictly an educational establishment, having for its object the moral, intellectual and physical training of the young blind of both sexes residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither an asylum for the aged and helpless, nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

We are almost daily in receipt of applications for persons who wish to be treated for the cure of blindness, and we here take occasion to explain, for the benefit of such, that we have no surgical or medical department connected with our Institution.

For the information of applicants and other interested parties, the following compilation is made from the regulations of the Institution, viz:

1. The school year commences on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and closes on the last Wednesday in June following, making a continuous session of forty weeks, and leaving a vacation of twelve weeks during the warm season.

2. As a rule applicants who are under nine or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

3. No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral character, will be knowingly admitted into the Institution; and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction or disobedient to the regulations of the Institution ; such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

4. No charge is made for the boarding or instruction of pupils from the State of Indiana, but those from without the State are charged at the rate of $200 per session of forty weeks, payable in advance. i. e., one-half at the beginning, and the other half at the middle of the session.

5. All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantity as to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

6. Each article of clothing shall be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good condition, not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacations.

7. In cases where the parents or guardians of pupils, from the State of Indiana, are unable through indigence, to supply them with the necessary clothing, the same is, by law, provided by the Institution, and the amount of its cost collected from the respective counties in which such pupils reside ; like provision is also made for defraying the traveling expenses of indigent pupils to and from the Institution.

8. It is positively required that every pupil shall be removed from the Institution during the annual vacation of the school, as well as at any other time when such removal may be deemed necessary by the proper officers thereof ; and in case of the failure of the friends of any pupil to comply with this requisition, provision is made by law for the sending of such pupil to the Trustee of the township in which he or she resides, to be by him provided for at the expense of the county.

9. Persons bringing pupils to the Institution, or visiting them while here, cannot be accommodated with boarding and lodging during their stay in the city.

10. All letters to the pupils should be addressed to the care of the Institution, in order to insure their prompt delivery.

11. Persons wishing to procure the admission of pupils, should apply to the Superintendent, by letter or otherwise, for printed instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the Institution until such instructions shall have been complied with.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

HON. T. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

SIR—The undersigned, Trustees of the “Indiana Soldiers’ Orphans’ Home,” would respectfully report that during the past year the institution has been very prosperous. It has been crowded with inmates to its entire capacity.

General good health prevails to an unusual degree. Rapid progress has been made in the education of the children, good order with the best of moral training is fully enforced by the Superintendent and his subordinates.

The “Home” has never been in a more satisfactory condition than at present. For the details and working of the institution we would respectfully refer you to the report of the Superintendent herewith transmitted.

Very Respectfully.

HENRY B. HILL,
E. WILLIAMS,
WM. HANNAMAN.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

OFFICE INDIANA SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME,
KNIGHTSTOWN, IND., October 31, 1873.

TO THE TRUSTEES—Gentlemen: The great enterprise of patriotic benevolence committed to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home by the good people of this State, through you and under your supervision, has closed another year, with even more satisfactory results than for any like preceding term.

God in His providence has made the inmates the especial objects of His care in sparing life, and preserving health in a marked degree, but two deaths having occurred in "the Home" during the year, of which I shall speak hereafter.

My last report, October 31st, 1872, shows the number of inmates to have been two hundred and eighty; there has been admitted since that date forty-eight, making a total of three hundred and twenty-eight. Of this number two have died, and forty-one have been discharged, leaving the present number two hundred and eighty-five.

Of the number discharged, six have been placed in good homes, with Christian families, where they will receive proper training; the remaining thirty-five were discharged at the request of their mothers.

The inmates of the Home, for whom all this trouble and expense is incurred, come to us from different parts of the State, from cities and towns, and from the rural districts. They come from homes of refinement and culture, whence need of means for support and want of educational advantages send them forth, and from homes where coarseness and immorality have darkened and vitiated their young lives. Some come to us dirty, ragged, and neglected, others showing the kind forethought of a loving mother or good friend. Their dispositions and minds are more varied than outward appearance.

THEIR CLOTHING.

Upon the arrival of a child, its wardrobe, which is generally scanty, is examined, and all deficiencies, as far as limited means will permit, supplied. The boys are clothed in neat, domestic jeans, of good quality, cut to each measure by an experienced tailor, and well made. Good substantial shoes, socks and caps make up the external outfit for the winter. Flannel underwear, so necessary in our changeable climate, we are not able to supply.

The girls are furnished with clothing better suited to the season. They are less exposed, and are much less destructive of clothing than the boys, and manifest greater care in the management of their wardrobes. In this connection I want to say, that, with the means at my command for the maintenance of the inmates of the Institution, I cannot clothe these children as they should be, and in a manner that would be alike creditable to the officers, and to the great State that fosters them.

THEIR FOOD.

It is found unwise, and deemed inexpedient, to supply the children with pastries and other rich viands, except on holidays and anniversaries. They are, however, abundantly supplied with good, fresh, and wholesome diet, of both meat and vegetables, thoroughly cooked and served at regular hours. The appearance of the children is the best proof that their food agrees with them.

THEIR HABITS.

The children are carefully taught to be obedient to those placed over them, and to be kind and considerate to each other. So far as possible, rudeness and coarseness of manners and conversation is prevented by being discountenanced and reprov'd. They are required to be neat and tidy in their personal appearance, and to bathe at least once in each week. They are granted as much freedom from restraint, as can be done consistently with good order and discipline.

THEIR HEALTH.

Cleanliness, light, air and exercise, together with regular habits and wholesome diet, at regular hours, are the best promoters of good health, and none of these are wanting in "the Home," hence there is comparative exemption from serious illness. With the exception of an epidemic of measles, during the months of March and April, the health of the inmates has been uniformly good. During that epidemic there were one hundred and thirty cases. One hundred and ten of them occurred almost simultaneously; only one case proved fatal. Mary Smith, a girl of 13 years of age, from Scott County, died on the 24th of April.

We were greatly alarmed, as indeed we had reason to be, from the great number of cases attacked at once, and from the severity of many of them, being, as they were, accompanied with general congestion.

We closed the schools and chair shops, and turned the building into one grand hospital, and brought into requisition as nurses, the teachers, governesses and employes, and right nobly did they perform the duties. Much of the success attending the treatment of these cases must be attributed to the excellent care and nursing they received. Much suffering was certainly relieved, and, doubtless, many lives saved. Willie Calhoun, a boy of 12 years of age, died on the 29th of March, from Pneumonitis.

THEIR EDUCATION.

The educational interests of "the Home" have made steady progress during the past year.

It has been our aim from the early organization of the Institution to make this department the prominent feature of the work, and also to train the large girls for teachers, and other positions of importance, in the institution.

The schools are under the general direction of Rev. R. F. Brewington, who was elected to the office of Steward and Moral Instructor, in the place of Rev. J. A. Sargent, resigned. Mr. Brewington has had an experience of some fifteen years in teaching, and is well qualified for the place. Under his able superintendence and counsel, aided by a competent corps of teachers, our schools are not surpassed by any in the country. Room No. 4, or the highest grade, is now presided over by Miss S. M. Boufoy, of Connorsville, who took the place of Miss Anna Hamilton, so long identified with the schools, who, in consequence of failing health, was compelled to resign. No. 3, or the intermediate grade, is taught by Miss Emma Parker, one of the girls of the Home, who had been under training for two years past, and is proving herself highly worthy of the trust. Nos 1 and 2, the primary departments, are taught by the Miss Turners, of Indianapolis, who are doing excellent service. Finally, upon this subject, permit me to say, I think the Institution very fortunate in securing so competent a corps of earnest teachers, whose hearts are really in the work, and who labor faithfully for the advancement of the children, making, as I believe they do, the salaries they receive a secondary consideration.

THEIR MORAL AND RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Consists in preaching every Sabbath morning by Chaplain Brewington, Sabbath School at 2 o'clock, P. M., every Sabbath. These services are very interesting and instructive, and with the blessing of God cannot but be productive of great and lasting good. In addition to these services we have regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting, and evening collection, or family worship, every night. Upon all these services all are expected to attend, unless unavoidably detained or excused.

THEIR WORK.

The boys are required to prepare all the fuel used in the building, make the fires, police the grounds, assist in the kitchen, dining-room and bakery, and also in caring for the stock, and to perform such other duties as may from time to time be required of them.

It requires some ingenuity to furnish steady employment for the boys since closing the chair shop, which, for want of room for the school we were compelled to do. While this branch of industry was not a source of much profit, it was valuable for the reason that it furnished the boys regular employment, and at the same time taught them habits of industry, that would render them self-supporting when they leave the Home. If it were possible to meet the expenses, I would recommend the erection of a building during the coming spring for workshops, which I think could be done at a cost of about one thousand dollars.

The girls do nearly all the housework, except the washing, in which they assist. They attend in the dining-room, make, mend and iron their own garments, and do most of the ironing for the institution, assist in the sewing-room, and look after the clothing of the smaller ones, see that they are properly cared for, and to exercise over such little ones a general supervision.

FARM PRODUCTS.

Our little farm (of about 25 acres of tillable land,) has yielded a rich return for the labor expended during the year, of the various kinds of vegetables usually raised, the chief crop being Irish potatoes. Of this vegetable alone we produced about two thousand bushels on a breadth of ten acres. This number of bushels is greatly in excess of what will be required for home consumption. I think it not wise, however, to dispose of the surplus at present, and shall hold them for the spring market.

I think, at a fair estimate, the cash value of the entire products of the farm has been not far from three thousand dollars.

FINALLY.

I desire to return my sincere and heartfelt thanks to you, gentlemen, for the confidence so long reposed in me, and for the valuable aid and kind counsel you have always been so willing to render me, in the management of the Home. I also desire to thank the subordinate officers, teachers and employes for their faithfulness and willing co-operation during the past year, for the good of its inmates. And without personating, I desire to say that all have discharged their duties faithfully and to my entire satisfaction, and as we enter upon a new year of duty, anxiety and of responsibility, by the help of God, and the word of his grace, and under his direction we hope to accomplish much good, in His name.

Very respectfully,

Your ob't servant,

M. M. WISHARD,
Superintendent.

It has been my aim throughout the past year to be able to present this report clear of debt. And had it not been for unavoidable expenditures in the purchase of new heating apparatus and gas machine, I should have succeeded. These articles were highly necessary, both for the comfort and safety of the building.

I have paid for the gas machine out of the proceeds of the chair shop.

The cash on hand will, with what additional amount we can economize each month over and above actual expense of living, be consumed in paying for the winter's fuel, leaving the furnace debt alone to be provided for, which will amount to about ($2,200.00), twenty-two hundred dollars.

Other and unavoidable expenditures for repairs have been made during the year, that had to be met promptly. One important one was the finishing of the two large attic halls, which adds largely to the capacity of the "Home." Another item was the barn roof, during the high winds of early summer the main part of it was blown in, and it was obliged to be repaired at once. These two items alone cost some ($500.00), five hundred dollars.

Many other items might be named, but as all will be seen by reference to the body of this report, I think it unnecessary.

Respectfully,

M. M. WISHARD,
Superintendent.

Doc. J.—W. & E. Canal—1

TRUSTEES' OFFICE WABASH AND ERIE CANAL,
TERRE HAUTE, March 26, 1874.

HIS EXCELLENCY THOS. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor of handing you, herewith, the annual Report of the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, which, in the absence of the General Assembly, you will please dispose of according to law.

Very Respectfully,

Your Obedient Servant,

THOS. DOWLING.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To the Governor of the State of Indiana:

The Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal submit their report for the year 1873.

The navigation of the Canal, during the season of 1873, has been only partially maintained by the contractors, (the Wabash and Erie Canal Company,) under their contract with the Board made on the 23d of June, 1866.

The reasons for the failure to maintain the navigation of the entire line during the whole season are fully set forth in the report of the Chief Engineer, herewith submitted.

The navigation would not have been maintained at all but for the aid afforded to the contractors by the counties along the line of the Canal, under the law passed in the winter of 1873, which authorized the counties to subscribe in aid of the canal. Under this law the several counties subscribed the amount of $50,000, and of this sum about $40,216.15 has been actually paid in and expended. The balance remains to be paid, as required, while the expenditures for the maintenance of the Canal during the year have amounted to $58,755.52. The tolls and revenues derived from it have amounted only to $17,086.94, leaving a deficiency of more than $40,000. The contractors have intimated an intention to abandon their contract with the Board of Trustees, which, by its terms, does not expire until the 1st day of July, 1878. The Trustees do not admit the right of the contractors to abandon the contract made with them on the 23d of June, 1866, by the terms of which they agreed and bound themselves to preserve the navigation, and to keep it in good condition, with all the structures, locks, etc., during the full time of the contract and until the 1st of July, 1878.

In view of the liberal encouragement and support which have been afforded by the county subscriptions during the past year, and the interest thereby secured in the maintainance of the Canal on the part of the people in the valley of the Wabash, the Trustees will regard it their duty to insist on the performance of the contract according to its terms, until the 1st of July, 1878.

It is the more important at the present time, when the subject of cheap transportation, and the need of increased facilities of inter-communication between the Western States and the Atlantic seaboard, is of commanding interest and importance. There is probably no one route that should attract more attention, or that holds out greater inducements, or that would do more, if improved, to solve the problem of cheap transportation, between the East and the West, than the Wabash and Erie Canal, looking at its terminal points of Toledo, at the head of Lake Erie, in the east, and Lafayette, Attica and Terre Haute in the valley of the Wabash, in the west. The expenditure of a comparatively small sum of money would put this Canal, from the one end to the other, in good condition, and thus establish one of the most valuable water lines, for the transportation of freight, to be found within the United States west of Lake Erie.

To insure this result, however, requires means as well as powers which the Trustees do not possess. They can not, however, but regard the subject as one well worthy of the attention of the States through which this thoroughfare passes, and of the general government.

The accompanying statements exhibit the condition and property, of the Trust, and also the condition and prospects of the Canal at this time.

CANAL LANDS.

There have been sold, as appears by the annual report of 1873, of the Canal lands in the Vincennes District, 1,160 acres, for the sum of $2,880. On account of the small quantity remaining unsold, the receipts from this source will continue to be light.

Of the lands east and west of Tippecanoe, nothing has been paid during the past year, but it is hoped that nearly all of the remain-

THE ASSETS OF THE TRUST ARE AS FOLLOWS:

Balance on hand, per report.....	$31,546 00
Suspended debt, estimated at....	21,472 08
Lands in Vincennes District	47,623 24
Lands east and west Tippecanoe.....	3,914 40
Total.....	$104,555 72

It is hoped and expected that a considerable amount of the suspended debt will be paid during the year.

CHARLES BUTLER,
JAS. S. HINTON,

TRUSTEES' OFFICE WABASH AND ERIE CANAL,
March 25th, 1874.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

OFFICE OF CHIEF ENGINEER,

FORT WAYNE, January 31, 1874.

To the Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal:

GENTLEMEN: The Canal during the season of 1873 has been less productive of revenue, and conferred less benefit upon the country, and its shipping interest, than during any preceding year.

The State legislation of last winter authorizing the County Boards to donate in aid of the tolls for its maintainance, will be of permanent value to the work, and is conclusive evidence of the high estimate placed upon its usefulness by the citizens of the Wabash counties.

But, unfortunately, much time elapsed before the appropriation was agreed upon in some of the counties, and, as the action in each county was made dependent upon concurrent action of all the counties, it was late in the season before the repairs and renewal of decayed wooden structures, for which this money was particularly designed, was begun. No boats with through cargoes to Toledo were cleared from Miami and Wabash counties, before about the first of August. From Lafayette, and vicinity, no through cargoes were shipped during the season. The long delay enabled other lines of transportation to carry off the pork and grain. The local business on the lower portion of the Canal was, however, very good, over $7,000 in tolls and water rents having been collected at the Lafayette office.

The Canal banks in the vicinity of Lafayette, and also near the Crooked Creek aqueduct, in Cass county, were considerably damaged by floods, and breaks of less importance occurred at other points.

Mr. Colton, the general manager of the contracting company for repairs, and who, necessarily, has charge of these details, reports tolls and water rents collected from December 1, 1872, to December 1, 1873, at $17,086.94.

There was paid to the several superintendents of the county authorities, and expended by them, chiefly in the renewal of wooden structures, the sum of $40,216.85, making total means $57,303 09. Mr. Colton reports the total expenditures at $58,755.52, in maintaining the Canal during the past year.

The appropriations made by the commissioners of the respective counties were as follows :

Allen County.....	$10,000 00	$ 5,786 90
Miami County.....	5,000 00	3,033 35
Wabash County.....	5,000 00	3,143 00
Huntington County.....	5,000 00	3,640 15
Cass County.....	5,000 00	4,612 45
Carroll County.....	5,000 00	5,000 00
Tippecanoe County.....	10,000 00	10,000 00
Fountain County.....	5,000 00	5,000 00
Total.....	$50,000 00	$40,216 85

The unpaid balance will no doubt be paid, as required.

Of the wooden structures which have been rebuilt or repaired during the year the following are among the principal:

First: The upper abutments of the guard lock of St. Joseph feeder, with some repairs to the abutments of St. Joseph dam.

Second: The delivery of timber and lumber for rebuilding the St. Mary's aqueduct at Fort Wayne, and putting in foundations of the new structures. The work is to be completed within the next two months, and ready for the passage of boats by the opening of navigation. This important structure was built about twenty-eight years ago, and has well answered its purpose.

Third: Rebuilding for its whole length, the feeder dam across the Wabash, at the forks, two miles below Huntington, which is now a substantial work, good for the next twenty-five or thirty years. Besides these renewals numerous other repairs to locks, lock gates, culverts, &c., were made on the other parts of the Canal.

Appended hereto is a tabular statement (marked A) of tolls and water rents, collected at each collector's office, together with statement of contributions of the several counties, and the part that has been paid, as furnished by the General Manager.

Also table (marked 13) showing expenditures in repairs, &c., by the several superintendents on their respective district, furnished by the General Manager. Respectfully submitted,

J. L. WILLIAMS,
Chief Engineer.
